Squad Car 55 Cynthia Chapin, Jene Barr, 1974 America's Fire Engine Walter M.P. McCall, Alan M. Craig, 2022-11-28
As World War II drew to a close America's premier fire apparatus builder the American LaFrance Foamite Corp of Elmira N Y bet the company's future on its radical new cab ahead of engine 700 Series fire engines In a spectacular gamble to capture the superheated postwar market all of the company's existing products were discontinued and its customers were essentially told to take it or leave it This bold gamble paid off and 700 Series rigs soon filled firehouses across the nation sweeping aside all competitors and ultimately defining the breakthrough 700 as America's Fire Engine This is the first comprehensive history of the game changing 700 Individual chapters detail not only each of the eight major vehicle types but also the origins design controversies manufacturing and marketing of the 700 and short lived transitional 800 Series The book includes a meticulously researched registry of every 700 800 series apparatus delivered supported by many interpretive tables detailing production specifications and major fire department fleets

Genetic Programming John R. Koza, 1992 In this ground breaking book John Koza shows how this remarkable paradigm works and provides substantial empirical evidence that solutions to a great variety of problems from many different fields can be found by genetically breeding populations of computer programs Genetic programming may be more powerful than neural networks and other machine learning techniques able to solve problems in a wider range of disciplines In this ground breaking book John Koza shows how this remarkable paradigm works and provides substantial empirical evidence that solutions to a great variety of problems from many different fields can be found by genetically breeding populations of computer programs Genetic Programming contains a great many worked examples and includes a sample computer code that will allow readers to run their own programs In getting computers to solve problems without being explicitly programmed Koza stresses two points that seemingly different problems from a variety of fields can be reformulated as problems of program induction and that the recently developed genetic programming paradigm provides a way to search the space of possible computer programs for a highly fit individual computer program to solve the problems of program induction Good programs are found by evolving them in a computer against a fitness measure instead of by sitting down and writing them State of Illinois V.
