The Future Affects the Past Tonnerre, 2013-06-04 Music and nature inspire my writings so I traveled extensively during the writing process of this book I began writing this philosophy treatise at the heart of America by the banks of the Missouri River where I used to drown myself in the magnificent music of the wilderness when I went on my evening walks I would stroll solo in the woods and emerge to rest on a bench facing an ocean blue sky and abysmal thoughts would come to me of their own accord like d j vus There I would sit and sup on the cool evening breeze and witness our great golden star fall behind the distant red horizon like a sinking ship and the beatific and tragic sight of that dying day would fill me up with emotions In that solitude where a person hears their own thoughts speak loudest I would give into a deep ocean of contemplation and examine the nature of the world like a tyrant beholding an atlas of the world I would ask myself deep philosophical questions like if a seed growing into a tree and a tree growing into a forest is only a brief moment in the history of time then how much shorter is my life in this world And if earth is only a dust particle floating in the desert of space then how infinitesimal am I in the infinite infinities and diversities of nature Who or what put me in this island called earth Am I just another artifact in the museum of the universe or am I something higher than a flower or a bird or a crystal I would compile thoughts until my thoughts thoughts reach the limit and my mind nearly faints from exhaustion I read nature and wrote at the park until the moon rose and stars arrived to light up the heaven like an army of glowing fireflies Portions of the book were written by the snowy mountain tops of Utah and at the beaches of Lake Michigan whose pure blue water ebbs away and flows towards the windy metropolis of Chicago I then traveled abroad to Africa to collect and recollect my thoughts in the primordial Garden of Eden in South Sudan with its billions of birds animals and insect s chirping buzzing squealing screaming and singing in the orchestra of life playing in the theatre of Nature I meditated and contemplated about life by the shores of Lake Victoria which reflects the white clouds of Uganda s clear sky in its surface like a gigantic mirror on the ground Then I went on an intellectual mecca to Europe visiting intellectualistic sites like the British Library where Marx wrote the most consequential book of modernity I also went to the British Museum and Oxford University to affirm and confirm the contents of this discourse The book was actually edited in London It is called The Future Affects The Past because the subject of d j vu is the object the other subjects of the book revolve around It was premeditated by fate before I was even born that I would script this book Prior to taking my first breath of life before my heart beat for the first time in this world I already wrote this book and it was a matter of time before destiny made it occur into actuality Wisely so I do not call this book my own because I know that infinity is its source just like the infinitely ancient and creative Nature is the source of all arts and inventions Nature had copyright on all things This book is an avalanche of past and present knowledge it s a culmination of precedent human wisdom it s a synthesis of the insights of many books and many minds I am just a instrument used by greater Nature Nature is a tremendous bow that shoots arrows from infinite distance away and infinite time ago and I am only one of Nature s arrows of fire who live to illuminate the dark world of ignorance with philosophical knowledge The Best Science

The Past is the Present; It's the Future Too Christine Ross, 2012-06-28 The term temporality often refers to the traditional mode of the way time is a linear procession of past present and future As philosophers will note this is not always the case Christine Ross builds on current philosophical and theoretical examinations of time and applies them to the field of contemporary art films video installations sculpture and performance works Ross first provides an interdisciplinary overview of contemporary studies on time focusing on findings in philosophy psychology sociology communications history postcolonial studies and ecology She then illustrates how contemporary artistic practices play around with what we consider linear time Engaging the work of artists such as Guido van der Werve Melik Ohanian Harun Farocki and Stan Douglas allows investigation though the art as opposed to having art taking an ancillary role The Past is the Present It s the Future Too forces the reader to understand the complexities of the significance of temporal development in new artistic practices Memories of the Past and Thoughts of the Future Elkanah J. Lamb,1906 The Mind Jean de Climont, This essay is a system of mind based upon Platon saint Augustine and Kant philosophical systems Independent criteria are necessary for mind to judge experiment Criteria are either relative determinations of perceived objects of the experimental world kept in mind by the memory or absolute concepts such as freedom and truth or space and time These absolute concepts cannot be copies of objects of the experimental world because we have no means to perceive them We can only perceive relative objects because perception is itself a relation Mind has a direct access to these absolute concepts This essay is in line with the Hegelian separation between philosophy and theology i e between the transcendental and the theological worlds Spectrality in the Novels of Toni Morrison Melanie R. Anderson,2013-03-30 At first glance Beloved would appear to be the only ghost story among Toni Morrison s nine novels but as this provocative new study shows spectral presences and places abound in the celebrated author s fiction Melanie R Anderson explores how Morrison uses specters to bring the traumas of African American life to the forefront highlighting histories and experiences both cultural and personal that society at large too frequently ignores Working against the background of magical realism while simultaneously expanding notions of the supernatural within American and African American writing Morrison peoples her novels with what Anderson identifies as two distinctive types of ghosts spectral figures and social ghosts Deconstructing Western binaries Morrison uses the spectral to indicate power through its transcendence of corporality temporality and explication and she employs the ghostly as a metaphor of erasure for living characters who are marginalized and haunt the edges of their communities The interaction of these social ghosts with the spectral presences functions as a transformative healing process that draws the marginalized figure out of the shadows and creates links across ruptures between generations and between past and present life and death This book examines how these relationships become increasingly more prominent in the novelist s canon from their beginnings in The Bluest Eye and Sula to their flowering in the trilogy that comprises Beloved Jazz and Paradise and onward into A Mercy An important contribution to the understanding of one of America s premier fiction writers Spectrality in the Novels of Toni Morrison demonstrates how the Nobel laureate s powerful and challenging works give presence to the invisible voice to the previously silenced and agency to the oppressed outsiders who are refused a space in which to narrate their stories Melanie R Anderson is an Instructional Assistant Professor of American Literature at the University of Mississippi The Greatest Works of Thomas Troward Thomas Troward,2019-06-03 Musaicum Books presents to you a meticulously edited Thomas Troward collection This ebook has been designed and formatted to the highest digital standards and adjusted for readability on all devices Content The Edinburgh Lectures on Mental Science The Dore Lectures on Mental Science The Creative Process in the Individual Bible Mystery and Bible Meaning The Law and the Word The Hidden Power and Other Papers on Mental Science How to Get the Best Head
