between the Orthodox and Catholic Churches in the Slavic speaking lands In the fourteenth century the legend spread from Dalmatia to Bohemia and Poland where Glagolitic monasteries were established to honor the Apostle of the Slavs Jerome and the rite and letters he created The myth of Jerome s apostolate among the Slavs gained many supporters among the learned and spread far and wide reaching Italy Spain Switzerland and England Grounded in extensive archival research Verkholtantsev examines the sources and trajectory of the legend of Jerome s Slavic fellowship within a wider context of European historical and theological thought This unique volume will appeal to medievalists Slavicists scholars of religion those interested in saints cults and specialists of philology Christian Arabic Versions of Daniel Miriam Lindgren Hjälml,2016-04-26 In Christian Arabic Versions of Daniel Miriam L Hj lml provides an insight into the Arabic transmission of the biblical Book of Daniel This book offers an inventory and a classification of extant manuscripts as well as a detailed account of the translation techniques employed in the early manuscripts The use of the texts is discussed and the various versions are compared with liturgical Bible material Miriam L Hj lml shows the importance of Arabic as a tool for understanding the development of the religious heritage of Christian communities under Muslim rule Arabic became an indispensable part of the everyday life of many Near Eastern Christians and was increasingly used next to the established liturgical languages which remained the standard measure of the biblical text The A to Z of Sacred Music Joseph P. Russia in the Early Modern World Donald Ostrowski,2022-01-25 A fundamental problem in studying early modern Russian history is determining Russia s historical development in relationship to the rest of the world The focus throughout this book is on the continuity of Russian policies during the early modern period 1450 1800 and that those policies coincided with those of other successful contemporary Eurasian polities The continuities occurred in the midst of constant change but neither one nor the other continuities or changes alone can account for Russia s success Instead Russian rulers from Ivan III to Catherine II with their hub advisors managed to sustain a balance between the two During the early modern period these Russian rulers invited into the country foreign experts to facilitate the transfer of technology and know how mostly from Europe but also from Asia In this respect they were willing to look abroad for solutions to domestic problems Russia looked westward for military weaponry and techniques at the same time it was expanding eastward into the Eurasian heartland The ruling elite and by extension the entire ruling class worked in cooperation with the ruler to implement policies The Church played an active role in supporting the government and in seeking to eliminate opposition to the government

Russian Bible Wars Stephen K. Batalden,2013-03-14 Although biblical texts were known in Church Slavonic as early as the ninth century translation of the Bible into Russian came about only in the nineteenth century. Modern scriptural translation generated major religious and cultural conflict within the Russian Orthodox church. The resulting divisions left church authority particularly vulnerable to political pressures exerted upon it in the twentieth century. Russian Bible Wars illuminates the fundamental issues of authority that have divided modern Russian religious culture. Set within the theoretical debate over secularization, the volume clarifies why the Russian Bible was issued relatively late and amidst great controversy. Stephen Batalden's study traces the development of biblical translation into Russian and of the Bible wars that then occurred in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries in Russia. The annotated bibliography of the Russian Bible identifies the different editions and their publication history.

The Oxford Dictionary of the Christian Church Andrew Louth, 2022-02-17. Uniquely authoritative and wide ranging in its scope, The Oxford Dictionary of the Christian Church is the indispensable reference work on all aspects of the Christian Church. It contains over 6,500 cross-referenced A-Z entries and offers unrivalled coverage of all aspects of this vast and often complex subject, from theology, churches and denominations, patristic scholarship and the Bible to the church calendar and its organization, popes, archbishops, other church leaders, saints and mystics. In this new edition, great efforts have been made to increase and strengthen coverage of non-Anglican denominations, for example non-Western European Christianity as well as broadening the focus on Christianity and the history of churches in areas beyond Western Europe. In particular, there have been extensive additions with regards to the Christian Church in Asia, Africa, Latin America, North America and Australasia. Significant updates have also been included on topics such as liturgy, Canon Law, recent international developments, non-Anglican missionary activity and the increasingly important area of moral and pastoral theology, among many others. Since its first appearance in 1957, the ODCC has established itself as an essential resource for ordinands, clergy and members of religious orders, and an invaluable tool for academics, teachers and students of church history and theology, as well as for the general reader.

Historical Dictionary of Sacred Music Joseph P. Swain, 2016-10-11. Sacred music is a universal phenomenon of humanity. Where there is faith, there is music to express it. Every major religious tradition and most minor ones have music and have it in abundance and variety. There is music to accompany ritual and music purely for devotion, music for large congregations and music for trained soloists, music that sets holy words and music without words at all. In some traditions, Islamic and many Native American, to name just two, the relation between music and religious ritual is so intimate that it is inaccurate to speak of the music accompanying the ritual. Rather, to perform the ritual is to sing and to sing the ritual is to perform it. This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Sacred Music contains a chronology, an introduction, appendixes and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has over 800 cross-referenced entries on major types of music, composers, key religious figures, specialized positions, genres of composition, technical terms, instruments, fundamental documents and sources, significant places and important musical compositions. This book is an excellent access point for students, researchers and anyone wanting to know more about sacred music.

world to the late medieval era Passwords to Paradise Nicholas Ostler, 2016-02-23 In the beginning was the Word and the Word was with God and the Word was God So opens the Gospel of John an ancient text translated into almost every language at once a compelling and beguiling metaphor for the Christian story of the Beginning To further complicate matters the words we read now are in any number of languages that would have been unknown or unrecognizable at the time of their composition The gospel may have been originally dictated or written in Aramaic but our only written source for the story is in Greek Today as your average American reader of the New Testament picks up his or her Bible off the shelf the phrase as it appears has been translated from various linguistic intermediaries before its current manifestation in modern English How to understand these words then when so many other translators languages and cultures have exercised some level of influence on them Christian tradition is not unique in facing this problem All religions if they have global aspirations have to change in order to spread their influence and often language has been the most powerful agent thereof Passwords to Paradise explores the effects that language difference and language conversion have wrought on the world's great faiths spanning more than two thousand years It is an original and intriguing perspective on the history of religion by a master linguistic historian
