The Future of Educational Change Ciaran Sugrue, 2008-02-19 This timely book provides a systematic overview and critique of contemporary approaches to educational change from some of the best known writers and scholars in the field including Andy Hargreaves Larry Cuban Ivor Goodson Jeannie Oakes Milbrey McLaughlin Judyth Sachs and Ann Lieberman Divided into four sections the book addresses the key themes What has been the impact of educational change How has the impact differed in different circumstances What are the new directions for research on policy and practice How can we link research policy and practice By highlighting critical lessons from the past the book aims to set an agenda for policy related research and the future trajectories of educational reforms while also taking into account the dominant rhetorics of international social movements and the refracted nature of policy agenda at national and local levels This book addresses issues which with many educators around the world are currently grappling It will appeal to academics and researchers in the field as well as providing an introduction to key issues and themes in Educational Change for graduates and practitioners

The Ambiguity of Teaching to the Test William A. Firestone, Roberta Y. Schorr, Lora F. Monfils, 2004-04-12 Testing is one of the most controversial of all state and federal educational policies The effects of testing are quite ambiguous The same test may lead to different consequences in different circumstances and teachers may use very different strategies to prepare students for tests Although most experts agree that mandatory testing leads to teaching to the test they disagree about whether it leads to meaningless drill wasted time de professionalizing teachers and demotivating students or to more challenging and thoughtful curricula more engaging teaching increased student motivation and increased accountability To help sort through this ambiguity and provide a firmer basis for decisions The Ambiguity of Teaching to the Test Standards Assessment and Educational Reform offers a hard look at the effects of state testing and thoroughly examines the ambiguity of test preparation and how test preparation practices are influenced by what teachers know and the leadership coming from the school and district Drawing on data from a three year study of New Jersey s testing policy in elementary mathematics and science it helps to explain the variety of ways that teachers modify their teaching in response to state tests raises important questions and offers useful guidance on how state policymakers and local and district school administrators can implement policies that will improve educational equity and performance for all students It also offers an in depth analysis of classroom practices that should inform teachers and teacher educators whose goal is to meaningfully implement conceptually based teaching practices This comprehensive look at the statewide variation in testing practice features a data based non ideological treatment of how testing affects teachers in a field characterized by ideologically driven beliefs and by anecdotes an extensive and well integrated combination of qualitative and quantitative data sources that provide a statewide overview as well as an in depth analysis of teachers and classrooms a careful analysis of the variety of forms of teaching to the test and a multilevel exploration of how a variety of personal and leadership factors can influence teaching to the test This is an important book for researchers professionals and students in educational testing educational policy educational administration mathematics and science education educational reform and the politics and sociology of education It will also prove useful for state policymakers school and district leaders and teacher educators and curriculum specialists who are making decisions about how to design and respond to new testing systems

Teaching to Diversity Jennifer Katz, 2012-07-06 In Teaching to Diversity Dr Jennifer Katz synthesizes the research and 16 years experience of teaching in inclusive classrooms and schools to provide answers to several questions How do I make inclusion work for ALL students What are the foundational best practices of a truly inclusive learning community How does one create such a community The author pulls together in an organized way a three block model of universal design for learning UDL and suggests a step by step approach for implementing it This framework includes Block One Social and Emotional Learning details ways to build compassionate learning communities K 12 in which all students feel safe and valued and develop a positive self concept sense of belonging and respect for diverse others Block Two Inclusive Instructional Practice includes a framework for planning units from K 12 and explains instructional and management practices for teaching assessing grading and reporting in UDL Classrooms Block Three Systems and Structures suggests strategies for creating inclusive learning communities and explores ways in which resource teachers student services personnel and school administrators can support and create socially and academically inclusive schools and classrooms The three block model of UDL can empower educators with the knowledge skills and confidence required to teach diverse learners in the same classroom including those who have previously been excluded Ultimately it is about creating classrooms and schools that heal by teaching to the heart mind and spirit of every student

Teaching to Difference? The Challenges and Opportunities of Diversity in the Classroom Nicole E. Johnson, Stacey-Ann Wilson, 2014-08-11 Teaching to Difference The Challenges and Opportunities of Diversity in the Classroom offers a comparative perspective on the pedagogical and cultural issues in managing differences and diversity in the classroom Using reflections and experiential analysis the volume presents perspectives on the experiences of teaching and learning through differences of race ethnicity culture sexual orientation and gender language special needs and geography from contexts such as the United States Canada New Zealand and Israel The reflections are presented from the viewpoint of minority teaching professionals and white educators teaching diverse student populations ranging from K 12 to college students and pre service teachers This volume provides a lens into the questions reflections and experiences of teachers and practitioners when they encounter difference in the classroom The essays highlight the trepidation and frustration educators feel when they perceive themselves to be ill prepared for diversity in their classrooms However there are also essays of triumph and success when teachers feel they have reached their students in a meaningful way Additionally through the experiences depicted teachers describe their processes of connecting to students how they determined what worked and did not work in their journey and what they learned from the experience that continues to impact them
