Starting Over Feminism And The Politics Of Cultural Critique:

Starting Over Judith Newton, 2012-10-16 For more than a decade Judith Newton has been at the forefront of defining and promoting materialist feminist criticism Starting Over brings together a selection of her essays that chart the establishment of feminist literary criticism in the academy and its relation to other forms of cultural criticism including Marxist post Marxist new historicist and cultural materialist approaches as well as cultural studies The essays in Starting Over have functioned as exemplars of interdisciplinary thinking mapping out the ways in which reading strategies and the constructions of history culture identity change and agency in various materialist theories overlap and the ways in which feminist materialist work both draws upon revises and complicates the vision of nonfeminist materialist critiques They are shaped by an awareness that public knowledge is always informed by the so called private realm of familial and sexual relations and that cultural criticism must bring together investigations of daily behaviors economic and social relations and the dynamics of race class gender and sexual struggle Starting Over is a brilliant synthesis of literature history anthropology the many influential trends in contemporary theory and the politics of feminism

Contesting Feminist Orthodoxies The Feminist Review Collective, 1996-11-14 This internationally acclaimed collection explores the breadth of contemporary feminism covering such areas as feminist theory race class sexuality cultural studies black and third world feminism poetry and politics

Autobiographical Writing Across the Disciplines Diane P. Freedman, Olivia Frey, 2004-01-23 An anthology of the personal autobiographical essays of scholars who have made the life story an important part of their disciplinary research

Macaulay and Son Catherine Hall, 2012-10-30 Explores the emotional intellectual and political roots of Zachary Macaulay the leading abolitionist and his son Thomas's visions of race nation and empire The story moves from late eighteenth century Scotland to the plantations of Jamaica from the new colony of Sierra Leone to India from Leeds and Edinburgh to London The Macaulay family with its intense dynamics and complex relationships provides one thread while the politics of abolition of reform of empire and of history writing is another The contrasting moments of evangelical humanitarianism and liberal imperialism are seen through the writings and careers of father and son P 2 of cover

Presence and Desire Jill Dolan, 1993 Explores current controversies and significant concerns in feminist theater and performance

The Forbidden Modern Nilüfer Göle, 1996 A prominent Turkish sociologist examines the veiling of young university women and the cultural cleavages between the Islamic and Western worlds

Disruptive Voices Michelle Fine, 1992 Provocative essays on the ways feminist approaches to research can unite research practice and social action

Family Fortunes Leonore Davidoff, Catherine Hall, 2018-12-12 First published to wide critical acclaim in 1987 Family Fortunes has become a seminal text in class and gender history and its influence in the field continues to be extensive today The book explores the middle class family and its place in the development of capitalist society It argues that gender and class need to be thought about together that class was always gendered and gender always classed Divided into three parts

the book covers religion and ideology economic structure and opportunity and gender in action across two main case studies the rural counties of Suffolk and Essex and the industrial town of Birmingham This third edition contains a new introductory section by Catherine Hall reflecting on some of the major developments in historical thinking over the last fifteen years and discussing the evolution of key themes such as the family Providing critical insight into the perception of middle class society and gender relations between 1780 and 1850 this volume is essential reading for students of eighteenth and nineteenth century British social history

Feminist Review The Feminist Review Collective, 2005-08-03 A unique combination of the activist and the academic Feminist Review has an acclaimed position within women s studies courses and the women s movement It publishes and reviews work by women featuring articles on feminist theory race class and sexuality women s history cultural studies black and third world feminism poetry photography letters and much more

Justice, Gender, and Affirmative Action Susan D. Clayton, Faye J. Crosby, 2025-10-01 Justice Gender and Affirmative Action by Susan D Clayton and Faye J Crosby offers a deep dive into the complex debates surrounding affirmative action through the lens of gender and social psychology Addressing the persistent gender disparities in the workplace the authors argue for the necessity of affirmative action to combat ingrained biases and structural inequalities that permeate both economic and sociological dimensions They use the theory of relative deprivation to illustrate how societal injustices can be overlooked by both victims and society underscoring the importance of proactive measures like affirmative action The book analyzes various judicial precedents shaping the discourse and application of affirmative action highlighting their impact on women s progress particularly white women who have benefited significantly from these programs With insights drawn from numerous studies the authors argue that affirmative action is essential and propose strategies for its effective implementation emphasizing that these policies should address systemic biases rather than attempt to compensate for perceived deficiencies within marginalized groups Through a meticulous examination of the controversies and criticisms of affirmative action Clayton and Crosby guide readers towards a nuanced understanding of its necessity in promoting justice and equity in contemporary society
