Teaching Nursing Homes The Nursing Perspective:

Teaching Nursing Homes Norma R. Small, Mary B. Walsh, 1988 Critical Perspectives on Aging Meredith Minkler, Carroll Estes, 2020-11-25 This unique volume brings together 20 critical essays on aging within the context of the broad social political and economic factors that help shape and determine the realities of growing old Rather than viewing aging in isolation it explores the social creation of old age dependency and the profound influence of race gender and social class on what it means to grow old It looks too at such topics as the biomedicalization of aging the role of business and the media in changing societal images of the old the fact and fiction behind senior power the multibillion dollar nursing home industry and the role of advanced capitalist nations in creating economic dependency among elders in the Third World

Health Care for the Elderly Kathleen G. Andreoli, Leigh A. Musser, Stanley J. Reiser, 2014-04-04 Leading experts in health policy gerontology economics and ethics explore the potential impact of the growing number of elderly on our health care system They provide valuable information on the continuing debate over national health care policy for the elderly versus a more decentralized Report of the Advisory Panel on Alzheimer's Disease Advisory Panel on Alzheimer's Disease (U.S.), 1990 National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1987

Vitalizing Long-term Care Stuart F. Spicker, Stanley R. Ingman, 1984 Aging and Health Care Marcia G. Ory, Kathleen Bond, 2024-05-10 Of all the problems associated with a rapidly growing aging population health care demands top priority Research on health care for older people requires an understanding of the basic principles of aging and its related social processes while popular assumptions on the subject are often ill informed and are based more on misconceptions about aging than on scientific knowledge Originally published in 1989 Aging and Health Care focuses on the most urgent health care problems of older people at the time and explores possible solutions Drawing on up to date social and behavioral research it provides a sound basis on which to build practices and policies on aging and health care The contributors examine the complex relationships among aging persons their health care needs and the current health care and support systems Individual chapters contribute in particular to our understanding of the interactions of the health care system with individual aging processes and the interdependence between the informal and formal care systems With its emphasis on the interrelationships of health care with the biological psychological and social changes that people experience as they grow older Aging and Health Care will still be of historical interest to those studying in social science aging and public health
