The Galton Case:

The Galton Case Ross Macdonald, 1996-11-26 Lew Archer returns in this gripping mystery widely recognized as one of acclaimed mystery writer Ross Macdonald's very best about the search for the long lost heir of the wealthy Galton family. Almost twenty years have passed since Anthony Galton disappeared along with a suspiciously streetwise bride and several thousand dollars of his family's fortune. Now Anthony's mother wants him back and has hired Lew Archer to find him. What turns up is a headless skeleton, a boy who claims to be Galton's son, and a con game whose stakes are so high that someone is still willing to kill for them. Devious and poetic, The Galton Case displays MacDonald at the pinnacle of his form. The Galton Case Ross Macdonald, 1972 The Galton Case, Etc John Ross Macdonald, 1962 Detective Fiction Charles J. Rzepka, 2005-09-30 Detective Fiction is a clear and compelling look at some of the best known yet least understood characters and texts of the modern day. Undergraduate students of Detective and Crime Fiction and of genre fiction in general will find this book essential reading. It's All One Case Paul Nelson, Kevin Avery, 2016-09-13 This is a prose series of unpublished interviews with and a visual retrospective of the seminal mid to late 20th century literary crime writer. In 1976 critic Paul Nelson spent several weeks interviewing legendary detective writer Ross Macdonald who elevated the form to a new literary level. We talked about everything imaginable Nelson wrote including Macdonald's often meager beginnings, his dual citizenship, writers, painters, music, and movies he admired. The Great Gatsby his favorite book, how he used symbolism to change detective writing, and more. This book, published in a handsome oversized format, collects these unpublished interviews and is a visual history of Macdonald's professional career. It is illustrated with rare and select items from one of the world's largest private archives of Macdonald ephemera, reproduces in full color the covers of the various editions of Macdonald's more than two dozen books, collects facsimile reproductions of select pages from his manuscripts as well as magazine spreads and presents rare photos many never before seen. The Encyclopedia of Murder and Mystery B. Murphy, 1999-12-09 Bruce Murphy's Encyclopedia of Murder and Mystery is a comprehensive guide to the genre of the murder mystery that catalogues thousands of items in a broad range of categories: authors, titles, plots, characters, weapons, methods of killing, movie and theatrical adaptations. What distinguishes this encyclopedia from the others in the field is its critical stance. Archer at Large : Three Exciting Novels : The Galton Case, The Chill, Black Money , 1970

British Ruling Cases from Courts of Great Britain, Canada, Ireland, Australia and Other Divisions of the British Empire, Extensively Annotated , 1922 This series of reports is in a sense a continuation but with a decided expansion of the plan of the English ruling cases as it takes the cases from the British empire instead of from England only, but it continues the English ruling cases in the sense that it will include the most important cases from the English courts decided since that series terminated. mantles of Dashiell Hammett and Raymond Chandler Ross Macdonald and his Lew Archer novels were hailed by The New York Times as the finest series of detective novels ever written by an American Now in the first full length biography of this extraordinary and influential writer a much fuller picture emerges of a man to whom hiding things came as second nature While it was no secret that Ross Macdonald was the pseudonym of Kenneth Millar a Santa Barbara man married to another good mystery writer Margaret Millar his official biography was spare Drawing on unrestricted access to the Kenneth and Margaret Millar Archives on more than forty years of correspondence and on hundreds of interviews with those who knew Millar well author Tom Nolan has done a masterful job of filling in the blanks between the psychologically complex novels and the author's life both secret and overt Ross Macdonald came to crime writing honestly Born in northern California to Canadian parents Kenneth Millar grew up in Ontario virtually fatherless poor and with a mother whose mental stability was very much in question From the age of twelve young Millar was fighting stealing and breaking social and moral laws by his own admission he barely escaped being a criminal Years later Millar would come to see himself in his tales wrongdoers I don't have to be violent he said My books are How this troubled young man came to be one of the most brilliant graduate students in the history of the University of Michigan and how this writer who excelled in a genre all too often looked down upon by literary critics came to have a lifelong friendship with Eudora Welty are all examined in the pages of Tom Nolan's meticulous biography We come to a sympathetic understanding of the Millars long and sometimes rancorous marriage and of their life in Santa Barbara California with their only daughter Linda whose legal and emotional traumas lie at the very heart of the story But we also follow the trajectory of a literary career that began in the pages of Manhunt and ended with the great respect of such fellow writers as Marshall McLuhan Hugh Kenner Nelson Algren and Reynolds Price and the longtime distinguished publisher Alfred A Knopf As Ross Macdonald A Biography makes abundantly clear Ross Macdonald's greatest character above and beyond his famous Lew Archer was none other than his creator Kenneth Millar Hard-boiled

The Detective and the Artist J.K. Van Dover,2019-01-25 This book focuses on the distinctive role that artists have played in detective fiction as detectives as villains and victims and as bystanders With a few significant exceptions literary detectives have always identified themselves as essentially the deconstructors of the artful crimes of others They may use various methods ratiocinative scientific or hard boiled but they always unravel the threads that the villains have woven into deceptive covers for their crimes The detective does in the end produce a work of art a narrative that explains everything that needs explanation But the detective's moral work is often juxtaposed to the aesthetic work of the painters poets and writers that the detective encounters during an investigation The author surveys this juxtaposition in works by important authors from the early development of the genre Poe Conan Doyle the golden age Bentley Christie Sayers James et al and the hard boiled era Hammett Chandler Macdonald Spicer et al
