Ann Millett-Gallant

Staring Back An Anthology Of Writers With Disabilities:

Staring Back Kenny Fries, 1997 The disability experience has until very recently been marginalized stereotyped and ignored in literature Now through the vehicles of nonfiction poetry fiction and drama Staring Back is the first anthology to open the landscape of the disabled experience for exploration and discussion The presence of such well known authors as Lucy Grealy John Hockenberry and Marilyn Hacker in this anthology gives immediate lie to the notion that disability is a limitation to insight and productivity But just as importantly Staring Back challenges us to look anew at the disabilities of FDR and Matisse the lives of Helen Keller and Frida Kahlo the work of Stephen Hawking It urges us to redefine what is meant by cure to understand hidden disabilities and even to find humor in ways that defy our expectations If there is one theme that binds this diverse body of work aside from its subject matter it is the theme of human connection a connection with the past with each other with our bodies and with ourselves As Kenny Fries writes in his introduction Throughout history those who live with disabilities have been silenced by those who did not want to hear what we have to say We have also been silenced by our own fear the fear that if we told our stories people would say See it isn't worth it You would be better off dead Staring Back emphatically demonstrates the power of these writers stories to overcome that fear and to break that silence

Who's Yer Daddy? Jim Elledge, David Groff, 2012-12-05 Who's Yer Daddy offers readers of gay male literature a keen and engaging journey In this anthology thirty nine gay authors discuss individuals who have influenced them their inspirational daddies The essayists include fiction writers poets and performance artists both honored masters of contemporary literature and those just beginning to blaze their own trails They find their artistic ancestry among not only literary icons Walt Whitman Oscar Wilde Andr Gide Frank O'Hara James Baldwin Edmund White but also a roster of figures whose creative territories are startlingly wide and vital from Botticelli to Bette Midler to Captain Kirk Some writers chronicle an entire tribal council of mentors others describe a transformative encounter with a particular individual including teachers and friends whose guidance or example cracked open their artistic selves Perhaps most moving are the handful of writers who answered the question literally writing intimately of their own fathers and their literary inheritance This rich volume presents intriguing insights into the contemporary gay literary aesthetic Winner LGBT Nonfiction Anthology Lambda Literary Awards

Memoirs of Well-Being Tanja Reiffenrath, 2016-05-15 As the body politics of life writing in the United States change illness and disability memoirs receive considerable attention Although these narratives are framed by a lack of health they abundantly present health and do so beyond its binary relationship to the pathological This book departs from previous scholarship by bringing into focus the writers representations of cure recovery and healing as well as their reluctance to bring closure to their narratives and align their stories with traditional notions of health These memoirs thus partake in the construction of alternative narratives of illness and disability

The Disabled Body in Contemporary Art Ann Millett-Gallant, 2024-04-04 The second edition offers an essential update to the foundational first edition The Disabled Body in Contemporary Art Featuring updated chapters and case studies this second edition will not only expand on the first edition but will bring a new focus to contemporary disabled artists and their embodied multimedia work

Righting Educational Wrongs Arlene Kanter, Beth Ferri, 2013-12-24 Righting Educational Wrongs brings together the work of scholars from the fields of disability studies in education and law to examine contemporary struggles around inclusion and access to education. Specifically contributors examine policies and practices as they contribute to or undermine educational access for individuals with disabilities. Kanter and Ferri expand our understanding about the potential of legal studies to inform work around disability studies in education and vice versa. Contributors explore the intersections between disability studies, law, and education, forging a theoretical framework for thinking about educational access. Several essays take a critical look at some of the histories of exclusion in education and the ways that these exclusions have been upheld by a variety of educational policies and practices. Other essays reflect on how students with disabilities and their families experience the Individuals with Disabilities in Education Act. By bridging various disciplines, Righting Educational Wrongs offers new insights to allow us to better understand the multiple perspectives and voices within the field of disability studies.

The Oxford Handbook of Modern and Contemporary American Poetry Cary Nelson, 2012-02-16 The Oxford Handbook of Modern and Contemporary American Poetry gives readers a cutting edge introduction to the kaleidoscopic world of American poetry over the last century. Offering a comprehensive approach to the debates that have defined the study of American verse, the twenty-five original essays contained herein take up a wide array of topics: the influence of jazz on the Beats and beyond; European and surrealist influences on style; poetics of the disenfranchised; religion and the national epic; antiwar and dissent poetry; the AIDS epidemic; digital innovations; transnationalism; hip hop and more. Alongside these topics, major interpretive perspectives such as Marxist, psychoanalytic, disability, queer, and ecocritical are incorporated. Throughout the names that have shaped American poetry in the period: Ezra Pound, Wallace Stevens, Marianne Moore, Mina Loy, Sterling Brown, Hart Crane, William Carlos Williams, Langston Hughes, Allen Ginsberg, John Ashbery, Rae Armantrout, Larry Eigner, and others serve as touchstones along the tour of the poetic landscape.

Beauty is a Verb Sheila Black, Jennifer Bartlett, Michael Northen, 2011-10-11 Chosen by the American Library Association as a 2012 Notable Book in Poetry, Beauty is a Verb is a ground-breaking anthology of disability poetry, essays on disability, and writings on the poetics of both Crip Poetry and Disability Poetry. Poems with Disabilities: This is where poetry and disability intersect, overlap, collide, and make peace. BEAUTY IS A VERB is going to be one of the defining collections of the 21st century: the discourse between ability, identity, poetry will never be the same. Ron Silliman, author of In the American Tree: This powerful anthology succeeds at intimately showing disability through the lenses of poetry. What emerges from the book as a whole is a stunningly diverse array of conceptions of self and other. Publishers Weekly starred review: From Beauty and Variations by Kenny Fries: How else can I quench this thirst? My lips travel down your spine, drink the smoothness of your skin. I am searching for the core. What is beautiful? Who decides? Can the laws of nature be defied Your body tells me come close But beauty distances even as it draws me near What does my body want from yours My twisted legs around your neck You bend me back Even though you can't give the bones at birth I wasn't given I let you deep inside You give me what Peeling back my skin you expose my missing bones And my heart long before you came just as broken I don't know who to blame So each night naked on the bed my body doesn't want repair but longs for innocence If innocent despite the flaws I wear I am beautiful

Sheila Black is a poet and children's book writer In 2012 Poet Laureate Philip Levine chose her as a recipient of the Witter Bynner Fellowship Disability activist Jennifer Bartlett is a poet and critic with roots in the Language school Michael Northen is a poet and the editor of Wordgathering A Journal of Poetics and Disability

Bending Over Backwards Lennard J. Davis, 2002-09 This text re-examines issues concerning the relationship between disability and normality in the light of postmodern theory and political activism It argues that disability can become the new prism through which postmodernity examines and defines itself

Bodies on the Line Raphael Allison, 2014-12-01 Bodies on the Line offers the first sustained study of the poetry reading in its most formative period the 1960s Raphael Allison closely examines a vast archive of audio recordings of several key postwar American poets to explore the social and literary context of the sixties poetry reading which is characterized by contrasting differing styles of performance the humanist style and the skeptical strain The humanist style made mainstream by the Beats and their imitators is characterized by faith in the power of presence emotional communion and affect The skeptical strain emphasizes openness of interpretation and multivalent meaning a lack of stability or consistency and ironic detachment By comparing these two dominant styles of reading Allison argues that attention to sixties poetry readings reveals poets struggling between the kind of immediacy and presence that readings suggested and a private retreat from such performance based publicity one centered on the text itself Recordings of Robert Frost Charles Olson Gwendolyn Brooks Larry Eigner and William Carlos Williams all of whom emphasized voice breath and spoken language and who were inveterate professional readers in the sixties expose this struggle in often surprising ways In deconstructing assertions about the role and importance of the poetry reading during this period Allison reveals just how dramatic political and contentious poetry readings could be By discussing how to hear as well as read poetry Bodies on the Line offers startling new vantage points from which to understand American poetry since the 1960s as both performance and text
