an artifact of Victorian poetics Prins reads the Sapphic fragments in Greek alongside various English translations and imitations considering a wide range of Victorian poets male and female famous and forgotten who signed their poetry in the name of Sappho By declining the name in each chapter the book presents a theoretical argument about the Sapphic signature as well as a historical account of its implications in Victorian England Prins explores the relations between classical philology and Victorian poetics the tropes of lesbian writing the aesthetics of meter and nineteenth century personifications of the Poetess as current scholarship on Sappho and her afterlife Offering a history and theory of lyric as a gendered literary form the book is an exciting and original contribution to Victorian studies classical studies comparative literature and women's studies
