Challenging the Traditional Axioms Nike K. Pokorn,2005-01-01 Translation into a non mother tongue or inverse translation especially of literary texts has always been frowned upon within Translation Studies in Western cultures and regarded by literary scholars and linguists as an activity of dubious worth doomed to fail The study which received an award from EST in 2001 sets out to challenge the established view and to critically question some of the axiomatic assumptions of Western theorists Its challenge is supported by extensive empirical research involving reader response to translations of specific literary texts The conclusion reached is that the quality of the translation its fluency and acceptability in the target language environment depend primarily on the as yet undetermined individual abilities of the particular translator his her translation strategy and knowledge of the source and target cultures and not on his her mother tongue or the direction in which s he is translating

Historical Linguistics, fourth edition Lyle Campbell,2021-03-30 The new edition of a comprehensive accessible and hands on text in historical linguistics revised and expanded with new material and a new layout This accessible hands on textbook not only introduces students to the important topics in historical linguistics but also shows them how to apply the methods described and how to think about the issues Abundant examples from a broad range of languages and exercises allow students to focus on how to do historical linguistics The book is distinctive for its integration of the standard topics with others now considered important to the field including syntactic change grammaticalization sociolinguistic contributions to linguistic change distant genetic relationships areal linguistics and linguistic prehistory
