As a matter of fact ulaf al R shid n the Rightly Guided Caliphs were both caliphs and religious republican presidents We could say that this book has three main characteristics i We have tried to base our explanations directly on the primary Islamic law sources For example after reading some articles on the caliphate or t m r system in articles or books by some Western scholars and even by some Muslim scholars one might conclude that there are different views on these subjects among Muslim scholars This is not true Muslisms have agreed on the basic rules on legal subjects but there are some conflicts regarding nuances and interpretations If one reads works by Im m Gazzali Ibn Taymiyyah al M wardi and al Farr one will not find any disagreement on the main rules but there are some different interpretations of some concepts We have tried to discover where they agreed and we have sometimes pointed to where they differed ii We have researched practices of Islamic law especially legal documents in the Ottoman archives For example we explain add i sariqa but also mention some legal articles from the Ottoman legal codes q nunn mes and some Shar ah court decisions like legal decrees i l m t i shar iyyah It is well known that nobody can understand any legal system without implementing and practicing it That also holds for Islamic law because theory alone does not yield a complete understanding of Shar ah rules iii We have worked hard to correct some misconceptions and misunderstandings about Islamic law That is why we appeal to the primary sources For example some scholars claim that the anaf jurist Im m Sara s did not accept the idea of punishment for apostasy We have studied his work al Mabs t and found this claim to be unfounded The comparison between t m r and fief is another example because the t m r system is different from the fief system Some scholars confuse the concept of sovereignty and governance The Islamic state is not a theocratic state in the sense in which Europeans understand the term Beiträge Zum Islamischen Recht VII Gesellschaft für Arabisches und Islamisches Recht.
