Technology and Vocational Education for Sustainable Development Margarita Pavlova,2008-12-14 Empowerment is the overarching idea used in this book The term has a variety of meanings in different sociocultural and political contexts including self strength control self power self reliance own choice life of dignity in accordance with one s values capable of fighting for one s rights independence own decision making being free awakening and capability The World Bank 2002 p 10 However the World Bank report observed that most definitions focus on issues of gaining power and control over decisions and resources that determine the quality of one s life p 10 This interpretation of empowerment provides a useful starting point for the development of the series of interconnected arguments explored here Establishment of the basis for understanding identifying and developing strategies through education necessary for individuals to be able to make choices that influence the quality of their lives is the main aim of this book There are a number of assumptions and boundaries that frame this analysis First the book focuses on agents however empowerment is often conceptualised in terms of relationships between agency and structure e g Alsop Bertelsen H land 2006 Agency could be defined as an actor s or group s ability to make purposeful choices that is the actor is able to envisage and purposively choose options p 11

Geography, Culture and Education

Rod Gerber, M. Williams, 2013-04-17 An important challenge for our world is to understand how cultural understanding and geographical education can be linked and used to improve the global society We readily accept that our world is constituted by numerous groups of people who are organised by committees tribes regions nations or continental entities How these groups interact show concern for each others well being and progress is still an unpredictable activity Intercultural tensions racial conflicts and religious clashes have all led to the challenges for enacting a constructive world Fundamental perspectives challenge moderate ones and the resulting tensions produce elements of fear doubt and distrust The extremist views of terrorist groups exaggerate these tensions to the extent that some different cultural groups do not prefer to live in peace with their neighbours Deep seated intercultural tensions predominate over peaceful co existence Such challenges may easily dominate the interaction between racial groups tribes indigenous peoples and colonisers However we know that through the sound practice of intercultural understanding cultural groups in different contexts around the world can interact and co exist successfully and productively In fact they can work together to seek to improve their society This does not mean that one group will dominate the other Rather it means that both groups work together to improve their collective lives Education has played an important role in the long term achievement of such harmony This volume has been developed to demonstrate that geographical education can be a potent force in the development of cultural understanding in different societies

Education, Knowledge and Truth David Carr, 2003-09-02 In the 1960s educational philosophers showed enormous interest in the nature of knowledge and the curriculum This work responds to the need to reinstate conceptual problems of truth knowledge and the curriculum on the agenda for debate

Education, Autonomy and Democratic Citizenship David Bridges, 2002-11-01 Across the globe educators are being required to respond to a changing political environment New nations emerge out of the collapse of old empires new democracies struggle out of old structures of oppression Driven on by the fierce competitiveness of the tiger economies of the east old social welfare based democracies are transformed into new market led enterprise societies The essays in this international collection are a response from twenty two educators to these changes and to the reassessment that they provoke of some of the fundamental principles which shape educational thought and practice They focus in particular on four key clusters of issues to do with the role of education in cultivating national identity Authors from political settings as culturally distant as Lithuania and Taiwan consider what role if any nationalistic education might play in the context of a democratic liberal education market principles Contributors offer different perspectives on the internationally pervasive application of the principles of the market economy to education and the consequent commodification of learning personal autonomy Different dimensions of the contested notion of autonomy are examined along with the related discourses of edification and empowerment democratic citizenship From post Soviet Russia to the new South Africa in schools and in the context of professional training educators examine what education for democratic citizenship might mean in practice and tease out some of the conflicts of principle which are raised in its implementation The contributors are distinguished scholars drawn from every continent They write consciously for an international readership and there is constant cross reference to developments in different parts of the world All are practitioners in education sharing an interest in the philosophical issues underlying social change The philosophical discussion is clearly rooted in and referred back to the world of educational practice and its political context

Spirituality, Philosophy and Education David Carr, John Haldane, 2003-12-16 The contributors of this collection are all highly respected educational practitioners policymakers and philosophers The book examines the meaning role and possibilities of spirituality in education from a wide range of perspectives Skills Development for Inclusive and Sustainable Growth in Developing Asia-Pacific Rupert Maclean, Shanti Jagannathan, Jouko Sarvi, 2012-12-09 Focusing on the Asia Pacific region which in recent years has been the engine of global economic growth this volume surveys trends and prospects in technical and vocational education and training TVET with particular reference to achieving inclusive growth and the greening of economies Underlying the increasing pressure for new models of TVET provision is the rapid pace of technological change demand for a work force which is highly responsive to evolving needs and a transforming market place that calls for higher order skills and lifelong learning The book proposes a re engineered modernized TVET system that fosters an innovative approach which enhances the employability of workers as well as the sustainability of their livelihoods The book includes contributions from leading policy makers researchers and practitioners including those in the private sector in analyzing and forecasting the most urgent priorities in skills development The book argues for creative approaches to TVET design and delivery particularly with a view to improve job prospects and meeting the goals of inclusion sustainable development and social cohesion Addressing issues such as the chronic mismatches between skills acquired and actual skills required in the work place the volume proposes diversified approaches towards workforce development and partnerships with the private sector to improve the quality and relevance of skills development The new imperatives created by greening economies and responses required in skills development and training are addressed Developing TVET is a high priority for governments in the Asia Pacific region as they seek to achieve long term sustainable growth since the continued success of their economic destinies depend on it The volume also includes an emerging framework for skills development for inclusive and sustainable growth in the Asia and Pacific region The Journal of Aesthetic Education ,1993 Includes special issues Mindfulness and Learning Terry Hyland, 2011-08-21 In recent decades education at all levels has been seriously impoverished by a growing obsession with standards targets skills and competences According to this model only a circumscribed range of basic cognitive skills and competences are the business of education whose main role is to provide employability credentials for people competing for jobs in the global economy The result is a one dimensional economic and bleakly utilitarian conception of the educational task In Mindfulness and Learning Celebrating the Affective Dimension of Education Terry Hyland advances the thesis that education stands in need of a rejuvenation of its affective function the impact it has on the emotional social moral and personal development of learners Drawing on the Buddhist conception of mindfulness he advances a powerful argument for redressing this imbalance by enhancing the affective domain of learning Mindfulness and Learning Celebrating the Affective Dimension of Education shows how the concept and practice of mindfulness non judgmental present moment awareness and experience can enrich learning at all levels Mindfulness thus contributes to the enhanced achievement of general educational goals and helps remedy the gross deficiency of the affective emotional aspects of contemporary theory and practice The author outlines a mindfulness based affective education MBE programme and shows how it might be introduced into educational provision from the early years to adult education with a view to harmonising the cognitive affective balance across the system Liberalism, Education and Schooling T.H.

McLaughlin, 2017-03-27 A tribute collection of essays edited by author's colleagues and friends Transforming Teaching Through the Cycle of Care Mona Beth Zignego, 2025-04-21 In Transforming Teaching Through the Cycle of Care A Comprehensive Guide to Empowering Education Through Relationships Listening Thinking and Responding author Mona Beth Zignego introduces a groundbreaking model that reshapes the way educators approach their profession Drawing from decades of experience as a teacher mentor and researcher Zignego offers a unique perspective on the vital role of care in the classroom Through her Cycle of Care model she breaks down the process of care into four critical elements relationships listening thinking and responding This powerful framework is designed to help teachers not only support their students academically but also foster environments of trust empathy and social justice Zignego dives deeply into real life examples from her own experience and research illustrating both the profound impact of care on student outcomes and the devastating effects of its absence From stories of students like Emily who struggled under an uncaring teacher's response to educators like Mr Price who embodied the very essence of care in his practice Transforming Teaching Through the Cycle of Care illuminates the path toward transformative education A key focus of the book is the concept of self directed care for teachers a practice Zignego argues is essential for preventing burnout and for sustaining a healthy effective teaching career She acknowledges the emotional physical and professional challenges teachers face and provides practical tools to help them navigate these challenges while maintaining a caring student centered approach With exercises like the Emotionator Tool and the Teaching Identity Map she guides teachers in reflecting on their own needs biases and emotional well being ensuring that care is directed not only at students but also at themselves This book is an invaluable resource for teachers administrators and anyone involved in education who wants to cultivate a nurturing and inclusive learning environment Zignego s insights remind us that care is the foundation upon which all meaningful education is built and that by embracing care in teaching we can create classrooms where every student feels seen valued and capable of success Whether you are a new teacher seeking guidance or an experienced educator looking to deepen your practice Transforming Teaching Through the Cycle of Care offers the inspiration and tools you need to transform your teaching through the power of care Perfect for courses such as Foundations of Culturally Responsive Teaching Principles of Classroom Management and Relationships Introduction to Social and Emotional Learning in Education Educating for Equity and Social Justice Foundations of Culturally and Linguistically Responsive Practice Introduction to School Leadership and Improvement Teaching in a Diverse Society Supportive Classroom Communities Sociocultural Perspectives in Education and Teacher Leadership and Professional Collaboration

Moral Education and Pluralism Mal Leicester, Sohan Modgil, 2005-08-19 Volume IV looks at the development of moral education with particular relation to the context of cultural pluralism Taking a theoretical approach it discusses philosophical issues of moral relativism as well as the application of theory to good practice Education in Europe Christoph Wulf, Values Education and Quality Teaching Terence Lovat, Ron Toomey, 2009-04-07 Some revision of public schooling history is necessary to challenge the dominant mythology that public schools were established on the grounds of values neutrality In fact those responsible for the foundations of public education in Australia were sufficiently pragmatic to know that its success relied on its charter being in accord with public sentiment Part of the pragmatism was in convincing those whose main experience of education had been through some form of church based education that state based education was capable of meeting the same ends Hence the documents of the 1870s and 1880s that contained the charters of the various state and territory systems witness to a breadth of vision about the scope of education Beyond the standard goals of literacy and numeracy education was said to be capable of assuring personal morality for each individual and a suitable citizenry for the soon to be new nation As an instance the NSW Public Instruction Act of 1880 cf NSW 1912 under the rubric of religious teaching stressed the need for students to be inculcated into the values of their society including understanding the role that religious values had played in forming that society s legal codes and social ethics The notion therefore that public education is part of a deep and ancient heritage around values neutrality is mistaken and in need of serious revision The evidence suggests that public education s initial conception was of being the complete educator not only of young people s minds but of their inner character as well

The Routledge International Handbook of Life and Values Education in Asia John Chi-Kin Lee, Kerry J Kennedy, 2024-06-28 This Handbook provides a comprehensive look at the educational scope of life and values that characterize 21st century Asia as well as those values shared across cultures Some values are deeply resonant with the region s past while others reflect modernity and the new contexts in which Asian societies find themselves Exploring these values of different types and the way they are constructed in Eastern and Western contexts the contributors delve into the diversity of religious moral and social education to promote greater understanding across cultures While a range of values is identified here there is no single set of values that can be applied to all people in all contexts The time has long gone even for single societies when values can be imposed Yet this Handbook emphasizes both the extent and importance of values to individuals and their societies how they respond to these values may provide the key to better and more caring societies and to better lives for all Academics and teachers will find this Handbook resourceful because it raises important theoretical issues related to social values and their formation in distinctive contexts and provides novel insights into the diverse educational landscape in Asia Policymakers and educators will also find this text helpful in learning to think about new ways to improve the quality of people s lives
