Spooks, Spies, and Private Eyes Paula L. Woods, 1996 From the earliest mystery story by an African American to new fiction by modern mainstream authors this eclectic rich and immensely entertaining collection holds multiple delights for a wide and varied audience A fascinating guide to black mystery fiction and its subgenres Emergence magazine Spooks, Spies, and Private Eyes Paula L. Woods, 1995 Short mysteries by such African American writers as Richard Wright The Man Who Killed a Shadow George Schuyler The Shoemaker Murder William Wallace Peter Reese, 1996 Contemporary American Crime Fiction Hans Bertens, T. D'haen, 2001-10-25 This highly accessible lively and informative study gives a clear and comprehensive overview of recent trends in American crime fiction Building on a discussion of the immediate predecessors Bertens and D'haen focus on the work of popular and award winning authors of the last fifteen years Particular attention is given to writers who have reworked established conventions and explored new directions especially women and those from ethnic minorities Brown Gumshoes Ralph E. Rodriguez, 2009-03-06 Winner Modern Language Association Prize in United States Latina and Latino and Chicana and Chicano Literary and Cultural Studies 2006 Popular fiction with its capacity for diversion can mask important cultural observations within a framework that is often overlooked in the academic world Works thought to be merely escapist can often be more seriously mined for revelations regarding the worlds they portray especially those of the disenfranchised As detective fiction has slowly earned critical respect more authors from minority groups have chosen it as their medium Chicana o authors previously reluctant to write in an underestimated genre that might further marginalize them have only entered the world of detective fiction in the past two decades In this book the first comprehensive study of Chicana o detective fiction Ralph E Rodriguez examines the recent contributions to the genre by writers such as Rudolfo Anaya Lucha Corpi Rolando Hinojosa Michael Nava and Manuel Ramos Their works reveal the struggles of Chicanas os with feminism homosexuality familia masculinity mysticism the nationalist subject and U S Mexico border relations He maintains that their novels register crucial new discourses of identity politics and cultural citizenship that cannot be understood apart from the historical instability following the demise of the nationalist politics of the Chicana o movement of the 1960s and 1970s In contrast to that time when Chicanas os sought a unified Chicano identity in order to effect social change the 1980s 1990s and 2000s have seen a disengagement from these nationalist politics and a new trend toward a heterogeneous sense of self The detective novel and its traditional focus on questions of knowledge and identity turned out to be the perfect medium in which to examine this new self Crime Culture Bran Nicol, Eugene McNulty, Patricia Pulham, 2010-11-03 By broadening the focus beyond classic English detective fiction the American hard boiled crime novel and the gangster movie Crime Culture breathes new life into staple themes of crime fiction and cinema Leading international scholars from the fields of literary and cultural studies analyze a range of literature and film from neglected examples of film noir and true crime crime fiction by female African American writers to reality TV recent films such as Elephant Collateral and The Departed and contemporary fiction by J G Ballard Kazuo Ishiguro and Margaret Atwood. They offer groundbreaking interpretations of new elements such as the mythology of the hitman technology and the image and the cultural impact of senseless murders and reveal why crime is a powerful way of making sense of the broader concerns shaping modern culture and society.

Postcolonial Postmortems Christine Matzke, Susanne Muehleisen, 2006 Recent crime fiction increasingly transcends national boundaries with investigators operating across countries and continents Frequently the detective is a migrant or comes from a transcultural background To solve the crime the investigator is called upon to decipher the meanings hidden in clues and testimonies that require transcultural forms of understanding For the reader the investigation discloses new interpretive methods and processes of social investigation often challenging facile interpretations of the postcolonial world order Under the rubric postcolonial postmortems this collection of essays seeks to explore the tropes issues and themes that characterise this emergent form of crime fiction But what does the postcolonial bring to the genre apart from the well known and valid discourses of resistance subversion and ethnicity And why postmortems A dissection and medical examination of a body to determine the cause of death the postmortem of the postcolonial not only alludes to the investigation of the victim's remains but also to the body of the individual text and its contexts This collection interrogates literary concepts of postcoloniality and crime from transcultural perspectives in the attempt to offer new critical impulses to the study of crime fiction and postcolonial literatures International scholars offer insights into the postcolonial postmortems of a wide range of texts by authors from Africa South Asia the Asian and African Diaspora and Australia including Robert G Barrett Unity Dow Wessel Ebersohn Romesh Gunasekera Kazuo Ishiguro Sujata Massey Alexander McCall Smith and Michael Ondaatje

Confluences John Cullen Gruesser, 2007 Confluences looks at the prospects for and the potential rewards of breaking down theoretical and disciplinary barriers that have tended to separate African American and postcolonial studies John Cullen Gruesser's study emphasizes the confluences among three major theories that have emerged in literary and cultural studies in the past twenty five years postcolonialism Henry Louis Gates Jr's Signifying and Paul Gilroy's black Atlantic For readers who may not be well acquainted with one or more of the three theories Gruesser provides concise introductions in the opening chapter In addition he urges those people working in postcolonial or African American literary studies to attempt to break down the boundaries that in recent years have come to isolate the two fields Gruesser then devotes a chapter to each theory examining one literary text that illustrates the value of the theoretical model a second text that extends the model in a significant way and a third text that raises one or more questions about the theory His examples are drawn from the writings of Salman Rushdie Jean Rhys V S Naipaul Walter Mosley Pauline Hopkins Toni Morrison Harry Dean Harriet Jacobs and Alice Walker Cautious not to conflate postcolonial and African American studies Gruesser encourages critics to embrace the black Atlantic's emphases on movement through space routes rather than roots and intercultural connections and to expand and where appropriate to emend Gilroy's efforts to bridge the two fields

The Arresting Eye Jinny Huh, 2015-05-04 In her reading of detective fiction and passing narratives from the end of the nineteenth century forward Jinny Huh investigates anxieties about race and detection Adopting an interdisciplinary and comparative approach she examines the racial formations of African Americans and Asian Americans not only in detective fiction from Sherlock Holmes and Charlie Chan to the works of Pauline Hopkins but also in narratives centered on detection itself such as Winnifred Eaton's rhetoric of undetection in her Japanese romances In explicating the literary depictions of race detection anxiety Huh demonstrates how cultural legal and scientific discourses across diverse racial groups were also struggling with demands for racial decipherability Anxieties of detection and undetection she concludes are not mutually exclusive but mutually dependent on each other's construction and formation in American history and culture

Continental Divides A. Goldman, 2000-10-19 The book calls for a new iconography of region that unseats New England's status as cultural center of the United States and originary metaphor for national identity No single territorial or political axis can adequately describe the complex regional relationships that comprise the nation Goldman argues The essays in this volume juxtapose African American Mexican American and Anglo American fictions produced in the wake of both the Civil War and the U S Mexican War contiguous national conflicts that remain segregated in critical practice At once comparative and intertextual the readings in this study redefine western literature in its relation to other U S regional literary formations Goldman's arguments question critical sectionalism as extensively as they do regional divisions by blurring generic distinctions by reading across literary periods and by juxtaposing writers who explore the same set of social issues during the same historical moment but who are conventionally located in separate literary traditions sentimental literature the African American novel literary modernism early Mexican fiction
