The Future Executive:

The Future of Executive Development Mihnea C. Moldoveanu, Das Narayandas, 2021-11-30 Executive development programs have entered a period of rapid transformation driven by digital disruption and a widening gap between the skills that participants and their organizations demand and those provided by their executive programs This work delves into the objective functions of the executive development space analyzes the demand characteristics of the learners and the organizations that pay for the programs and the ways in which business schools and other providers deliver or not on the promises they make regarding skill development and the continued value of learning to the organization They show how a trio of disruptive forces disintermediation disaggregation and decoupling which have figured prominently in industries disrupted by digitalization are reshaping the structure of demand for executive development The authors look at the future of executive development in the era of self refining algorithms aka machine learning and wearable sensors and computers and offer a compass for making the right choice for CEOs and CLOs who are guiding executive program design Ultimately they offer a guide for to optimize the learning production function for both skill acquisition and skill transfer the two charges that the new skills economy has laid out for any educational enterprise

Friedman,2017-09-04 This volume focuses on the most critical strategic activity in any organization namely who gets chosen to sit in the top echelon of the pyramid Friedman argues that it is the quality of corporate leadership that will determine corporate winners and losers in the global competitive game The stakes in leadership succession are high The selection of key figures is the one human resource activity that no one belittles for being of secondary importance Indeed leadership succession is so important and central in many executive minds that it crowds out any other work The succession process is often fraught with political intrigue it lacks discipline and excludes meaningful involvement of senior human resource executives The contributors to this imaginative volume reveal a succession planning process that is frequently sloppy superficial and regularly sabotaged by senior management when they give it short shrift in terms of quality time In addition senior management often overrides sound decisions when it comes to filling key positions The result is a lack of integrity throughout the human resource systems that eventually leads to a collapse of belief in the system and its governance Noel M Tichy a leading figure in the studies of human resource management has said Stewart Friedman is to be congratulated for a successful effort in providing a state of the art look at leadership succession He provides us with an empirical database of what is happening in U S corporations helpful prescriptions for future improvement of leadership succession and a realistic assessment of the human resource executive challenges in this area The Future of International Education United States. whether Hispanics especially immigrants improve their educational attainment and fluency in English and thereby improve their economic position whether growing numbers of foreign born Hispanics become citizens and achieve empowerment at the ballot box and through elected office whether impending health problems are successfully averted and whether Hispanics geographic dispersal accelerates their spatial and social integration The papers in this volume provide invaluable information to explore these issues
