Hope and Kinship in Contemporary Fiction Gero Bauer, 2024-01-11 Explores the emphasis that contemporary novels films and television series place on the present arguing that hope emerges from the potentiality of the here and now rather than the future and as intimately entangled with negotiations of structures of belonging Taking its cue from an understanding of hope as connoting an organizing temporality one which is often presumed to be projecting into a future Hope and Kinship in Contemporary Fiction challenges this understanding arguing that hope emerges in practices of relationality in the present disentangling hope from a necessary correlation with futurity Through close readings of contemporary works including The Road The Walking Dead Cloud Atlas Sense8 The People in the Trees and A Little Life Gero Bauer investigates how these texts explore structures of kinship as creative and affective practices of belonging and care that claim spaces beyond the heterosexual reproductive nuclear family In this context fictional figurations of the child often considered the bearer of the future are of particular interest Through these interventions into definitions of and reflections on fictional manifestations of hope and kinship Bauer's analyses intersect with queer theory new materialism and postcritical approaches to literature and cultural studies moving towards counterintuitively hopeful readings of the present moment

Suicide in Modern Catholic Literature Martin Lockerd,2025-06-10 Suicide plays a major role in modern literature and the philosophy that informs it For Catholic authors who have always understood the act within the framework of sin and redemption it carries a special significance In the last century Catholic literary figures as diverse as J R R Tolkien and Walker Percy Robert Hugh Benson and Muriel Spark J K Huysmans and Graham Greene wrestled with the problem of suicide in their work and produced art that confronts the despair so common in modern existence As suicide rates continue to increase across the developed world and entire nations embrace and expand legalized assisted suicide this book draws readers back to Catholic literature as a resource for understanding and perhaps even resisting this trend Anna Karenina Leo Tolstoy,W. Gareth Jones,1995-09-07 In 1872 the mistress of a neighbouring landowner threw herself under a train at a station near Tolstoy's home. This gave Tolstoy the starting point he needed for composing what many believe to be the greatest novel ever written. In writing Anna Karenina, he moved away from the vast historical sweep of War and Peace to tell, with extraordinary understanding, the story of an aristocratic woman who brings ruin on herself. Anna's tragedy is interwoven with not only the courtship and marriage of Kitty and Levin but also the lives of many other characters. Rich in incident, powerful in characterization, the novel also expresses Tolstoy's own moral vision. The correct way of putting the question is the artist's duty. Chekhov once insisted, and Anna Karenina was the work he chose to make his point. It solves no problem but it is deeply satisfying because all the questions are put correctly. Caitlin R. Kiernan James Goho, 2020-08-28 Caitlin R. Kiernan is at the forefront of contemporary gothic weird and science fiction literature. She has written more than a dozen novels, over 250 short stories, many chapbooks, along with a large number of graphic works. For these, Kiernan has won numerous awards. This first full-length look at Kiernan's body of work explores her fictional universe through critical literary lenses to show the depth of her contributions to modern genre literature. A prolific and creative writer, Kiernan's fictions bring to life our fears about the other, the unknown, and the future through stories that range widely across time and space. A sense of dark terror pervades her novels and stories. Yet Kiernan's fictional universe is not disengaged from reality. That is because she works within the long tradition of gothic fiction, speaking to the gravest ethical, social, and cultural issues. In her dark fiction, Kiernan illustrates the terror of the tyranny of the normal, the oppression of marginalized people, and the pervasive violence of our time. Her dystopian SF propels today's dangerous economic, social, political, and environmental tendencies into the future. Kiernan's fiction portrays troubling truths about the current human condition.

Interactive Fictions Yael Halevi-Wise, 2003-09-30 Arguing that genre must play a role in our study of narrative fiction, this tour of the novel examines interactive storytelling scenes in which characters argue about how to tell a tale that meets their respective social and aesthetic expectations. Through intense readings of interactive storytelling scenes in works spanning the 17th through 20th centuries, Halevi-Wise demonstrates how dramatized arguments about storytelling open a window on social and generic dilemmas affecting the narrative of each novel at the time of its composition. Examined in detail are Cervantes' Don Quixote, Sterne's Tristram Shandy, Austen's Northanger Abbey, Dickens's Little Dorrit, Conrad's Lord Jim, Yehoshua's Mr. Mani, and Esquivel's I Like Water for Chocolate. Redressing an imbalance between sociological approaches that displace aesthetic considerations and aesthetic analyses that bracket cultural phenomena the author shows why both genre and culture must be taken into account when we analyze the formation and reception of a narrative Each interactive storytelling event illustrates how social and aesthetic interests compete and reinvent themselves within their framing texts and those texts respective national and historical contexts Just as social interactions cannot be indefinitely displaced in the study of narrative fiction genre cannot be ignored in the study of identity politics What emerges from this unique examination is a postmodern poetics of the novel that takes genre and history into account Current Literature ,1894 Joy of the Worm Drew Daniel,2022-05-02 Consulting an extensive archive of early modern literature Joy of the Worm asserts that voluntary death in literature is not always a matter of tragedy In this study Drew Daniel identifies a surprisingly common aesthetic attitude that he calls joy of the worm after Cleopatra s embrace of the deadly asp in Shakespeare s play a pattern where voluntary death is imagined as an occasion for humor mirth ecstatic pleasure even joy and celebration Daniel draws both a historical and a conceptual distinction between self killing and suicide Standard intellectual histories of suicide in the early modern period have understandably emphasized attitudes of abhorrence scorn and severity toward voluntary death Daniel reads an archive of literary scenes and passages dating from 1534 to 1713 that complicate this picture In their own distinct responses to the surrounding attitude of censure writers including Shakespeare Donne Milton and Addison imagine death not as sin or sickness but instead as a heroic gift sexual release elemental return amorous fusion or political self rescue Joy of the worm emerges here as an aesthetic mode that shades into schadenfreude sadistic cruelty and deliberate trolling but can also underwrite powerful feelings of belonging devotion and love
