years films television series and music videos increasingly have shown women and men who transgress the traditional gender dichotomy One of the central ideas behind this volume is the attempt to bring together explorations of gendering in different audiovisual media The contributions seek to explore in particular shifting constructions of femininity and masculinity and aim to provide further insight into the media and genre specific ways of constructing perpetuating and challenging gender concepts in audiovisual media taking into consideration the interplay of the different levels on which gendering occurs in them Thus two articles in the present volume address the processes of constructing perpetuating and challenging notions of femininity and masculinity in music videos while other contributions are dedicated to the analysis of gendering in films and or TV series

He Was Some Kind of a Man Roderick McGillis, 2011-04-08 He Was Some Kind of a Man Masculinities in the B Western explores the construction and representation of masculinity in low budget western movies made from the 1930s to the early 1950s These films contained some of the mid twentieth century s most familiar names especially for youngsters cowboys such as Roy Rogers Hopalong Cassidy and Red Ryder The first serious study of a body of films that was central to the youth of two generations He Was Some Kind of a Man combines the author s childhood fascination with this genre with an interdisciplinary scholarly exploration of the films influence on modern views of masculinity McGillis argues that the masculinity offered by these films is less one dimensional than it is plural perhaps contrary to expectations Their deeply conservative values are edged with transgressive desire and they construct a male figure who does not fit into binary categories such as insider outsider or masculine feminine Particularly relevant is the author s discussion of George W Bush as a cowboy and how his aspirations to cowboy ideals continue to shape American policy This engagingly written book will appeal to the general reader interested in film westerns and contemporary culture as well as to scholars in film studies gender studies children s literature and auto biography

The Figure of the Migrant in Contemporary European Cinema Temenuga Trifonova, 2020-07-09 The Figure of the Migrant in Contemporary European Cinema explores contemporary debates around the concepts of Europe and European identity through an examination of recent European films dealing with various aspects of globalization the refugee crisis labour migration the resurgence of nationalism and ethnic violence neoliberalism post colonialism with a particular attention to the figure of the migrant and the ways in which this figure challenges us to rethink Europe and its core Enlightenment values citizenship justice ethics liberty tolerance and hospitality in a post national context of ephemerality volatility and contingency that finds people desperately looking for firmer markers of identity The book argues that a compelling case can be made for re orienting the study of contemporary European cinema around the figure of the migrant viewed both as a symbolic figure representing post national citizenship urbanization the gap between ethics and justice and as a figure occupying an increasingly central place in European cinema in general rather than only in what is usually called migrant and diasporic cinema By drawing attention to the structural and affective affinities between the experience of migrants and non migrants Europeans and non Europeans Trifonova shows that it is becoming increasingly difficult to separate stories about migration from stories about life under neoliberalism in general
