

Sunshine to the max “...and the skies were not cloudy all day”

In a meteorologically perfect world, the sun would shine all day, every day, from sunrise to sunset. In reality, Chicago receives just 54 percent of its total possible annual sunshine which exceeds 267,500 minutes a year and translates to a long-term average of 44 days totally sunny days a year. As we head toward the June 21 summer solstice, the amount of daylight is steadily increasing with the summer season delivering the most minutes of sunshine. However, it is the tranquil days of early autumn when the city typically logs its greatest number of totally sunny days. Chicago climatologist and weather historian Frank Wachowski has been meticulously logging Chicago's sunshine since 1950s and has provided the following data on the city's days with 100 percent of possible sunshine.
