Book provides all the information you need to help your child have a positive calm and happy school experience      Literacy in Early Childhood and Primary Education Claire McLachlan,2013 Provides a comprehensive reader friendly introduction to literacy teaching and learning exploring both theoretical underpinnings and practical strategies      Beginning Reading Yola Center,2005-10-21 Provides research based data about effective literacy instruction processes      Starting English Teaching Robert Jeffcoate,2002-11-01 This book is aimed at new teachers and at teachers new to the teaching of English Its main focus is the secondary classroom but primary teachers too will find here much to interest them Taking the National Curriculum in English as a starting point but not necessarily the last word on the subject Robert Jeffcoate looks at the theoretical issues involved in thinking about what English means defining goals and planning the curriculum He shows the how to go about developing a repertoire of skills in the different curriculum areas from drama teaching to teaching about the language His suggestions are illustrated with detailed examples of classroom practice and with many quotations from pupils own work

Children Starting School Hilary Fabian,2013-10-18 Drawing on research theory and practice this book presents ways in which practitioners working in partnership with parents can give children a successful start to school Written in an accessible style the book helps early years practitioners planning transition programs for new children and offers ideas for developing their professional practice when working with families Starting school at the age of four or five is recognized as a major adjustment in a child s life that can determine his or her future success in education This book highlights the factors that influence children s early adjustment including their social and emotional wellbeing so that schools can learn the best way to offer support Practitioners managers and those studying on early childhood courses will gain an understanding of the complexity and diversity of transition and will learn how they can make this a stress free time for the children families and professionals involved      Encyclopedia of Education and Human Development Stephen J. Farenga,Daniel Ness,2015-07-17 This comprehensive and exhaustive reference work on the subject of education from the primary grades through higher education combines educational theory with practice making it a unique contribution to the educational reference market Issues related to human development and learning are examined by individuals whose specializations are in diverse areas including education psychology sociology philosophy law and medicine The book focuses on important themes in education and human development Authors consider each entry from the perspective of its social and political conditions as well as historical underpinnings The book also explores the people whose contributions have played a seminal role in the shaping of educational ideas institutions and organizations and includes entries on these institutions and organizations This work integrates numerous theoretical frameworks with field based applications from many areas in educational research      What African American Parents Want Educators to Know Gail L. Thompson,2003-05-30 Thompson designed an empirical study to gather feedback from African American parents on numerous issues pertaining to their children s schooling experiences The results discussed in this book can be utilized to improve the schooling experiences of African American children nationwide

The African American parents guardians who participated in this study were biological parents in two parent homes single parents grandparents foster parents and stepparents who were rearing school age children Some had been deterred from completing their own formal education as a result of peer pressure temptation outside of school or stressful circumstances Others had positive schooling experiences and stable childhoods Regardless of the differences in their background experiences the majority of these parents or guardians were single minded about wanting a better life for their children believing that a good K 12 education and college education were crucial to their children s advancement And while most believed resolutely in the hope offered by the public school system they recognized that schools couldn t do it all African American parents and guardians are willing to work with teachers and administrators to ensure that their children receive a quality education Yet if the historic achievement gap is ever to be eradicated teachers administrators researchers and policymakers must be more willing to view African American parents guardians as assets African American parents guardians must be invited to verbalize their concerns and those concerns must be taken seriously to effect meaningful and lasting change in the public school system
