migration experience and they tell stories of longing and belonging This book was originally published as a special issue of Jewish Culture and History Building a Public Judaism Saskia Coenen Snyder, 2013-01-08 Coenen Snyder considers what the architecture and construction of nineteenth century European synagogues reveal about the social progress of modern European Jews The process of claiming a Jewish space was a marker of acculturation but not full acceptance she argues The new edifices even if spectacular revealed the limits of Jewish integration CAA2014: 21st Century Archaeology F.

Computer-aided Reconstruction in Historic Preservation Alfredo Maul, 2003 The Destruction of Memory Robert Bevan, 2007-04-20 Crumbled shells of mosques in Iraq the bombing of British cathedrals in World War II the fall of the World Trade Center towers on September 11 when architectural totems such as these are destroyed by conflicts and the ravages of war more than mere buildings are at stake The Destruction of Memory reveals the extent to which a nation weds itself to its landscape Robert Bevan argues that such destruction not only shatters a nation's culture and morale but is also a deliberate act of eradicating a culture's memory and ultimately its existence Bevan combs through world history to highlight a range of wars and conflicts in which the destruction of architecture was pivotal From Cortez's razing of Aztec cities to the carpet bombings of Dresden and Tokyo in World War II to the war in the former Yugoslavia The Destruction of Memory exposes the cultural war that rages behind architectural annihilation revealing that in this subliminal assault lies the complex aim of exterminating a people He provocatively argues for the fatally intertwined experience of genocide and cultural genocide ultimately proposing the elevation of cultural genocide to a crime punishable by international law In an age in which Frank Gehry I M Pei and Frank Lloyd Wright are revered and yet museums and temples of priceless value are destroyed in wars around the world Bevan challenges the notion of collateral damage arguing that it is in fact a deliberate act of war
