

PRACTICUM IN ELEMENTARY TEACHING

Observation

- The practicum experience begins with observation.
- The student teacher should observe the classroom teacher to get a sense of the daily routine, curriculum, and classroom management techniques.

Lesson planning

- As the practicum experience progresses, the student teacher should begin to develop lesson plans for the classroom teacher to review and provide feedback on.

Classroom management

- Classroom management is a critical part of the practicum experience.
- The student teacher should observe the classroom teacher and learn techniques for managing student behavior.

Student teaching

- As the student teacher gains more experience and confidence, they will begin to teach lessons independently.
- The classroom teacher will provide feedback on the lessons and offer suggestions for improvement.

Reflection

- Throughout the practicum experience, the student teacher should engage in reflection.
- Reflection involves thinking about what is working well and what needs improvement and making changes to teaching practices based on these insights.

Professionalism

- Professionalism is essential in the practicum experience.
- The student teacher should dress professionally, arrive on time, and be prepared for each day.
- They should also communicate effectively with the classroom teacher, students, and parents.

Feedback

- The student teacher should actively seek out feedback from the classroom teacher, students, and parents.
- This feedback can help the student teacher identify areas for improvement and build on their strengths.
