Symbolic Landscapes:

Symbolic Landscapes Gary Backhaus, John Murungi, 2008-11-09 Symbolic Landscapes presents a definitive collection of landscape place studies that explores symbolic cultural levels of geographical meanings. Essays written by philosophers, geographers, architects, social scientists, art historians, and literati bring specific modes of expertise and perspectives to this transdisciplinary and interdisciplinary study of the symbolic level human existential spatiality. Placing emphasis on the pre-cognitive genesis of symbolic meaning as well as embodied experiential lived geography, the volume offers a fresh quasi-phenomenological approach. The editors articulate the epistemological doctrine that perception and imagination form a continuum in which both are always implicated as complements. This approach makes a case for the interrelation of the geography of perception and the geography of imagination, which means that human cultural geography offers only an abstraction if indeed an aesthetic geography is constituted merely as a sub-field. Human cultural geography can only approach spatial reality through recognizing the intimate interrelative dialectic between the imaginative and perceptual meanings of our landscapes place worlds. This volume reinvigorates the importance of the topic of symbolism in human cultural geography, landscape studies, philosophy of place, architecture and planning, and will stand among the classics in the field.

Social Formation and Symbolic Landscape Denis E. Cosgrove, 1998. Hailed as a landmark in its field since its first publication in 1984, Denis E. Cosgrove's Social Formation and Symbolic Landscape has been influential well beyond geography. It has continued to spark lively debate among historians, geographers, art historians, social theorists, landscape architects, and others interested in the social and cultural politics of landscape.

The Assessment of German Cultural Landscapes Jessica Matloch, 2018-03-09 Jessica Matloch examines the importance of regional cultural landscape for their residents using the approach of willingness to pay She identifies that almost each resident of every region prefers water landscapes Furthermore landscape perception is often influenced by education and by the resident's relationship with nature The impact of the relationship to the region differs between regions and resident groups Regarding the involvement in or for the landscape the results suggest that specific groups of residents are more willing to volunteer in and for regional landscapes than others The analyses illustrate that the region is used the most to relax and the least for cultural purposes

Animated Landscapes Chris Pallant, 2017-02-23 The first comprehensive study of animated landscapes across media

Landscapes of Power Sharon Zukin, 1993-03-12 The momentous changes which are transforming American life call for a new exploration of the economic and cultural landscape In this book Sharon Zukin links our ever expanding need to consume with two fundamental shifts places of production have given way to spaces for services and paperwork and the competitive edge has moved from industrial to cultural capital From the steel mills of the Rust Belt to the sterile malls of suburbia to the gentrified urban centers of our largest cities the creative destruction of our economy a process by which a way of life is both lost and gained results in a dramatically different landscape of economic power Sharon Zukin probes the depth and diversity of this restructuring in a series of portraits of changed or changing American places Beginning at River Rouge Henry Ford's industrial complex in Dearborn Michigan and ending at Disney World Zukin demonstrates how powerful interests shape the spaces we inhabit Among the landscapes she examines are steeltowns in West Virginia and Michigan affluent corporate suburbs in Westchester County gentrified areas of lower Manhattan and theme parks in Florida and California In each of these case studies new strategies of investment and employment are filtered through existing institutions experience in both production and consumption and represented in material products aesthetic forms and new perceptions of space and time The current transformation differs from those of the past in that individuals and institutions now have far greater power to alter the course of change making the creative destruction of landscape the most important cultural product of our time Zukin's eclectic inquiry into the parameters of social action and the emergence of new cultural forms defines the interdisciplinary frontier where sociology geography economics and urban and cultural studies meet

Tensional Landscapes Gary Backhaus, John Murungi, 2003-01-01 The contributors to this volume address global regional and local landscapes cosmopolitan and indigenous cultures and human and more than human ecology as they work to reveal place specific tensional dynamics Essays discuss Kant's theory of cosmopolitanism versus Hegel's philosophy of geographical determinism the tension of cosmopolitanism versus a closer embeddedness in place scapes geographical determinism in the colonial practices of Colombia and in the current political rhetoric surrounding the revival of Saxony preservational policies in Norway regulation of gated communities in the United States and the hermeneutics of Ground Zero This unusual book which covers such a wide ranging array of topics coheres into a work that will be a valuable reference for scholars of geography and the philosophy of place

Landscapes of Capital Robert Goldman, Stephen Papson, 2013-04-30 Every era has its dominant representations Just as landscape painters of previous centuries captured and expressed new modes of perceiving history corporate advertisers now devise the imagined landscapes of global capitalism Advertising functions as an omnipresent discursive form publicly assembling and circulating the predominant tropes of our era This project is based on the premise that corporate advertising's landscapes help shape our epoch's imaginative conceptualizations of the spatial relations the temporal flows and the cultural geographies that correspond to the emergence of a high tech global economy In Landscapes of Capital Robert Goldman and Steven Papson examine how corporate television ads from the last fifteen years have organized predominant images tropes and narrative representations of a world in transition The volume takes particular interest in how relations of space time speed capital technology and globalization are narratively represented in advertising Goldman and Papson skillfully demonstrate how Capital represents itself at a moment of critical historical transition the passage into high tech globalization and the crises associated with it They argue that corporate ads can be read to reveal how Capital represents itself and the world that is being wrought in terms of the signifiers it prefers and the stories it tells Landscape Theory Rachel DeLue,James Elkins,2010-10-28 Artistic representations of landscape are studied widely in areas ranging from art history to geography to sociology This book brings together more than fifty scholars from many disciplines to establish new ways of thinking about landscape in art Landscape, Tourism, and Meaning Michelle M.
