Ed Sir William Robert Wills Wilde,1849 Memoirs of the Royal Astronomical Society Royal Astronomical Society,1899 Memoirs of the Royal Astronomical Society ,1899 Irish Writers and Religion Robert Welch,1992-01-01 Irish writing has been influenced by religion from the beginning indeed it was the arrival of Christianity which brought Latin orthography which men of learning adopted Pagan beliefs were assimilated into Christianity but not entirely so a theme which is dealt with in the essay on writing in early Ireland The relationship between the various Irish Churches and writers in the 18th and 19th centuries is examined as is the influence of folk religion in modern Irish literature There follow essays on ghosts Yeats Synge Joyce and Beckett and on the poets Macneice Kavanagh and Desmond Egan Contributors Lance St John Butler Peter Denman Desmond Egan Ruth Fleischmann A M Gibbs Barbara Hayley Eamonn Hughes Anne McCartney Seamus MacMathuna Joseph McMin Nuala ni Dhomhnaill Mitsuko Ohno Daithi O Hogain Alan Peacock Patricia Rafroidi and Robert Welch Irish Literary Studies Series No 37 Epic into Novel Henry Power,2015-02-19 Epic into Novel looks at Henry Fielding s adaptation of classical epic in the context of what he called the Trade of authoring Fielding was always keen to stress that his novels were modelled on classical literature Equally he was fascinated by and wrote at length about the fact that they were objects to be consumed He recognised that he wrote in an age when an author had to consider himself as one who keeps a public Ordinary at which all persons are welcome for their Money In describing his work he alludes both to Homeric epic and to contemporary cookery books This tension in Fielding s work has gone unexplored a tension between his commitment to a classical tradition and his immersion in a print culture in which books were consumable commodities This interest in the place of the ancients in a world of consumerism was inherited from the previous generation of satirists The Scriblerians among them Jonathan Swift John Gay and Alexander Pope repeatedly suggest in their work that classical values are at odds with modern tastes and appetites Fielding who had idolised these writers as a young man developed many of their satiric routines in his own writing But Fielding broke from Swift Gay and Pope in creating a version of epic designed to appeal to modern consumers Henry Power provides new readings of works by Swift Gay and Pope and of Fielding s major novels He examines Fielding s engagement with various Scriblerian themes primarily the consumption of literature but also the professionalisation of scholarship and the status of the author and shows ultimately that Fielding broke with the Scriblerians in acknowledging and celebrating the influence of the marketplace on his work Anglo-Irish Identities, 1571-1845 David A. Valone,Jill Marie Bradbury,2008 This book presents a series of essays that examine the ideological personal and political difficulties faced by the group variously termed the Anglo Irish the Protestant Ascendancy or the English in Ireland a group that existed in a world of contested ideological political and cultural identities At the root of this conflicted sense of self was an acute awareness among the Anglo Irish of their liminal position as colonial dominators in Ireland who were viewed as other both by the Catholic natives of Ireland and by their English kinsmen The work in this volume is highly interdisciplinary bringing to bear examination of issues that are historical literary economic and sociological Contributors investigate how individuals experienced the ambiguities and conflicts of identity formation in a colonial society how writers fought the economic and ideological superiority of the English how the cooption of Gaelic history and culture was a political strategy for the Anglo Irish and how literary texts contributed to the emergence of national consciousness In seeking to understand and trace the complex process of identity formation in early modern Ireland the essays in this volume attest to its tenuous dynamic and necessarily incomplete nature David A Valone is an Assistant Professor of History at Quinnipiac University Jill Marie Bradbury is an Assistant Professor of English at Gallaudet University
