South Oxnard Challenge Project Report Of What Works:

South Oxnard Challenge Project Jodi Lane, Criminal Justice Program (Rand Corporation), 2002 RAND Criminal Justice conducted a randomized experimental evaluation of the South Oxnard Challenge Project SOCP a collaborative project between county city and private non profit agencies based on the Corrections of Place COP model The project targets youth who live in South Oxnard or Port Hueneme are between 12 and 18 years old have a citation or violation of probation and score at least 12 points on a risk assessment instrument The project successfully implemented pieces of the COP model but struggled with taking the entire theory into daily practice Incorporating community and adequately addressing victim needs were problematic due to the focus of SOCP efforts on youth and family In addition SOCP staff were required to balance the conflicts between the Corrections of Place approach and the legal requirements of administering justice

Evaluation of the South Oxnard Challenge Project, 1997-2001 Susan Turner, Criminal Justice Program (Rand Corporation), 2002 RAND Criminal Justice conducted a randomized experimental evaluation of the South Oxnard Challenge Project SOCP a collaborative project between county city and private non profit agencies based on the Corrections of Place COP model The project targets youth who live in South Oxnard or Port Hueneme are between 12 and 18 years old have a citation or violation of probation and score at least 12 points on a risk assessment instrument

South Oxnard Challenge Project. Report of What Works, 2002 THE SOUTH OXNARD CHALLENGE PROJECT SOCP The South Oxnard Challenge Project was developed as a demonstration project to test through a randomized experiment the practical applicability of Clear's restorative justice theory and to examine the results of the newly developed collaborative approach to juvenile justice in South Oxnard The SOCP was a collaborative project between the County City and private non profit agencies The major participants in the collaborative were the Ventura County Probation Agency Ventura County Behavioral Health Department Drug and Alcohol Programs Mental Health Services City Corps Oxnard City of Oxnard Recreation Department Oxnard Police Department El Concilio De Condado De Ventura Interface Children Family Services and Palmer Drug Abuse Program PDAP Participants from these agencies jointly determined treatment approaches and delivered services using a team approach Direct provision of services constituted one of the primary differences between SOCP and regular juvenile probation where youth are referred out for services with periodic follow up

Encountering Correctional Populations Kathleen A. Fox, Jodi Lane, Susan F. Turner, 2018-01-09 While many studying criminology learn to examine offenders offending and its consequences few actually journey into the physical world of prisons to meet offenders face to face Created specifically for criminology students and equally useful for current researchers and practitioners this book serves as a step by step toolkit on how to humanely conduct research with populations in the correctional system The authors combined 60 years of experience allows them to provide field tested practical advice for researching youth and adults on probation on parole or incarceration The book guides readers through practical concerns such as gaining access and building rapport with offenders and those who monitor them the types of correctional data that can be collected informed consent process and research ethics and the logistics of doing research Through personal stories what if scenarios and case studies as well as examples of real world tools like checklists and sample forms the authors share methods of how to overcome the obstacles that criminologists must face as they learn to work with those behind bars
