South African Women On The Move:

South African Women on the Move Jane Barrett, Vukani Makhosikazi Collective (Johannesburg, South Africa), 1985

Women and Photography in Apartheid South Africa Marie Meyerding, 2025-04-29 Tracing the lives and works of five women in four case studies author Marie Meyerding examines the representation of women in the field of photography in South Africa in the second half of the twentieth century All of them are critically understudied with no existing scholarship dedicated exclusively to their photographic contributions Focusing on the representation of women on two different levels as agents behind the camera and as subjects in photographs it showcases women photographers portraying their female contemporaries and analyses to what extent they adhered to or subverted common forms of gender representation In recuperating their forgotten archives the book argues that none of these women are marginal figures but rather that each of them played a leading role in the field of photography in their own time The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history history of photography gender studies intersectionality and African studies

Women on the Move Belinda Dodson, 1998 This study examines women's experiences of cross border migration and compares these experiences to those of men

South African women on the move Jane Barrett, 1985

Women and the Remaking of Politics in Southern Africa Gisela G. Geisler, 2004 This study looks at women's struggle in Southern Africa where the last ten years have seen the most pervasive success stories on the African continent Tracing the history of women's involvement in anti colonial struggles and against apartheid the book analyses post colonial outcomes and examines the strategies employed by women's movements to gain a foothold in politics

Women's Organizations and Democracy in South Africa Shireen Hassim, 2006-06-26 The transition to democracy in South Africa was one of the defining events in twentieth century political history The South African women's movement is one of the most celebrated on the African continent Shireen Hassim examines interactions between the two as she explores the gendered nature of liberation and regime change Her work reveals how women's political organizations both shaped and were shaped by the broader democratic movement Alternately asserting their political independence and giving precedence to the democratic movement as a whole women activists proved flexible and remarkably successful in influencing policy At the same time their feminism was profoundly shaped by the context of democratic and nationalist ideologies In reading the last twenty five years of South African history through a feminist framework Hassim offers fresh insights into the interactions between civil society political parties and the state Hassim boldly confronts sensitive issues such as the tensions between autonomy and political dependency in feminists engagement with the African National Congress ANC and other democratic movements and black white relations within women's organizations She offers a historically informed discussion of the challenges facing feminist activists during a time of nationalist struggle and democratization Winner Victoria Schuck Award for best book on women and politics American Political Science Association An exceptional study based on extensive research Highly recommended Choice A rich history of women's organizations in South Africa Hassim had observed at first hand and often participated in much of what she described She had access to the informants and private archives that so enliven the narrative and enrich the analysis She provides a finely balanced assessment Gretchen Bauer African Studies Review

Transnational Activities of Women-Focused Civil Society Actors in Southern Africa Cecilia Lwiindi Nedziwe, Oluwaseun Tella, 2023-06-30 This book focuses on southern Africa by engaging with norms from various perspectives and how they have proliferated within a neo liberalising context since the 1990s It particularly examines gender norms in relation to agency influence and their impact Despite growing transnational activities regional studies analyses have so far maintained a primarily linear logic not incorporative of the increasing interface between state and non state regionalism in a transnational context since the advent of liberalisation and democratisation Increasing non state activities and their connection to state processes involved in norm creation adaptation diffusion and implementation around broad questions of security including gender security amount to regional thickening The book's analytical approach is informed by alternatives to mainstream approaches emphasising processes rather than linearity inherent in regional international relations studies The research reveals that transnational activities and regionalisation of gender and women focused civil society actors are critical for advocacy and diverse representation within intergovernmental policymaking structures at the regional scale

The Activist Collector Christa Clarke, 2023-02-17 Published by the Newark Museum Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press After twenty eight years of desire and determination I have visited Africa the land of my forefathers So wrote Lida Clanton Broner 1895-1982 an African American housekeeper and hairstylist from Newark New Jersey upon her return from an extraordinary nine month journey to South Africa in 1938 This epic trip was motivated not only by Broner's sense of ancestral heritage but also a grassroots resolve to connect the socio political concerns of African Americans with those of black South Africans under the segregationist policies of the time During her travels this woman of modest means circulated among South Africa's Black intellectual elite including many leaders of South Africa's freedom struggle Her lectures at Black schools on race consciousness and race pride had a decidedly political bent even as she was presented as an American beauty specialist How did Broner a working class mother come to be a globally connected activist What were her experiences as an African American woman in segregated South Africa and how did she further her work after her return Broner's remarkable story is the subject of this book which draws upon a deep visual and documentary record now held in the collection of the Newark Museum of Art This extraordinary archive includes more than one hundred and fifty objects ranging from beadwork and pottery to mission school crafts acquired by Broner in South Africa along with her diary correspondence scrapbooks and hundreds of photographs with handwritten notations

Women's Sport in Africa John Bale, Michelle Sikes, 2016-04-14 In recent decades Africa has emerged as a sporting giant The African sporting phenomenon has been addressed in the popular press and it has also attracted scholarly interest however this interest is almost entirely focussed on men Yet women's participation in recreational and elite sport is worthy of exploration and research This path breaking collection of essays provides an introduction to a variety of dimensions of women s participation in African sports Several key concepts are addressed in the book women and media women and sport migration sport and empowerment sporting and social development women s sport and postcolonial Africa and professional sport and economic development This collection authored by established scholars will attract readership from students from Sports Studies to African Studies and from undergraduate students to university teachers This book was published as a special issue of Sport in Society Vukani Makhosikazi Jane Barrett,Vukani Makhosikazi Collective (Johannesburg, South Africa),1985 Study of the living conditions and working conditions of black working class women in South Africa R under Apartheid describes the pass laws controlling internal migration and the lack of employment opportunity especially for rural women confining woman workers to being low income domestic workers etc discusses the cumulative impact of sex discrimination and racial discrimination and the difficulties faced by povertystricken female headed households considers the role of womens organizations and trade unions Map photographs references
