Pictorial History of Balmain to Glebe Joan Lawrence,Catherine Warne,1995 Botanical Sketchbooks Lucy T Smith,2024-02-26 This inspirational guide explains how a botanical sketchbook can take many forms and hold different meanings It shows how a sketchbook can be used as a workbook to study plants through drawing and painting in a variety of media It includes examples of preliminary work for finished pieces experiments in colour and exploration of plant anatomy and shows how these studies can be made away from the pressure of creating the perfect polished piece of final botanical artwork It goes on to feature sketchbooks created for their own sake as a curated space for an artist to draw and record plants over a period of time or a particular place Unpacking the Collection Sarah Byrne,Anne Clarke,Rodney

Harrison,Robin Torrence,2011-06-27 Museum collections are often perceived as static entities hidden away in storerooms or trapped behind glass cases By focusing on the dynamic histories of museum collections new research reveals their pivotal role in shaping a wide range of social relations Over time and across space the interactions between these artefacts and the people and institutions who made traded collected researched and exhibited them have generated complex networks of material and social agency In this innovative volume the contributors draw on a broad range of source materials to explore the cross cultural interactions which have created museum collections These case studies contribute significantly to the development of new theoretical frameworks to examine broader questions of materiality agency and identity in the past and present Grounded in case studies from individual objects and museum collections from North America Europe Africa the Pacific Islands and Australia this truly international volume juxtaposes historical geographical and cross cultural studies This work will be of great interest to archaeologists and anthropologists studying material culture as well as researchers in museum studies and cultural heritage management

Henry and Banjo James Knight, 2015-09-29 The fascinating lives and turbulent times of Henry Lawson and Andrew Banjo Paterson the two men who wrote Australia's story Today most of us know that Henry Lawson and Andrew Banjo Paterson were famous writers We know about Matilda Clancy of the Overflow and the Man from Snowy River The Drover's Wife While the Billy Boils and Joe Wilson and his mates but little else Here in a compelling and engaging work James Knight brings Henry and Banjo's own stories to life And there is much to tell Both were country born just three years and three hundred kilometres apart Henry on the goldfields of Grenfell and Banjo on a property near Orange but their paths to literary immortality took very different routes indeed at times their lives were ones of savage and all too tragic contrasts Banjo born into a life of comparative privilege would rise from country boy to Sydney Grammar student solicitor journalist war correspondent and revered man about town Henry's formal education only began when his feminist mother finally won her battle for a local school but illness and subsequent deafness would make continuing his lessons difficult seeing him find work as a labourer a coach painter and a journalist all the while wrestling with poverty alcoholism and mental illness Both men would become household names during their lifetimes Both would have regrets Henry and Banjo details two incredibly fascinating lives and delves into the famous and not so famous writings of the two men who had the power to influence and change Australia

Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1968 Includes Part 1 Number 2 Books and Pamphlets Including Serials and Contributions to Periodicals July December Australian National Bibliography, 1984 Recto Verso: Redefining the Sketchbook Angela Bartram, Nader El-Bizri, Douglas Gittens, 2016-04-08 Bringing together a broad range of contributors including art architecture and design academic theorists and historians in addition to practicing artists architects and designers this volume explores the place of the sketchbook in contemporary art and architecture Drawing upon a diverse range of theories practices and reflections common to the contemporary conceptualisation of the sketchbook and its associated environments it offers a dialogue in which the sketchbook can be understood as a pivotal working tool that contributes to the creative process and the formulation and production of visual ideas Along with exploring the theoretical philosophical psychological and curatorial implications of the sketchbook the book addresses emergent digital practices by way of examining contemporary developments in sketchbook productions and pedagogical applications Consequently these more recent developments question the validity of the sketchbook as both an instrument of practice and creativity and as an educational device International in scope it not only explores European intellectual and artistic traditions but also intercultural and cross cultural perspectives including reviews of practices in Chinese artworks or Islamic calligraphy and situational contexts that deal with historical examples such as Roman art or modern practices in geographical cultural regions like Pakistan
