Star Is Born 1937

William A. Wellman

Star Is Born 1937:

A Star is Born (1937) William A. Wellman, 1937 Esther Blodgett is just another starry eyed farm kid trying to break into the movies Waitressing at a Hollywood party she catches the eye of alcoholic star Norman Maine is given a test and is caught up in the Hollywood glamor machine

A Star Is Born Lorna Luft, Jeffrey Vance, 2025-04-08 New York Times bestselling author and daughter of Judy Garland tells the story of A Star Is Born at once the crowning achievement and greatest disappointment in her mother's legendary career This is a vivid account of a film classic's production loss and reclamation A Star Is Born the classic Hollywood tale about a young talent rising to superstardom and the downfall of her mentor lover along the way has never gone out of style It has seen five film adaptations but none compares to the 1954 version starring Judy Garland in her greatest role But while it was the crowning performance of the legendary entertainer's career the production turned into one of the most talked about in movie history The story which depicts the dark side of fame addiction loss and suicide paralleled Garland's own tumultuous life in many ways While hitting alarmingly close to home for the fragile star it ultimately led to a superlative performance one that was nominated for an Academy Award but lost in one of the biggest upsets in Oscar history Running far too long for the studio's tastes Warner Bros notoriously slashed extensive amounts of footage from the finished print leaving A Star is Born in tatters and breaking the heart of both the film's star and director George Cukor Today with a director's cut reconstructed from previously lost scenes and audio the 1954 A Star is Born has taken its deserved place among the most critically acclaimed movies of all time and continues to inspire each new generation that discovers it Now Lorna Luft daughter of Judy Garland and the film's producer Sid Luft tells the story of the production and of her mother's fight to save her career as only she could Teaming with film historian Jeffrey Vance A Star Is Born is a vivid and refreshingly candid account of the crafting loss and restoration of a movie classic complemented by a trove of images from the family collection taken both on and off the set The book also includes essays on the other screen adaptations of A Star Is Born to round out a complete history of a story that has remained a Hollywood favorite for close to a century

Hollywood Shot by Shot Norman K. Denzin, 2017-09-04 To what extent have Hollywood feature films shaped the meanings that Americans attach to alcoholics their families and the alcoholic condition To what extent has the mass culture of the movie industry itself been conceptually shaped by a broad external societal discourse Norman Denzin brings to his life long study of alcoholism a searching interest in how cultural texts signify and lend themselves to interpretation within a social nexus Both historical and diachronic in his approach Denzin identifies five periods in the alcoholism films made between 1932 and the end of the 1980s and offers a detailed critical reading of thirty seven films produced during these six decades

Harnessing the Technicolor Rainbow Scott Higgins, 2007-12-01 Like Dorothy waking up over the rainbow in the Land of Oz Hollywood discovered a vivid new world of color in the 1930s The introduction of three color Technicolor technology in 1932 gave filmmakers a powerful tool with which to guide viewers attention punctuate turning points and express emotional subtext Although many producers and filmmakers initially resisted the use of color Technicolor designers led by the legendary Natalie Kalmus developed an aesthetic that complemented the classical Hollywood filmmaking style while still offering innovative novelty By the end of the 1930s color in film was thoroughly harnessed to narrative and it became elegantly expressive without threatening the coherence of the film's imaginary world Harnessing the Technicolor Rainbow is the first scholarly history of Technicolor aesthetics and technology as well as a thoroughgoing analysis of how color works in film Scott Higgins draws on extensive primary research and close analysis of well known movies including Becky Sharp A Star Is Born Adventures of Robin Hood and Gone with the Wind to show how the Technicolor films of the 1930s forged enduring conventions for handling color in popular cinema He argues that filmmakers and designers rapidly worked through a series of stylistic modes based on the demonstration restraint and integration of color and shows how the color conventions developed in the 1930s have continued to influence filmmaking to the present day Higgins also formulates a new vocabulary and a method of analysis for capturing the often elusive functions and effects of color that in turn open new avenues for the study of film form and lay a foundation for new work on color in cinema

Moving Image Cataloging

Martha M. Yee, 2007-10-30 Libraries archives and museums hold a wide variety of moving images all of which require the same level of attention to issues of organization and access as their print counterparts Consequently the people who create collection level records and metadata for these resources need to be equally conversant in the principles of cataloging Martha Yee covers both descriptive AACR2R AMIM and FIAF rules and subject cataloging with a focus on LCSH In the process the reader is encouraged to think critically and to be prepared to make decisions in ambiguous situations where solutions to problems are not always obvious or clearly dictated by specific rules

The Last Word

Justin Gautreau, 2020-10-02 The Last Word argues that the Hollywood novel opened up space for cultural critique of the film industry at a time when the industry lacked the capacity to critique itself While the young studio system worked tirelessly to burnish its public image in the wake of celebrity scandal several industry insiders wrote fiction to fill in what newspapers and fan magazines left out Throughout the 1920s and 1930s these novels aimed to expose the invisible machinery of classical Hollywood cinema including not only the evolving artifice of the screen but also the promotional discourse that complemented it As likeminded filmmakers in the 1940s and 1950s gradually brought the dark side of the industry to the screen however the Hollywood novel found itself struggling to live up to its original promise of delivering the unfilmable By the 1960s desperate to remain relevant the genre had devolved into little more than erotic fantasy of movie stars behind closed doors perhaps the only thing the public couldn't already find elsewhere Still given their unique ability to speak beyond the institutional restraints of their time these earlier works offer a window into the industry's dynamic creation and re-creation of itself in the public imagination
