Women Suicide Bombers V. G. Julie Rajan, 2011-08-26 This book offers an evaluation of female suicide bombers through postcolonial Third World feminist and human rights framework drawing on case studies from conflicts in Palestine Sri Lanka and Chechnya among others Women Suicide Bombers explores why cultural media and political reports from various geographies present different information about and portraits of the same women suicide bombers The majority of Western media and sovereign states engaged in wars against groups deploying bombings tend to focus on women bombers abnormal mental conditions their physicality for example their painted fingernails or their beautiful eyes their sexualities and the various ways in which they have been victimized by their backward Third World cultures especially by Islam In contrast propaganda produced by rebel groups deploying women bombers cultures supporting those campaigns and governments of those nations at war with sovereign states and Western nations tend to project women bombers as mythical heroes in ways that supersedes the martyrdom operations of male bombers Many of the books published on this phenomenon have revealed interesting ways to read women bombers subjectivities but do not explore the phenomenon of women bombers both inside and outside of their militant activities or against the patriarchal Orientalist and Western feminist cultural and theoretical frameworks that label female bombers primarily as victims of backward cultures In contrast this book offers a corrective lens to the existing discourse and encourages a more balanced evaluation of women bombers in contemporary conflict This book will be of interest to students of terrorism gender studies and security studies in general

The Path to Paradise Anat Berko, 2007-04-30 Suicide bombers are often compared to smart bombs From the point of view of their dispatchers they are highly effective inexpensive forms of weaponry and there is no need to invest in their technological development Suicide bombers are in fact smarter than smart bombs because they can choose their own target and they can react to circumstances on the ground changing their target or their timing in an instant to ensure the maximum damage destruction and death Of course unlike smart bombs suicide bombers think and feel they have histories stories beliefs desires in short they have an inner world Exploring the inner world of suicide bombers has been the focus of Anat Berko's research for years She has worked to understand the thought processes of a people who can choose to place explosives on their bodies and kill themselves taking as many other people with them as they can Do male bombers really believe that death will transport them to a paradise where they will be greeted by virgins Are they victims of unbearable pressure to commit this act of terror What are female bombers promised in the hereafter Is there something that links all suicide bombers Berko also explores the world of those who drop the smart bomb the dispatchers who are these people who persuade others to go calmly to their horrific deaths

Understanding and Addressing Suicide Attacks David Cook, Olivia Allison, 2007-05-30 During the past several years Americans have witnessed the frequent occurrence of suicide attacks by radical Muslim groups The public has wondered what drives someone to kill himself specifically in order to wreak havoc and destruction While other works address the subject many entirely ignore the ideological religious and cultural appeal of suicide attacks and none can adequately speak to why certain groups choose to use suicide as a weapon while others do not Beginning with a careful consideration of the religious and historical reasons and the justifications that perpetrators find therein for suicide operations the authors reveal how radical groups have co opted various aspects of their faith to provide fuel for their current activities Established policy makers seem helpless to confront this destructive terrorist activity often implying that countermeasures are ineffective and seeming to say we will just have to wait out the phenomenon Even such a well documented policy report as the 9 11 Commission s report failed to address the root of suicide attacks only critiquing technical aspects of the U S security system Focusing on specific attacks their roots their perpetrators and their outcomes the authors are able to shed light on this resurgence of radical religious forces that encourage the use of such tactics and to propose new initiatives and approaches to handling such attacks before and after they occur
