September Evening Barry Diggins,2012-03-19 The true story of the daredevil flying ace who rivaled the Red Baron with photos included This is the first full length biography of nineteen year old Werner Voss a legend in his lifetime and the youngest recipient of the Pour le Merite Germany's highest award for bravery in WWI At the time of his death he was considered by many friend and foe alike to be Germany's greatest ace and had he lived Voss would almost certainly have overtaken Manfred von Richthofen's victory total by early spring of 1918 Voss is perhaps best remembered for his outstanding courage his audacity in the air and the prodigious number of victories he achieved before being killed in one of the most swashbuckling and famous dogfights of the Great War a fight involving James McCudden and 56 Squadron RFC the most successful Allied scout squadron Yet the life of Voss and the events of that fateful September day are surrounded by mystery and uncertainty and even now aviation enthusiasts continue to ask questions about him on an almost daily basis Barry Diggins was determined to uncover the truth and September Evening unearths and analyzes every scrap of information concerning this extraordinary young man Diggins's conclusions are sometimes controversial but his evidence is persuasive and this study will be welcomed by and of great interest to the aviation fraternity worldwide cantilever wings first developed during Fokker's government mandated collaboration with Hugo Junkers. Initial tests revealed that the V 4 had unacceptably high control forces resulting from the use of unbalanced ailerons and elevators. Instead of submitting the V 4 for a type test, Fokker produced a revised prototype designated V 5. The most notable changes were the introduction of horn balanced ailerons and elevators as well as longer span wings. The V 5 also featured interplane struts which were not necessary from a structural standpoint but which minimized wing

The Red Baron Norman Franks, 2016-10-14. A pictorial history of the infamous German World War I air force pilot by the author of Dieppe: The Greatest Air Battle. There are numerous books covering the life of Rittmeister Manfred Freiherr von Richthofen and he has remained at the forefront of World War I studies. In commemoration of one hundred years since the beginning of the war, author Norman Franks introduces a new collection of photographs covering the entire span of von Richthofen's war, most of which will have been seen but spread over a variety of literature about First World War flying consolidated in one book. In the time since the release of Franks' earlier titles on a similar theme, a constant trickle of new information has filtered down to him. Although none of it specifically challenges the conclusions drawn in earlier publications, in consolidating them here, he has been able to preserve some significant notes of interest. Following several visits to Belgium and Northern France, Franks has managed to acquire additional images illustrating the places in which the Red Baron lived and fought between 1916 and 1918. This collection covers the entire span of von Richthofen's recorded history in pictures, some new and lesser known, some iconic and widely circulated, and all housed here under one roof for the very first time. If you are a Red Baron fan, this book is a must have. Even if you are new to the topic, the text provides an excellent introduction to his career. The Miniatures Page. In summation, The Red Baron: A History in Pictures is recommended. Over the Front
