Mark's Gospel (Classic Reprint) A. T. Robertson,2015-07-08 Excerpt from Studies in Mark s Gospel John Mark the author of the Second Gospel has absolutely nothing to say about himself in his Gospel unless there is a veiled reference in 14 51f where we have the elusive figure of a certain young man who had followed Jesus to Gethsemane and who fled leaving his loose nightrobe when the officer arrested the Master This may be John Mark the son of Mary in whose house the disciples met at a later time Acts 12 12 If so it was at his mother s house that Jesus partook of the last Passover meal But Papias says that Mark was not a personal follower of Jesus I Glimpses of Mark However we do get a good many glimpses of John Mark in the Acts and in Paul s Epistles By means of these we can form some idea of the young man who performed such a great work in the writing of the Gospel that lies at the basis of both Matthew and Luke according to the almost unanimous opinion of modern scholars There is no critical position more generally recognized than that St Mark forms the groundwork of St Matthew and St Luke For every reason therefore modern Christians are interested in Mark About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
