The Foster Care Crisis Translating Research Into Policy And Practice:

The Foster Care Crisis Patrick Almond Curtis, Grady Dale, Joshua C. Kendall, 1999-01-01 The inadequacy of the foster care system has long been recognized One of the biggest obstacles to reforming the system is the relative unavailability of research data from the field information that would shed light on key empirical trends and pressing issues This long overdue volume provides a much needed overview of the current state of foster care Leading researchers and practitioners summarize and discuss the results of their current research providing through their data an unparalleled detailed glimpse of the inner workings of the foster care system in its entirety The volume is also valuable for its survey and syntheses of important issues and trends affecting foster care Subjects discussed include welfare reform reporting systems family reunification mental health services and the needs of minority children Wide ranging and detailed in its coverage this collection is destined to become an essential reference and guide to the foster care system

Children in State Care June Thoburn, 2017-03-02 This volume brings together a selection of the most influential and informative English language refereed journal articles on children in out of home care their birth relatives and carers The articles which include empirical research and critiques of policy and practice are mainly from the UK and USA but include some coverage of child placement policy and practice in Australia and mainland Europe The volume starts with a joint introductory chapter by the two distinguished authors one American one British reviewing the state of knowledge on children in care and drawing attention to other important sources not included as chapters

Advocating for Children in Foster and Kinship Care Mitchell Rosenwald, Beth N Riley, 2010-01-29 This book is the first to provide strategies for effective advocacy and placement within the foster care and kinship care systems It also takes a rare look at the dynamics of the foster and kinship relationship not just among children and the agency workers and service providers who intervene on their behalf but also between children and those who take in and care for them as permanency develops Drawing on their experience interacting with and writing about the institution of foster care Mitchell Rosenwald and Beth N Riley have composed a unique text that helps practitioners foster parents and relative caregivers realize successful transitions for youth especially considering the traumas these children may suffer both before and after placement Advocating for a child's best interests must begin early and remain consistent throughout assignment and adjustment For practitioners Rosenwald and Riley emphasize the best techniques for assessing a family's capabilities and for guiding families through the challenges of foster care Part one details the steps potential foster parents and kinship caregivers must take with the assistance of practitioners to prepare themselves for placement Part two describes tactics for successful advocacy within the court system social service agencies schools and the medical and mental health establishments Part three describes how to lobby for change at the agency and legislative levels as well as within a given community The authors illustrate recommendations through real life scenarios and devote an entire chapter to brokering positive partnerships among practitioners families and other teams working to protect and transition children Resources in Education ,1998 The Child Welfare Challenge ,2017-07-28 This newly revised and updated edition of a widely adopted text continues to address a broad array of issues in supporting children and strengthening families It includes key information about federal legislation as well as policy related outcomes research in child welfare The first edition of The Child Welfare Challenge was hailed by Social Work as an excellent source from which to gain an in depth understanding of the practice and policy dimensions of child maltreatment foster care and adoption and by the Journal of Sociology and Social Welfare as essential reading for anyone interested in knowing more about child welfare practice in social work Within a historical and contemporary context this book examines major policy practice and research issues as they jointly shape current child welfare practice and possible future directions In addition to describing the major challenges facing the child welfare field the book highlights some of the service innovations that have been developed as these could be used to help address some of these challenges In child welfare the focus is on families and children whose primary recourse to services has been through publicly funded agencies The contributors consider historical areas of service foster care and adoptions in home family centered services child protective services and residential services in which social work has a legitimate long standing and important mission This is a comprehensive book but one that appreciates the fact that many areas such as daycare and early intervention invite exploration It is unique in that each chapter describes how policy initiatives and research can or should influence program design and implementation Encyclopedia of Human Development Neil J. Salkind,2006 Publisher description Counseling Strategies for Children and Families Impacted by Incarceration Johns, Kenya,2022-06-17 Currently there is a lack of resources and information regarding how to best understand and support those impacted by incarceration As the number of people impacted by incarceration rises it is important that we acknowledge the issues and address the concerns faced by professionals such as social workers and educators that work with families and the most vulnerable populations impacted by incarceration Counseling Strategies for Children and Families Impacted by Incarceration provides in depth information and background regarding the growing group of children and families impacted by incarceration It sets out to bridge the gap between community and school counseling mental health counseling social work and social and cultural issues and can be used for skills development and social justice reasons Covering topics such as school counseling resources community engagement and trauma it is ideal for researchers academicians practitioners instructors policymakers social workers social justice advocates counselors and students

Assessing Outcomes in Child and Family Services Anthony N. Maluccio,2017-11-30 In this collective portrait editors and authors do not attempt to draw systematic country by country comparisons Given the magnitude of the issues they believed that it would be inappropriate to paint with too broad a stroke What they have accomplished however is to codify and identify what the participants repeatedly noted in regard to issues and difficulties inherent in conducting outcome evaluation These include varying definitions of outcome complexities in measuring outcomes of particular interventions with different groups of consumers and documenting the effectiveness of the intervention the tendency to focus on evaluation of process more than outcome the challenge of involving practitioners in the evaluation task in part because its value is unclear to them or perceived as distant or untrustworthy the typical inadequacy of resources available for systematic evaluation and the need to inject rigor into the design and execution of evaluation projects The authors demonstrate strong conviction about sharing research expertise across national boundaries learning through each other how to cope with organizational impediments to cross national collaboration and strengthening the interaction between practice and research Their contributions suggest that there is wide interest in pursuing cross national collaboration In recent years largely in response to demands by their funding sources for accountability assessment of performance and cost effectiveness researchers in human services have been devoting increased attention to outcome evaluation Limited attention however has been given to the findings of evaluation studies conducted in different countries The present volume has been organized and edited to address the task of learning from outcome research across the world Its goal an extension of a major goal of the human services in any one country is to improve life chances of vulnerable children and youth

Evaluation in Child and Family Services Tiziano Vecchiato, Anthony N. Maluccio, Cinzia Canali, As child and family interventions assume greater international application it will be helpful to examine the various ways in which service innovations are being evaluated As demonstrated in the seminar from which these chapters resulted only by sharing our specific professional interests our too frequent problems in measurement our despair in implementing complicated studies and our successes can we advance the evaluation of human services and their outcomes This volume considers a variety of programs and issues in the field of child and family services While different perspectives are evident among the authors in terms of their focus and or emphasis there is common concern about the value of examining each program or service so as to maximize its impact as well as its potential for dissemination Intervention research should spur and motivate cross national efforts not only among researchers but also among social workers and other practitioners from diverse professions engaged in the delivery of human services Such collaboration would contribute to the ultimate goals of achieving greater clarity about the specifics of best practices in child and family services protocols for assessing outcomes and ways of improving service delivery How then can researchers and policymakers in diverse settings within diverse countries improve practice and service delivery on behalf of children and families What particular program findings can be generalized to improve services How can we share and implement new solutions The contributions to this volume address such questions from varying international perspectives Contributors provide answers and generate discussion points for consideration by practitioners as well as researchers The book is a must for social work parishioners in areas involving the delivery of goods as well as services Tiziano Vecchiato is scientific director of the Fondazione Emanuela Zancan Padua Italy Anthony N Maluccio is professor of social work at Boston College Graduate School of Social Work Chestnut Hill Massachusetts Cinzia Canali is research associate at the Fondazione Emanuela Zancan Padua Italy

Child Welfare Revisited Joyce Everett, Sandra Stukes Chipungu, Bogart R. Leashore, 2004 Why are there proportionally more African American children in foster care than white children Why are white children often readily adoptable while African American children are difficult to place Are these imbalances an indication of institutional racism or merely a coincidence In this revised and expanded edition of the classic volume Child Welfare twenty one educators call attention to racial disparities in the child welfare system by demonstrating how practices that are successful for white children are often not similarly successful for African American children Moreover contributors insist that policymakers and care providers look at African American family life and child development from a culturally based Africentric perspective Such a perspective the book argues can serve as a catalyst for creativity and innovation in the formulation of policies and practices aimed at improving the welfare of African American children Child Welfare Revisited offers new chapters on the role of institutional racism and economics on child welfare the effects of substance abuse homelessness HIV AIDS and domestic violence and the internal strengths and challenges that are typical of African American families Bringing together timely new developments and information this book will continue to be essential reading for all child welfare policymakers and practitioners
