McCormack, Susan Lee Pasquarelli, 2009-12-01 Elementary teachers of reading have one essential goal to prepare diverse children to be independent strategic readers in real life This innovative text helps preservice and inservice teachers achieve this goal by providing knowledge and research based strategies for teaching phonemic awareness phonics fluency vocabulary all aspects of comprehension and writing in response to literature Special features include sample lessons and photographs of literacy rich classrooms Uniquely interactive the text is complete with pencil and paper exercises and reproducibles that facilitate learning making it ideal for course use Readers are invited to respond to reflection questions design lessons and start constructing a professional teaching portfolio Teaching Literature in High School Thomas M. McCann, John V. Knapp, 2021-12-15 In looking for an approach to teaching literature in high school teachers largely fall back on the methods that they had experienced as students These practices often involve a teacher assigning a complex work of literature and then assessing students reading through in class recitations or quizzes Teachers typically dominate the discourse and sometimes take charge of the task by reading aloud whole swathes of texts to their students We know from our own experience as teachers supervisors of teachers and student teachers and researchers in the field that students are often bored with these approaches and teachers are frequently frustrated with learners unenthusiastic responses to the teachers favorite works of literature There has to be a better way This book offers approaches to engage students in productive procedures for reading complex texts and provides sample activities to allow learners to practice those procedures
