Intellectuals at a Crossroads Zhidong Hao, 2012-02-01 Zhidong Hao's fascinating book Intellectuals at a Crossroads examines groups of contemporary Chinese intellectuals: their successes, failures, identity, contradictions, and ethical dilemmas. Three categories of intellectuals are studied: organic intellectuals who serve specific interests from government and business to working class movements; critical intellectuals who defy authority with continued social criticism and unattached intellectuals who are fast being professionalized. Using a historical comparative approach enhanced with demographic and rare interview data, the book bridges the traditional with the modern and the Chinese with the foreign by exploring how these intellectuals are adapting to their roles and influencing political, economic, and social change in the new China.

Household Financial Management Sumit Agarwal, Yeow Hwee Chua, 2023-10-18 This book is dedicated to showcasing the importance of household financial management through the lens of academic research with the goal of enhancing the financial well-being of individuals. Through an exploration of households' financial choices over their lifecycle, the book aims to provide a comprehensive understanding of households' financial decision-making processes grounded in economic models, policies, and data. This holistic perspective encompasses an awareness of the functioning of different market types and an appreciation of various cognitive and behavioral biases. As a result, readers would be better positioned to make informed financial choices. By further integrating theories and empirical evidence from economics and finance, the book provides readers with insights into actions they can take to circumvent common financial pitfalls and offers solutions for effectively addressing them.

Tomorrow's Church Today Michael Kelly, 2016-09-20 In his last interview, the late Italian Cardinal and former Archbishop of Milan Carlo Maria Martini said the need for deep reform in the Catholic Church was urgent and long overdue because the Church is 200 years behind the times. The reference to 200 years clearly points to the watershed in European life that the French Revolution and the Enlightenment became. Vatican II was one attempt to meet the challenge of relevance to our times. But its best efforts have been on ice since the late 1970s. Now a new opportunity arrives in the pontificate of Jorge Mario Bergoglio. And the movement he has initiated is evangelical in source and comprehensive in reach. But as many observers have pointed out, it will not be lasting if it does not lead to sustainable structural change to reform that accompanies renewal. In Tomorrow's Church Today, five highly qualified commentators focus on what lies ahead for the Church to be reformed if it is to meet the challenges of the 21st Century.

- o A theologian and historian Massimo Faggioli who targets how ministry and leadership can be reshaped authentically for our times
- o A journalist and radio host for the Australian Broadcasting Corporation the ABC Geraldine Douglass writes a candid piece on how she would advise Pope Francis on the state of the Church
- o A reporter and analyst with 30 years experience of moves and machinations in the Eternal City Robert Mickens
- o A bishop with a lifetime of experience of ministering to the divorced and remarried and the benefit of legal and biblical scholarship to support his approach Geoffrey Robinson o A biblical scholar who examines much of what s taken for granted in the governance of the Church and exposes where it is left wanting Antony Campbell and o A bishop whose forced resignation exposes the deficiencies of a system of governance devoid of basics due process and respect for natural rights But the Catholic Church is not its clerics scholars and commentators It is the baptised Geraldine Doogue is a celebrated Australian broadcaster and commentator whose Introduction speaks for and from the experience of the mass of Catholics
