

A Declaration by the Representatives of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA in General Congress assembled

SLAVERY

AND THE

FOUNDERS

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, & to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such Principles & organizing its Powers in such Manner, as shall seem them most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light & transient Causes; but when the Population of any State shall have manifested a unanimous Consent, they are to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such Principles & organizing its Powers in such Manner, as shall seem them most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness.

RACE AND LIBERTY

IN THE AGE OF

JEFFERSON

It is the duty of the People to throw off every such Government, in which a long train of abuses, usurpations, & oppressive invasions of their rights, have appeared, the more manifestly that the design is to reduce them to absolute Despotism. It is their duty to throw off such Government, & to provide new Guards for their future security. Not that it is their duty to throw off every Government, & to provide new Guards for their future security. Not that it is their duty to throw off every Government, & to provide new Guards for their future security.
