Paul's Utilization of Preformed Traditions in 1 Timothy Mark M. Yarbrough, 2009-01-01 Mark Yarbrough assesses the question of whether traditional preformed material contributes to the message and understanding of Paul's first letter to Timothy The issue is addressed in three sections Part one evaluates previous works interacting with traditional material in the New Testament Through a critique of historically proposed criteria Yarbrough identifies eight criteria as the primary tools by which to discern units of preformed material In the second part of the book Yarbrough evaluates nineteen passages in 1 Timothy according to the criteria previously determined From this base he embraces twelve of the nineteen passages as preformed material These passages are subsequently examined in depth according to the author's distinct methodology Part three demonstrates four functions of the preformed traditions in 1 Timothy Firstly that they may be seen as strengthening the literary cohesion of the letter Secondly that the traditional units afford the author rhetorical leverage which may be best identified as the provision of authority the establishment of an instant rapport with the primary audience and the assistance conferred in addressing this implied audience Thirdly they present theological directives that confront the character and belief of the false teachers Finally Yarbrough asserts that the preformed traditions exist as a combatant against counter mission doctrine In conclusion this study displays that the traditional material which may be discerned within the letter contributes significantly to the overall message and understanding of 1 Timothy
