Teaching Green The Elementary Years:

Teaching Green -- The Elementary Years Tim Grant, Gail Littlejohn, 2005-05-01 A complete resource for teaching green to young people from kindergarten through grade five

Teaching Green Tim Grant, Gail Littlejohn, 2004-03-01 A complete resource for teaching green to young people in grades 6-8

Teaching Green - The High School Years Tim Grant, Gail Littlejohn, 2013-09-23 This resource is ideal for anyone working with young people in grades 9-12 whether in schools or in non-formal educational settings. Richly illustrated, it offers fifty teaching strategies that promote learning about natural systems and foster critical thinking about environmental issues both local and global. It contains new approaches to learning strategies for living sustainably and numerous activities that promote interdisciplinary learning. In addition, the book provides suggestions for how best to green individual subject areas, develop integrated learning programs, or replicate exemplary programs created by innovative schools and communities. Containing contributions from over sixty educators from across North America, the book's strength lies in its diverse content. Readers learn how best to apply systems thinking, teach about controversial issues, and use a step-by-step approach to creative problem solving in environmental projects. Also provided are instructions for measuring the ecological footprint of a high school, creating an indoor living system that cleans water, monitoring air quality with lichens, and using green technologies to help green school campuses. Many articles and activities engage teenagers in outdoor learning and community restoration projects. Suggestions are included for connecting students with special needs to the environment around them. Readers will find accessible background information and suggestions for many practical projects and activities. It is sure to appeal to a wide range of teachers, educators, and parents seeking innovative ideas for incorporating green themes into their programs. Tim Grant and Gail Littlejohn are the editors of Green Teacher magazine, North America's award-winning environmental teaching resource.

The end of animal life: a start for ethical debate Franck L.B. Meijboom, Elsbeth N. Stassen, 2023-08-07 Killing animals is common practice, yet it is not morally neutral. The end of animal life is related to many societal and ethical questions and concerns. Questions such as how long should we continue to treat an animal before putting it down? But also the question whether it could be legitimate to kill individual animals for the welfare of the herd or of future generations. The ongoing public and academic discussions on these and on other well-known questions like those related to the killing of animals for food or for scientific purposes show that there is no one standard evaluation of animal life. This book is an edited volume that enables the reader to get a grip on that plurality of views with regard to animals. It helps to deal with the many questions related to the end of animal life. The chapters show how the plurality of views on killing animals is related to moral presuppositions by providing a clear overview of the ethical views on end-of-life decisions. Furthermore, the book contains a number of applied studies of the ethical questions related to killing animals in various practices, including small animal practice, wildlife management, fishing, and fish farming, animal experimentation, and livestock farming. These chapters can help veterinarians, scientists, students, policy makers and many other professionals working with animals to easily get a good overview of the issues at stake and may contribute to responsible decision making with regard to the end of animal life

Food futures: ethics, science and culture I. Anna S. Olsson, Sofia M. Araújo, M. Fátima Vieira, 2023-07-31 Food is at the centre of human existence We eat every day not only to satisfy our physical needs but also as part of cultural and social interaction Food choices and markets shape the agricultural landscape and the cities we live in Whereas what we choose to eat and feed our family is part of who we are a growing number of actors compete to influence our food habits through marketing strategies and nutritional advice And ethical considerations are coupled with every choice over food whether related to production distribution consumption food waste policy in general marketing or advice Given the variety of implications the food problem entails the construction of an inclusive society must redirect the concerns about food in the present to the imagination of future alternatives The search for innovative solutions calls for multidisciplinary critical enquiry and utopian thinking will be instrumental in that regard This book brings together work by scholars in a wide range of disciplines addressing many different topics related to food futures Topics covered include food and literature food waste food communication food policy corporate social responsibility and public procurement in food supply responsible research and innovation in food production as well as sustainability and animal ethics and welfare

Toward Community-Based Learning, 2020-01-29 Toward Community Based Learning contends that the ideal school offers the opportunity to understand reality in a way that connects teaching and education with conditions in the surrounding community and the student s life and concerns This view holds that problem solving requires an understanding and awareness of the whole which can be achieved through direct activities In this manner learning is linked to its natural context with ideal instruction being actively problem oriented holistic and life centered This thought provoking volume offers an essential and comprehensive picture of community based learning in the field of education The book deals with the history of community based learning as well as its present applications including its global successes and difficulties The authors provide numerous pedagogical approaches that are designed to meet the challenges of contemporary education They show how learning is connected with authentic community environments in which students can gain new understandings through solving emerging problems They also demonstrate how teachers can make learning more functional and holistic so that students have the ability to work in new situations within the complex world around them School specific descriptions reveal how teachers and their students have implemented community based projects in the U S A India and China at different times Contributors are Thomas L Alsbury Mary Ewans Linda Hargreaves Susan K Johnsen Eija Kimonen Susan Kobashigawa Karon N LeCompte Suzanne M Nesmith Raimo Nevalainen and Lakia M Scott

Students Learning in Communities Eija Kimonen, Raimo Nevalainen, 2022-04-04 This book examines the interplay between education and society in the 20th and early 21st centuries and addresses philosophical views and educational aims with their associated values for community based learning in the U S A India Russia and China The philosophical background of community based learning in these countries relies both on national philosophical traditions and on reformist ideas in international schools of thought over time opposition to certain international pedagogical ideas surfaced in these countries The authors offer a comprehensive picture of community based learning in education and demonstrate how teachers can make learning more functional and holistic so that students can work in new situations within their complex worlds School specific descriptions reveal how teachers and students implemented community based projects at different times

Education and Society in Comparative Context Eija Kimonen, 2015-12-17 What was the interrelationship between education and society during the twentieth century in the United States and India What is the essence of the historical development of educational policies and social systems in these two countries What philosophical views and developmental courses underlie their outdoor oriented education What are their aims of outdoor oriented education What procedures are connected with their outdoor oriented education These questions are examined in this unique volume This book is divided into three parts The first part creates a context for the comparison of the issues concerning education and society The central point of departure used here regards education as being closely related to the totality of culture and human activity The dialectic process between education and society is realized differently in accordance with the value objectives that provide the background for different societies This comparative educational study uses a historico hermeneutical approach The second part analyzes the social systems and educational policies of the United States and India following their developmental trends and patterns The nature of the relationship between education and society for each country is further brought into focus when it is interpreted from the perspective of the philosophical views pedagogical aims and procedures of twentieth century outdoor oriented education The case studies provide an interesting insight into how changes in educational policy have been reflected in the every day pedagogical procedures used in schools in the United States and India The third part is an analysis and comparison of the phenomena previously presented that are related to education and society through the lenses suggested by sociological theories It compares the dimensions of the interrelationship between education and society from the standpoint of outdoor oriented education in the two countries during the twentieth century This thought provoking volume is intended for anybody interested in the interplay between education and society in all its complexity It offers a fascinating journey into the past and present of the issues that have defined the development of education and society in the United States and India
