Symbolic Action Theory and Cultural Psychology Ernest E. Boesch, 2012-12-06 Gustav Jahoda University of Strathclyde Ever since psychology emerged as a separate discipline about a century ago there have been differing views as to what it is or ought to be Some like Ebbinghaus saw it as a budding natural science experimental and quantitative Others like Dilthey regarded psychology in the main as a humane field of study historical and interpretative in character The dichotomy of explaining versus understanding has been a subject of debate ever since Regrettably most of the protagonists of these respective positions tend to view them as mutually exclusive in spite of the fact that already Wundt had stressed that hard experimental and soft Völkerpsychologie are both equally important For the major part of the present century the field has been largely dominated by advocates of hard nosed scientific approaches typified first by Behaviorism and latterly cognitive psychology which concentrates on central processes involved in cognition Without in any way wishing to denigrate the undoubted achievements of cognitive psychology it has its limitations that are epitomized by T H Huxley's dictum The great end of life is not knowledge but action This might well serve as the motto for the action theory of Ernest Boesch who is one of several prominent psychologists out of harmony with the prevailing ethos They travel under different banners such as social constructivism ethogenics or hermeneutics but all share reservations about what many feel is the arid scientism of the mainstream Children, Cities, and Psychological Theories Dietmar Görlitz, Hans Joachim Harloff, Günter Mey, Jaan

Valsiner, 2012-10-25 No detailed description available for Children Cities and Psychological Theories The Role of Community-Mindedness in the Self-Regulation of Drug Cultures Anke Stallwitz, 2012-04-26 This book analyzes heroin users and the drug subculture on the Shetland Islands an area known for its geographical remoteness rural character and relative wealth It fills the scientific gap created by the conventional research in heroin research which is usually conducted in urban areas and relies on treatment and prison populations Based on qualitative in depth interviews with twenty four heroin users this book depicts and analyzes the nature and historical development of the local heroin scene It illustrates the features and internal structures of the subculture and it examines the manner in which both are influenced by the location specific geographical cultural and socio economic conditions It thus reveals complex causal associations that are hard to recognize in urban environments Complete with a list of references used and recommendations for future research this book is a vital tool for progressive and pragmatic approaches to policy intervention and research in the field of illicit drug use Research in the Social Scientific Study of Religion Ralph L. Piedmont, Andrew Village, 2009 Research in the Social Scientific Study of Religion publishes empirical and theoretical studies of religion from a wide range of disciplines and from all parts of the globe This volume has a special section on Islam and Mental Health an important and neglected area of study The section draws on work from six countries that have applied different theoretical frameworks and empirical methods to examine the link between religion psychology and health in very diverse Muslim communities Other articles examine topics as diverse as spirituality psychological health conversion and the cultural psychology of religion Disciplines represented include those that draw on qualitative quantitative and theoretical methods of study which together represent an important contribution to the contemporary study of religion The Palgrave Handbook of Creativity and Culture Research Vlad Petre

Glăveanu,2017-01-21 This groundbreaking Handbook brings together leading international experts in creativity and culture research to provide an overview of current debates It showcases the wealth of topics approaches and definitions specific for this new interdisciplinary field within creativity research The theoretical and methodological innovations emerging from the joint study of creativity and culture highlight the role of creativity within today s innovation based multicultural societies Drawing on theoretical and empirical reflections including case studies from different continents and different creative domains this Handbook provides a truly global outlook on current creativity research within an emergent interdisciplinary field This variety is highlighted by the Handbook s structure as it is divided into five sections Creativity and Culture in the Psychology of Creativity Creativity in Socio Cultural Psychology Creativity in Cultural Context Creativityand Culture in Applied Domains Cross disciplinary Perspectives on Creativity and Culture These sections provide a clear overview of the debates and questions of this research area as contributors share their interest in creativity not only as an individual but also a social and cultural phenomenon and in culture as both the foundation and outcome of creative action The Handbook will be an essential resource for researchers particularly those based in social science and humanities disciplines Ten Years of

Idiographic Science Sergio Salvatore,Jaan Valsiner,2023-01-01 The first volume of the Yearbook of Idiographic Science YIS was published on 2009 In a nutshell the idea at the grounds of the YIS project is that idiography and nomothetic are not juxtaposed logics and that the science cannot but be both nomothetic in the aim and idiographic in the modes About thirteen years later the sense and the direction of the YIS project envisaged in the first volume s introduction together with the difficulties to pursue it are still alive and valid Thus to both celebrate the milestone of the tenth issue and to plan the future we asked to some colleagues almost all contributors of previous volumes to discuss what idiographic science means today and what can mean tomorrow The works they have generously provided are very instructive each of them pictures a peculiar perspective on idiography that enables to recognize old and new challenges thus paving the way to innovative ideas and directions

Handbook of Dynamics in Parent-Child Relations Leon Kuczynski,2003 This handbook provides an interdisciplinary perspective on theory research and methodology on dynamic processes in parent child relations It focuses on cognitive behavioural and relational processes that govern immediate parent child interactions and long term relationships New Directions in Assessing Performance Potential of Individuals and Groups Committee on Measuring

Human Capabilities: Performance Potential of Individuals and Collectives,Board on Behavioral, Cognitive, and Sensory Sciences,Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education,National Research Council,2013-09-18 As an all volunteer service accepting applications from nearly 400 000 potential recruits annually from across the U S population the U S

military must accurately and efficiently assess the individual capability of each recruit for the purposes of selection job classification and unit assignment New Directions for Assessing Performance Potential of Individuals and Groups is the summary of a workshop held April 3 4 2013 to examine the future of military entrance assessments This workshop was a part of the first phase of a larger study that will investigate cutting edge research into the measurement of both individual capabilities and group composition in order to identify future research directions that may lead to improved assessment and selection of enlisted personnel for the U S Army The workshop brought together scientists from a variety of relevant areas to focus on cognitive and noncognitive attributes that can be used in the initial testing and assignment of enlisted personnel This report discusses the evolving goals of candidate testing emerging constructs and theory and ethical implications of testing methods

Educational Dilemmas Luca Tateo, 2019-01-18 Educational Dilemmas uses cultural psychology to explore the challenges contradictions and tensions that occur during the process of education with consideration of the effect these have at both the individual and the collective level It argues that the focus on issues in learning overlooks a fundamental characteristic of education that the process of educating is simultaneously both constructive and disruptive Drawing on research from Europe America and Asia chapters in this volume present and analyse different experiences of the tension between disruption and construction in the process of education Situating educational discontent within the wider context the book demonstrates how this issue can be exacerbated by the tension between the commodification and democratisation of educational systems This book demonstrates that these issues permeate all levels of education and as a result emphasises how vital it is that educational discontent is considered from a new perspective Educational Dilemmas is essential reading for academics researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of psychology and education It should also be of great interest to school psychologists teachers and therapists

Narration, Identity, and Historical Consciousness Jürgen Straub, 2006-01-01 A generally acknowledged characteristic of modern life namely the temporalization of experience inextricable from our intensified experience of contingency and difference has until now remained largely outside psychology's purview Wherever questions about the development structure and function of the concept of time have been posed for example by Piaget and other founders of genetic structuralism they have been concerned predominantly with concepts of physical chronometrical time and related concepts e g velocity All the contributions to the present volume attempt to close this gap A larger number are especially interested in the narration of stories Overviews of the relevant literature as well as empirical case studies appear alongside theoretical and methodological reflections Most contributions refer to specifically historical phenomena and meaning constructions Some touch on the subjects of biographical memory and biographical constructions of reality Of all the various affinities between the contributions collected here the most important is their consistent attention to issues of the constitution and representation of temporal experience

Approaching Humankind Jörn Rüsen, 2013 A fascinating spectrum of answers to the fundamental question what it means to be a human being Imagination in Human and Cultural Development Tania Zittoun, Alex Gillespie, 2015-07-16 This book positions imagination as a central concept which increases the understanding of daily life personal life choices and the way in which culture and society changes Case studies from micro instances of reverie and daydreaming to utopian projects are included and analysed The theoretical focus is on imagination as a force free from immediate constraints forming the basis of our individual and collective agency In each chapter the authors review and integrate a wide range of classic and contemporary literature culminating in the proposal of a sociocultural model of imagination The book takes into account the triggers of imagination the content of imagination and the outcomes of imagination At the heart of the model is the interplay between the individual and culture an exploration of how the imagination as something very personal and subjective grows out of our shared culture and how our shared culture can be transformed by acts of imagination Imagination in Human and Cultural Development offers new perspectives on the study of psychological learning change innovation and creativity throughout the lifespan The book will appeal to academics and scholars in the fields of psychology and the social sciences especially those with an interest in development social change cultural psychology imagination and creativity Autobiography and the Psychological Study of Religious Lives Jacob Adrianus Belzen, 2008 This volume positions itself on the cutting edge of two fields in psychology that enjoy rapidly increasing attention both the study of human lives and some core domains of such lives as religion and spirituality are high on the agenda of current research and teaching Biographies and autobiographies are being approached in new ways and have become central to the study of human lives as an object of research and a preferred method for obtaining unique data about subjective human experiences Ever since the beginning of the psychology of religion autobiographies have also been pointed out as an important source of information about psychic processes involved in religiosity In this volume a number of leading theoreticians and researchers from Europe and the USA try to bring them back to this field by drawing on new insights and latest developments in psychological theory Humorous Actions, Play and Rules Monica Reyes-Rojas, Hernán Sánchez Ríos, Livia Mathias Simão, 2024-09-01 This book proposes a hermeneutic phenomenological and sociocultural route illuminating new methodological approaches to study humorous actions through Vygotsky's proposal which has been little explored and worked on from the developmental psychology approach specifically the rules management Higher psychological process Reading this text clarifies how humor is a mechanism for development and at the same time it is a source of creativity and novelty that emerges from the intersubjective matrix to the Cultural Psychology of development and Semiotic cultural constructivism Aesthetics Revisited Mădălina Diaconu, Miloš Ševčík, 2011 The volume represents a selection of the articles which were presented at a colloquium on new research topics in aesthetics at the Austrian Library in Pilsen in September 2010 Their authors Czech and Austrian scholars address various topics ranging from the institutional history of aesthetics to the relationship between philosophical aesthetics and psychology and from the philosophy of literature to the aesthetics of fine arts dramatic arts and architecture Studying Leadership from a Microgenetic Perspective Enno Freiherr von Fircks, 2025-05-21 This book presents a new theoretical and methodological framework to study leadership from a cultural psychological and developmental perspective This framework includes a new theory called Small Act Psychology and a new methodology to analyze leader follower interactions in irreversible time This perspective is inspired by current microgenetic aktualgenese developmental research within the wider domain of Cultural Psychology Drawing on Kurt Lewin s field theory E E Boesch s Symbolic Action Theory and L S Vygotsky s semiotic theory the present work defines leadership socially and hence from a qualitative perspective contributing to the development of a cultural psychological theory of leadership This new approach seeks to break with the current prevailing paradigm of the leadership research centered round the big hero myth and interpreting leadership as a personal quality of a given person It also aims to fill a gap within the general literature about qualitative leadership by proposing an encompassing and wholistic theory and methodology to make sense of leader follower interactions from a developmental perspective After presenting this new theory and methodology the book also presents the results of empirical ethnographic and autoethnographic studies in which the new framework was applied These studies provide not only empirical proof how leadership can be understood from a field theoretical perspective but also show how leadership trajectories can change depending on specific interventions providing evidence to the developmental nature of leadership as a social phenomenon Studying Leadership from a Microgenetic Perspective Towards a Cultural Psychological Theory of Leadership will be of interest to organizational and educational researchers as well as qualitative psychologists in any domain of psychology striving for a theory that makes sense of leadership dynamically and developmental psychologists interested in seeing how developmental approaches can be adopted in the study of a wide range of social phenomena The Handbook of Life-Span Development, Volume 2, 2010-08-09 In the past fifty years scholars of human development have been moving from studying change in humans within sharply defined periods to seeing many more of these phenomenon as more profitably studied over time and in relation to other processes The Handbook of Life Span Development Volume 2 Social and Emotional Development presents the study of human development conducted by the best scholars in the 21st century Social workers counselors and public health workers will receive coverage of the social and emotional aspects of human change across the lifespan
