The Fourth World The Heritage Of The Arctic And Its Destruction:

A History of the Arctic John McCannon, 2013-02-15 Bitter cold and constant snow Polar bears seals and killer whales Victor Frankenstein chasing his monstrous creation across icy terrain in a dogsled The arctic calls to mind a myriad different images Consisting of the Arctic Ocean and parts of Canada the United States Russia Greenland Finland Norway and Sweden the arctic possesses a unique ecosystem temperatures average negative 29 degrees Fahrenheit in winter and rarely rise above freezing in summer and the indigenous peoples and cultures that live in the region have had to adapt to the harsh weather conditions As global temperatures rise the arctic is facing an environmental crisis with melting glaciers causing grave concern around the world But for all the renown of this frozen region the arctic remains far from perfectly understood In A History of the Arctic award winning polar historian John McCannon provides an engaging overview of the region that spans from the Stone Age to the present McCannon discusses polar exploration and science nation building diplomacy environmental issues and climate change and the role indigenous populations have played in the arctic's story Chronicling the history of each arctic nation he details the many failed searches for a Northwest Passage and the territorial claims that hamper use of these waterways He also explores the resources found in the arctic oil natural gas minerals fresh water and fish and describes the importance they hold as these resources are depleted elsewhere as well as the challenges we face in extracting them A timely assessment of current diplomatic and environmental realities as well as the dire risks the region now faces A History of the Arctic is a thoroughly engrossing book on the past and future of the top of the world

The Fourth World Sam Hall, 1988 The Fourth World Sam Hall, 1987 Examines the negative impacts humans have had on the native population wildlife and ecology of the arctic Evokes the lifestyle of the arctic peoples describes the erosion of this culture under the impact of colonialism and makes an indisputable case for a common collaboration to save the arctic from further despoilation

It's All for Sale James Ridgeway, 2004 An analysis of who owns and controls the world's natural resources geared for the general reader but useful for scholars of development international relations and the environment

The Earth and I Arthur Firstenberg, 2025-01-07 Almost all environmental books treat the environmental crisis as though humans are in charge of nature rather than part of it The Earth and I is the first book to put all preconceived notions aside and to ask na vely Who are we really What is our relationship to the earth How is it possible that we out of all the millions of species have come to destroy our common home The answers are surprising and have far reaching implications for those searching for solutions Part One tells what is happening to the earth's systems and how they are being destroyed It rewrites the two million year history of humanity's tenure on the earth as if we are part of nature and not separate from it and describes both the earth and the universe as living systems It paints a global coherent picture of the devastation to Earth's air water forests and creatures that is not found elsewhere It reviews assaults on these systems that are not treated adequately if at all elsewhere chemicals radiation plastics detergents biocides noise cars and guns Part Two Digging below the Surface asks why and enters territory not previously explored by environmentalists It describes the various ways to make a living on the earth hunting and gathering shifting agriculture nomadic herding settled agriculture and industrial technology as choices not eras choices coexisting with one another until today It rewrites economics It explores the relationship of warfare slavery religion and human sexuality to the environmental crisis And it is forced to conclude that these aspects of human culture are not only shaped but created by the technologies we use that the use of non human sources of energy interferes with human psychological development and that the unfulfilled urges within us explode in the violent technologies that are destroying our planet The solutions if it is not too late therefore lie in wise choice rather than wise use of our technologies

The Routledge Handbook of the Polar Regions Mark Nuttall,Torben R Christensen,Martin Siegert,2018-07-18 The Routledge Handbook of the Polar Regions is an authoritative guide to the Arctic and the Antarctic through an exploration of key areas of research in the physical and natural sciences and the social sciences and humanities It presents 38 new and original contributions from leading figures and voices in polar research policy and practice as well as work from emerging scholars This handbook aims to approach and understand the Polar Regions as places that are at the forefront of global conversations about some of the most pressing contemporary issues and research questions of our age The volume provides a discussion of the similarities and differences between the two regions to help deepen understanding and knowledge Major themes and issues are integrated in the comprehensive introduction chapter by the editors who are top researchers in their respective fields The contributions show how polar researchers engage with contemporary debates and use interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary approaches to address new developments as well as map out exciting trajectories for future work in the Arctic and the Antarctic The handbook provides an easy access to key items of scholarly literature and material otherwise inaccessible or scattered throughout a variety of specialist journals and books A unique one stop research resource for researchers and policymakers with an interest in the Arctic and Antarctic it is also a comprehensive reference work for graduate and advanced undergraduate students

Encyclopedia of Urban Studies Ray Hutchison,2009-09-15 The United Nations estimates that by 2030 more than two thirds of the total world population will live in urban areas Most of this increase will take place not in Europe or in the United States but in the megacities and newly emerging urban regions of what used to be called the developing world Urban studies is an expansive and growing field covering many disciplines and professional fields each with its own schedule of conferences journals and publication series These two volumes address the specific theories key studies and important figures that have influenced not just the individual discipline but also the field of urban studies more generally The Encyclopedia of Urban Studies is intended to present an overview of current work in the field and to serve as a guide for further reading in the field Key Features Includes important work and traditions from each of the urban disciplines including urban anthropology urban economics urban geography urban history urban politics urban psychology and urban sociology Addresses both the growth and expansion of urban areas urbanization and the nature and quality of urban life urbanism Demonstrates the international and interdisciplinary nature of the field with contributions from scholars in many different countries Confronts a number of important issues ranging from individual problems of poverty to societal problems of provision of adequate housing and social exclusion Provides entries on a number of cities including those in different historical periods and regions of the world and those that have been important in the development of urban studies Key Themes Disciplinary Approaches in Urban Studies Urban Studies Topical Areas Urban Issues Urban Planning Urban Theory Urban Transportation Urban Culture Places Cities Persons The Encyclopedia of Urban Studies serves as an introduction to topics of significance in urban studies for an audience that includes undergraduate students beginning graduate students of urban studies and the related urban disciplines a broader public that has an interest in the new urban world and even established teachers and scholars who are exploring new areas of study The Fallen Sky Christopher Cokinos,2009-07-30 In this acclaimed volume prizewinning poet and nature writer Christopher Cokinos takes us on an epic journey from Antarctica to outer space weaving together natural history memoir and in depth profiles of amateur researchers rogue scientists and stargazing dreamers to tell the riveting tale of how the study of meteorites became a modern science

Trail of the Hare Joel S. Savishinsky,2022-02-27 In this second edition of his classic work Joel Savishinsky expands and updates his highly acclaimed study of mobility and stress in a sub Arctic community of Hare Indians Since the publication of the first edition the Hare have faced new challenges posed by clashes between aboriginal and contemporary values in the spheres of ecology culture and politics from the Hare s rising ethnic and political awareness as a Fourth World community to cultural disagreements over animal rights and environmental preservation The second edition reframes the context of Savishinsky s original conclusions on human animal relations environmentalism and native white encounters to accommodate these new developments as well as current trends in anthropology itself Unfreezing the Arctic Andrew Stuhl,2016-11-03 This account of a region transformed and threatened offers a timely historical reflection on the important social role of science and scientists Historical Geography In recent years environmentalists have pointed urgently to the melting Arctic as a leading indicator of climate change While climate change has unleashed profound transformations in the region many commentators mislabel them as unprecedented In reality the landscapes of the North American Arctic as well as relations among scientists Inuit and federal governments are products of the region s colonial past And even as policy analysts activists and scholars clamor about the future of our world s northern rim few truly understand its past In Unfreezing the Arctic Andrew Stuhl brings a fresh perspective to this defining challenge of our time Stuhl weaves together a wealth of episodes into a transnational history of the North American Arctic providing a richer understanding of its social and environmental transformation Drawing on historical records and extensive ethnographic fieldwork as well as time spent living in the Northwest Territories he examines the long running interplay of scientific exploration colonial control the experiences of Inuit residents and multinational investments in natural resources With a comprehensive look at a century of scientific activity he covers the political economic environmental and social history of this transboundary region A worthy addition to the recent wave of work on northern history Bridging the histories of colonialism resource management military activity and Indigenous self determination Stuhl focuses on Alaska and northwest Canada including the Beaufort Sea Mackenzie Delta and surrounding region Canadian Journal of History The author intends to donate all royalties from this book to the Alaska Youth for Environmental Action AYE and East Three School s On the Land Program The City of Words Alberto Manguel,2008 And yet stories even the best and truest can t save us from our own folly Stories can t protect us from suffering and error from natural and artificial catastrophes from our own suicidal greed The only thing they can do is offer consolation for suffering and words to name our experience Stories can tell us who we are and suggest ways of imagining a future that without calling for comfortable happy endings may offer us ways of remaining alive together on this much abused earth Based on Canada s 2007 CBC Massey Lectures to be broadcast in Australia by ABC Radio National in April 2008 Alberto Manguel s The City of Words takes a fresh look at the rise of violent intolerance in our societies We strive to build societies with sets of values all citizens can agree on But something has gone wrong race riots in France political murder in the Netherlands bombings in Britain and Bali are these symptoms of a multicultural experiment gone awry Why is it so difficult for us to live together when the alternatives are demonstrably horrifying With his trademark wit and erudition Alberto Manguel suggests a fresh approach we should look at what visionaries poets novelists essayists and filmmakers have to say about building societies Perhaps the stories we tell hold secret keys to the human heart From Cassandra to Jack London the Epic of Gilgamesh to the computer Hal in 2001 A Space Odyssey Don Quixote to Atanarjuat The Fast Runner Manguel draws fascinating and revelatory parallels between the personal and political realities of our present day world and those of myth legend and story Future Survey Annual 1988-1989 Michael Marien,Lane Jennings,1990-01-01 BMW Z cars have carved a huge reputation for themselves in a very short time From the revolutionary and innovative Z1 of the late 1980s to the beautiful and exclusive Z8 of more recent times via the popular Z3 and its controversial replacement the Z4 the family has made BMW s name in the increasingly competitive sports car market Animal Rights, Human Rights George W. Wenzel,1991-01-01 This study of the controversy surrounding the hunting of seals in the Canadian Arctic concentrates on the Inuit of Clyde River Baffin Island and traces the evolution of the traditional subsistence economy and social structure to the present cash economy and the effects of animal rights movements on the Inuit culture Extensive bibliography maps and glossary of Inuit sealing terms Adventuring with Boldness Bruce C. Paton,2006 This book is split into two sections the first telling the stories of the expeditions of Alexander Mackenzie Zebulon Pike Lewis and Clark John Wesley Powell and more The second part tells how they dealt with travel issues A Yupiaq Worldview Angayuqaq Oscar Kawagley,2006-02-17 Oscar Kawagley is a man of two worlds walking the sometimes bewildering line between traditional Yupiaq culture and the Westernized Yupiaq life of today In this study Kawagley follows both memories of his Yupiaq grandmother who raised him with the stories of the Bear Woman and respectful knowledge of the reciprocity of nature and his own education in science as it is taught in Western schools Kawagley is a man who hears the elders voices in Alaska and knows how to look for the weather and to use the land and its creatures with the most delicate care In a call to unite the two parts of his own and modern Yupiaq history Kawagley proposes a way of teaching that incorporates all ways of knowing available in Yupiaq and Western science He has traveled a long journey but it ends where it began in a fishing camp in southwestern Alaska a home for his heart and spirit The second edition examines changes that have impacted the Yupiaq and other Alaska Native communities over the last ten years including implementation of cultural standards in indigenous education and the emergence of a holistic approach in the sciences

Alaska History Marvin W. Falk, 2006-03-30 Marvin W Falk offers a systemic and select listing of just over 3 000 publications on the history of Alaska published from the 18th century to early 2004 Early explorations were conducted by nationals from several nations and the results were published in Russian German French Spanish and English Many of these foreign language accounts have been published in translation and are included in the bibliography This bibliography covers a wide span of Alaskan history including historical literature from Discovery in 1741 The Russian period ending in 1867 The U S territorial period ending with statehood in 1959 The oil boom

The Modern North Ken S. Coates, Judith Powell, 1989-01-01 Published in 1989 The Modern North examines the experience of the peoples of the Yukon and Northwest Territories from the Berger inquiry of 1975 and onwards Untangling the varied strands that make up the Northern tapestry its resourceful peoples its awesome physical landscape its political and economic agenda in the late 1980s they portray in vivid colours a society struggling to cast off the chains of colonialism and define its own future The Modern North offers a sensitive assessment of the people and forces shaping the Yukon and Northwest Territories in the 1980s

Bare Poles Harold Strub, 1996-04-15 Designing successfully for people in the world s coldest climates demands a broad understanding of site conditions and their unique social context Until now such knowledge often lay unarticulated in the minds of a few experienced practitioners or in the disappearing traditions of aboriginal peoples

The Cinematic Footprint Nadia Bozak, 2011-10-28 Film is often used to represent the natural landscape and increasingly to communicate environmentalist messages Yet behind even today s green movies are ecologically unsustainable production distribution and consumption processes Noting how seemingly immaterial moving images are supported by highly durable resource dependent infrastructures The Cinematic Footprint traces the history of how the hydrocarbon imagination has been central to the development of film as a medium Nadia Bozak s innovative fusion of film studies and environmental studies makes provocative connections between the disappearance of material resources and the emergence of digital media with examples ranging from early cinema to Dziga Vertov s prescient eye from Chris Marker s analog experiments to the digital work of Agn s Varda James Benning and Zacharias Kunuk Combining an analysis of cinema technology with a sensitive consideration of film aesthetics The Cinematic Footprint offers a new perspective on moving images and the natural resources that sustain them State ,1988
