The Florida Letters:

The Florida Letters Ryan G. Van Cleave, 2001 Looking for the New Deal Elna C. Green, 2007 Rife with palpable misery and often pleading with desperate urgency the hundreds of letters assembled in Looking for the New Deal paint a bleak and accurate portrait of the female experience among Floridians during the Great Depression Searching for help at a time when desperation overwhelmed America women in Florida shared the same goal as their counterparts elsewhere in the country they wanted work In pursuit of a means to provide for their families these women doggedly often naively wrote letters asking for relief assistance from agencies charities and state and federal government officials In this volume Elna C Green gathers more than three hundred letters written by Floridians that reveal the immediacy and intensity of their plight The voices of women from all walks of life black and white rural and urban old and young historically poor and newly impoverished testify to the determination and ingenuity invoked in facing trying times BOOK JACKET Come to My Sunland Julia Winifred Moseley, Betty Powers Crislip, 2020-10-14 Like so many midwesterners since Julia Daniels and Charles Scott Moseley moved to Florida in the 1880s seeking a warmer climate This collection of Julia's letters mainly to her husband who made frequent business trips north and to her close friend Eliza Slade reveals the struggle of a cultured urban woman adjusting to the hardship and isolation of life in pioneer Florida And then coming to love it Tramping through the unsullied land surrounding the Limona community near Tampa where they settled she gloried in her neglected corner in the Garden of Eden where she could look up fifty feet and see air plants growing on the branches of great oaks and hundreds of ferns nodding in the sunlight and gray moss moving through the trees like mist Think of me gazing up among crane's nests with redbirds in my own oaks she wrote Even in the nighttime a mocking bird often sings to me of all the beautiful things I love Julia herself a published writer selected these unedited letters and copied them for her family into a thick leather book Like characters in a novel the friends and relatives she describes crackle with personality a flamboyant Russian proclaims his version of communism a New England spinster counters with Utopian visions and a university professor retreats from the ivory tower to agricultural experimentation Readers observe Julia's flair for making daily life cheerful and they meet the couple's two adored sons and Scott's children by an earlier marriage as well as Cracker settlers cattle runners and assorted seekers of health or wealth An artist Julia created a distinctive home designed and decorated in the manner of the pre-Raphaelites Her palmetto fiber wall covering was exhibited at the Chicago World's Fair in 1893 and survives today The Florida house named The Nest is on the National Register of Historic Places Accompanied by 71 photographs of Julia's home and family these letters transcend the life of one woman to capture the experience and spirit of 19th century Florida

Letters from Florida H. W. Beecher, 2020-02-23 Letters of a Traveller William Cullen Bryant, 1850-1869 The letters composing this volume were written at various times during the last sixteen years and during journeys made in different countries They contain however no regular account of any tour or journey made by the writer but are merely occasional sketches of what most attracted his attention The greater part of them have already appeared in print The author is sensible that the highest merit such a work can claim if ever so well executed is but slight He might have made these letters more interesting to readers in general if he had spoken of distinguished men to whose society he was admitted but the limits within which this may be done with propriety and without offense are so narrow and so easily overstepped that he has preferred to abstain altogether from that class of topics He offers his book to the public with expectations which will be satisfied by a very moderate success Due to the age and scarcity of the original we reproduced some pages may be spotty or faded See other titles by this author available from Kessinger Publishing
