Ender, Raymond A. Kimball, Rachel M. Sondheimer, Jakob C. Bruhl, 2021-05-12 Teaching and Learning the West Point Way is a unique compendium of the best teaching and learning practices from one of the most celebrated and storied undergraduate teaching and learning environments and institutions in America the United States Military Academy at West Point New York USA Drawing on the broad academic curriculum that the students follow at West Point in addition to military leadership character development and competitive athletics this book describes proven and effective undergraduate pedagogy across a number of academic disciplines Case studies strategies and techniques empirical teaching and learning research results syllabi and assignments developed and deployed by West Point faculty are included which faculty in other higher education institutions can adapt and apply to their own programs and courses An accompanying companion website provides additional syllabi course guides lesson plans PowerPoint activities and lecture slides as well as videos of the editors and authors discussing how key concepts in their chapters might be applied in different teaching and learning contexts This is an opportunity to gain an in depth insight into the programs and practices inside one of the world s premier leadership development and educational institutions It should appeal to new and experienced faculty and administrators interested in course creation and syllabus design across a wide range of disciplines in educational institutions and military academies across the globe The Foreign Language Educator in Society Timothy G. Reagan, Terry A. Osborn, 2001-12 Introduces teachers future teachers of foreign langs to what they need to know understand about lang lang attitudes lang practices lang rights lang policy and related issues Brings together foreign lang ed and critical pedagogy Designed for Teaching World Languages in Middle and Secondary Schools Timothy Reagan, Terry A. Osborn, 2025-11-04 Teaching World Languages in Middle and Secondary Schools A Critical Introduction is an introductory textbook for teacher education candidates at either the undergraduate or graduate levels who are seeking certification to teach a world foreign language Making Russians Darius Staliūnas, 2007-01-01 Making Russians is an innovative study dealing with Russian nationalities policy in Lithuania and Belarus in the aftermath of the 1863 Uprising The book devotes most attention to imperial confessional and language policy for in Russian discourse at that time it was religion and language that were considered to be the most important criteria determining nationality The account of Russian nationalities policy presented here differs considerably from the assessments usually offered by historians from east central Europe primarily because the author provides a more subtle description of the aims of imperial nationalities policy rejecting the claim that the Russian authorities consistently sought to assimilate members of other national groups At the same time the interpretation this study offers opens a discussion with western and Russian historians especially those who lay heavy emphasis on discourse analysis This study asserts that the rhetoric of officials and certain public campaigners was influenced by a concept of political correctness which condemned all forms of ethnic denationalisation A closer look at the implementation of discriminatory policy allows us to discern within Russian imperial policy more attempts to assimilate or otherwise repress the cultures of non dominant national groups than it is possible to appreciate simply by analysing discourse alone
