South Africa Domestic Crisis And Global Challenge:

South Africa Kenneth W. Grundy, 1991-01-01 Explains the system of apartheid in South Africa and the reasons why it commands international attention The book outlines South Africa's role in the global economy and examines the diplomatic economic and military pressures aimed at the government in Pretoria as the West seeks to end apartheid South Africa, Past, Present and Future Tony Binns, Alan Lester, Etienne Nel, 2014-09-25 This is the first book to combine a discussion of post apartheid development initiatives with an extended historical analysis of South Africa's dynamic race class gender and ethnic identities Bringing together the research of an historical geographer and two development geographers the book enables us to locate the post apartheid transition in a broad historical and spatial perspective Within this perspective the limitations as well as the achievements of South Africa's current transformation are highlighted The Uncertain Promise of Southern Africa York W. Bradshaw, Stephen N. Ndegwa, 2000 In the 1970s and 1980s Indiana University Press published a series of books edited by Gwendolen Carter and others on economic and political conditions in Southern Africa during the apartheid era The Uncertain Promise of Southern Africa is a return to that successful format in the post apartheid era Leading scholars analyze the economic political social and cultural conditions in Southern Africa and the prospects for the region The first part of the book examines the current political and development situation in six countries South Africa Namibia Botswana Zimbabwe Angola and Mozambique The second part focuses on issues of enduring importance in the region education health gender the law intra and inter regional power relations international commerce and popular culture The Experience of Economic Redistribution Clarence Tshitereke, 2006-10-09 This book provides an analysis of the country's political economy in transition It documents the history of the gold mining industry's involvement in shaping the political landscape of South Africa and shows the degree to which the political transition was induced to put in place a new mode of regulation for capital accumulation In the process the victims of apartheid have now become victims of democracy's neo liberalism as the government is constrained from being developmental interventionist and redistributive The South African State Transformed? Louis A. Picard, Thomas M. Mogale, Caitlin C. Corrigan, 2024-09-10 This book examines the nature of the 1994 political transition in South Africa and its impact on post apartheid South Africa Specifically it examines the failures of liberalism within the context of the transitional process that led to the institution if not the practice of a non racial state in 1994 The term liberal is an eclectic term defining a several of views political and economic We use the term here within context but essentially define it as a commitment to open views the willingness to consider change and to value basic human rights The nature of institutional change in South Africa as it moved towards a democratic state would influence whether South Africa would succeed as a newly industrializing pluralist democratic country or collapse into yet another African failed state As South Africa moves toward its fourth decade of majority rule the view towards the future is much less promising than it was in 1994 Negotiated Revolutions George Lawson, 2017-03-02 Straightforward histories of post revolution States have all too often failed to provide sufficient context to rescue revolution both as concept and practice from the misplaced triumphalism of the contemporary world In Negotiated Revolutions George Lawson marks a definitive departure in the study of radical political and socio economic change presenting a unique comparative analysis of three transformations from authoritarian rule to market democracy Through the lens of international sociology the book critically considers the large scale processes of social and political revolution bringing three apparently distinct transformations from seemingly disparate authoritarian regimes and geographies under a common rubric With unique and novel conceptual analysis the book accurately locates both the potential and actuality of radical change in contemporary world affairs processes usually mistakenly subsumed under the general framework of transitology Ibss: Political Science: 1991

Demise of South African Apartheid Anton David Lowenberg, William H. Killed Apartheid: The Life of Dimitri Tsafendas Harris Dousemetzis, 2024-03-04 On 6 September 1966 inside the House of Assembly in Cape Town Dimitri Tsafendas stabbed to death Hendrik Verwoerd South Africa's Prime Minister and so called architect of apartheid Tsafendas was immediately arrested and before he had even been questioned by the authorities they declared him a madman without any political motive for the killing In the Cape Supreme Court Tsafendas was found unfit to stand trial on the grounds that he suffered from schizophrenia and that he had no political motive for killing Verwoerd Tsafendas spent the next 28 years in custody making him the longest serving detainee in South African history For most of his incarnation he was subjected to cruel and inhumane treatment by the prison authorities From 2009 to 2018 Harris Dousemetzis extensively researched the assassination of Verwoerd and the life of Tsafendas For this research he travelled to South Africa Mozambique Greece France and Turkey and interviewed about 150 people who either knew Tsafendas or Verwoerd or were involved with the case of the assassination He discovered about 12 000 pages of documents on the case most of them previously unpublished in archival collections in South Africa Portugal and the UK Dousemetzis collaborated with prominent South African jurists psychiatrists and psychologists and concluded his research by writing the Report to the Minister of Justice in the Matter of Dr Verwoerd's Assassination The report conclusively proved that Tsafendas had assassinated Verwoerd for political reasons and that the apartheid authorities had orchestrated a massive operation to declare him insane and apolitical This ground breaking report and this book corrected the historical record regarding Verwoerd's assassination and Tsafendas The Man Who Killed Apartheid based on Dousemetzis's groundbreaking research chronicles in detail Tsafendas's life and conclusively demonstrates that he was a perfectly sane and deeply political person with a long history of political activism. At the same time the book exposes the lie at the heart of apartheid's posture on the assassination of Hendrik Verwoerd and provides a rare picture of how the racist regime operated and what it was like to live and die under apartheid.

Securing South Africa's Democracy G. Cawthra, 1997-07-16 This book examines the defence and security challenges facing the new South Africa in the context of development and nation building priorities. The transformation of security policy during the transition from apartheid and since the April 1994 elections is examined. Challenges facing the defence force and the police service are examined and the relationships between defence development and domestic and external security are explored in an integrated way which points to a policy framework for security in the developing world.

From Colonization to Democracy Alan Lester, 1998-12-31 This account of the development of modern South African society seeks to establish the geographical and historical context in which change has taken place. The author describes important historical continuities in South Africa which have shaped present society including social groupings and their stratification, political institutions, the patterns of human geography, economic structure and external links and influences.

Deconstructing and Reconstructing the Cold War Shahin P. Malik, 2018-12-17 Published in 1999. These essays are not deconstructive in the postmodern sense. None of the authors have that depth of scepticism about knowledge claims but they are all concerned that the terms of reference of Cold War enquiry have been inappropriately bounded. The chapters by Murray and Reynolds specifically address the broad theoretical issues involved with paradigms and explanation. The chapters by Dobson, Marsh, Malik, Evans and Dix stretch out Cold War paradigms with successive case studies of Anglo-American relations, the USA, Britain, Iran and the oil majors, the Gulf States and the Cold War, South Africa and the Cold War and Indian neutralism. All five authors challenge the efficacy of neo-realist analysis and explanation and critique the way that assumptions derived from that position have been used in historical explanation. The chapters by Ryall, Rogers and Bideleux deal with Roman Catholicism in East Central Europe, with nuclear matters and with the Soviet perspective. Each work goes beyond the limits of Cold War paradigms. Finally, Ponting places the Cold War in the broad context of world history. These essays provide thought-provoking scholarship which helps us both to nuance our understanding of the Cold War and to realise that it should not be taken as an all-embracing paradigm for the explanation of postwar international relations.

Africa and U.S. National Interests Frances K. Scott, 1997

The Global Spread Of Arms Frederic S. Pearson, 2018-02-19 This book surveys the broad terrain covered by the concept of the security dilemma and points out landmarks along the route proceeding from proliferation to economic interests, showing that the arms trade is built into development of both industrial technology and political competition.

Global Environmental Politics Gareth Porter, 1991. Essays discuss environmental issues, interest groups, security and trade considerations and future approaches to environmental policy.

The Mind of Black Africa Dickson Mungazi, 1996-02-28 The violent colonization of Africa by European nations toward the end of the 19th century a colonization justified by theories about the African Mind promulgated in the Age of Reason had a profound impact upon the mind of Black Africa After World War II the mind of Black Africa rebelled this rebellion led to a struggle for the self After Africans achieved political independence the new African leaders betrayed their own people Africans now have the responsibility of restoring and reaffirming their true inheritance the mind of Black Africa Special Bibliography Series United States Air Force Academy. Library,1997 Special Bibliography Series ,1957 In the Footsteps of the Masters Dickson Mungazi,2000-02-28 The height of colonial rule on the African continent saw two prominent religious leaders step to the fore Desmond Tutu in South Africa and Abel Muzorewa in Zimbabwe Both Tutu and Muzorewa believed that Africans could govern their own nations responsibly and effectively if only they were given the opportunity In expressing their religious views about the need for social justice each man borrowed from national traditions that had shaped policy of earlier church leaders Tutu and Muzorewa argued that the political development of Africans was essential to the security of the white settlers and that whites should seek the promotion of political development of Africans as a condition of that future security Desmond Tutu and Abel Muzorewa were both motivated by strong religious principles They disregarded the possible personal repercussions that they might suffer as a result of their efforts to alter the fundamental bases of their colonial governments Each man hoped to create a new national climate in which blacks and whites could cooperate to build a new nation Each played a part in eventual independence for Zimbabwe in 1980 and for South Africa in 1994 Mungazi s examination of their efforts reveals how individuals with strong convictions can make a difference in shaping the future of their nations
