South America, Social, Industrial, and Political Frank George Carpenter,1900 Consumption Estimates Showing Production, Imports, Exports, and Amounts Available for Consumption of Various Articles in the United States by Years Specified United States. Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce,1919 Political Conflict and Development in East Asia and Latin America Richard Boyd,Galjart Benno,Tak-Wing Ngo,2007-01-24 Long run processes of socio economic change generate prodigious problems of social conflict and social control and governments responsible for these processes must therefore manage the resultant conflict Consequently the success or failure of a government s management of such conflicts is a crucial factor in development outcomes This volume investigates the political struggle for development specifically in two vital regions East Asia and Latin America This analysis calls into question the dominant emphasis on institutional and cultural bases for stable growth A careful historical account of the two regions is presented which permits the rigorous testing of conventional wisdoms regarding development Of importance to a broad range of academics in the spheres of development studies politics political economy and sociology this book will also make an interesting read for those with a general interest in these areas Annual Report of the President and Directors of the Corn and Flour Exchange of the City of Baltimore ... Chamber of Commerce of Metropolitan Baltimore,1914 History Teacher's Magazine ,1918 The Treasury of Geography, Physical, Historical, Descriptive, and Political William Hughes,Samuel Maunder,1856 The Publishers Weekly ,1910 The Treasury of Geography, Physical, Historical, Descriptive, and Political: Containing a Succinct Account of Every Country in the World William Hughes,1860

Reshaping the Political Arena in Latin America Eduardo Silva,Federico Rossi,2018-05-22 Neoliberalism changed the face of Latin America and left average citizens struggling to cope in many ways Popular sectors were especially hard hit as wages declined and unemployment increased The backlash to neoliberalism in the form of popular protest and electoral mobilization opened space for leftist governments to emerge The turn to left governments raised popular expectations for a second wave of incorporation Although a growing literature has analyzed many aspects of left governments there is no study of how the redefinition of the organized popular sectors their allies and their struggles have reshaped the political arena to include their interests until now This volume examines the role played in the second wave of incorporation by political parties trade unions and social movements in five cases Argentina Bolivia Brazil Ecuador and Venezuela The cases shed new light on a subject critical to understanding the change in the distribution of political power related to popular sectors and their interests a key issue in the study of postneoliberalism Current Literature ,1900 The Economic Position of the United Kingdom: 1912-1918 Roy Samuel MacElwee,William Andrew aPaton,Frederick George Nichols,1919 Guntton's Magazine of American Economics and Political Science ,1897 Reorganizing Popular Politics Ruth Berins Collier,Samuel Handlin,2015-10-29 A historic shift has occurred in the organizational structures through which the lower classes in Latin America express voice and find political representation With the political and economic reforms of the 1980s and 1990s networks of community based associations and nongovernmental organizations replaced party affiliated labor unions as the predominant organizations to which the lower classes turned This volume examines the new interest regime in Argentina Chile Peru and Venezuela through two extensive surveys one of individuals and one of associations undertaken in those nations capital cities Contrary to common perceptions the new interest regime is neither a vibrant autonomous civil society nor a set of weak atomized organizations Participation in associations is generally high compared to direct action as a strategy for pursuing collective interests and associations more frequently coordinate and engage the state than has sometimes been assumed However various forms of interaction with the state pose a classic trade off between representation and state control and the new interest regime is marked by representational distortion in that the lower classes are less likely to use the new structures than the middle classes Within these general patterns distinct national models are emerging This volume represents the most ambitious and systematic effort to date to examine individual participation and associational life in Latin America and to carry out a cross national analysis of new forms of political representation Transnational Governance and South American Politics Alejandro M. Peña, 2016-11-04 This book examines the interface between transnational private governance and domestic politics in South America It explores the social and political factors that condition how global private norms discourses and initiatives dealing with sustainability and CSR regulation are engaged with hybridized and challenged by local actors in Argentina and Brazil Inverting the conventional approach to global governance studies it unpacks the complex forms in which domestic political cultural elements embed global norms and discourses with meaning and mobilizing power conditioning their appeal to potential participants and supporters In doing so the author illuminates the receiving side of private regulation and governance developing a nuanced understanding of transnational norm diffusion wherein political and ideational factors in the global South are granted primacy over global structures processes and agents Training for Foreign Trade Roy Samuel MacElwee, Frederick George Nichols, 1919
