The Form A Play:

The Plays and Films of Bahram Beyzaie Saeed Talajooy, 2024-01-25 Bahram Beyzaie is one of Iran's leading playwrights and auteur filmmakers. This book examines several of Beyzaie's films and plays and their preoccupation with the modalities and transformations of Iranian contemporary historical and mythical identity from different perspectives. The chapters analyse Beyzaie's influential plays such as Arash and So Dies Pahlevan Akbar and his filmic magnum opuses such as The Crow, Bashu the Little Stranger and Killing Mad Dogs from a range of critical perspectives including ecofeminist, sociopolitical, new historicist, archetypal and psychoanalytical readings. They also explore Beyzaie's dialogue with filmic genres such as noir, different Iranian languages such as Gilaki, Iranian epics and ritual practices such as ta ziyeh plays and javanmardi chivalry cults. Together the chapters show how Beyzaie's works negotiate narratives of belonging and undermine the dominant exclusionist discourses in Iran and how they use the resources of Iranian folk and performance traditions to comment on the position of women, children, intellectuals and minorities in society.

Power at Play Niels Åkerstrøm Andersen, 2009-04-17 More and more adults participate as employees in games at work and in public and voluntary organizations. Power at play covers the intricate linkages between pedagogy, play and power. It shows how power today suspends itself through play and analyzes organized play as a symptom of more radical changes of the exercise of power in work and society.

The Plays of Yasmina Reza on the English and American Stage Amanda Giguere, 2014-01-10 The seven plays to date of Yasmina Reza, one of France's most prominent female playwrights, are popular both in France and abroad. Despite her commercial success, her plays have often been ignored in academic circles and few scholars have attempted to explore the mechanics of her playwriting. This text seeks to unpack the essentials of Reza's style and to explore each play as a component of Reza's theatrical oeuvre. The result is a fuller understanding of her theatrical poetics and her development as an artist.

Play Matters Miguel Sicart, 2014-08 Why play is a productive, expressive way of being, a form of understanding and a fundamental part of our well-being. What do we think about when we think about play? A pastime, games, childish activities, the opposite of work. Think again. If we are happy and well-rested, we may approach even our daily tasks in a playful way, taking the attitude of play without the activity of play. So what then is play? In Play Matters, Miguel Sicart argues that to play is to be in the world; playing is a form of understanding what surrounds us and a way of engaging with others. Play goes beyond games; it is a mode of being human. We play games, but we also play with toys on playgrounds, with technologies and design. Sicart proposes a theory of play that doesn't derive from a particular object or activity but is a portable tool for being, not tied to objects but brought by people to the complex interactions that form their daily lives. It is not separated from reality; it is part of it. It is pleasurable but not necessarily fun. Play can be dangerous, addictive and destructive. Along the way, Sicart considers playfulness, the capacity to use play outside the context of play toys, the materialization of play instruments but also play pals, playgrounds, play spaces that enable all kinds of play, beauty, the
