more fervently attached to slavery and no city was seen by the North as a greater threat to the bonds barely holding together the Union And so with Abraham Lincoln s election looming Charleston s leaders faced a climactic decision they could submit to abolition or they could drive South Carolina out of the Union and hope that the rest of the South would follow In Madness Rules the Hour Paul Starobin tells the story of how Charleston succumbed to a fever for war and charts the contagion s relentless progress and bizarre turns In doing so he examines the wily propagandists the ambitious politicians the gentlemen merchants and their wives and daughters the compliant pastors and the white workingmen who waged a violent and exuberant revolution in the name of slavery and Southern independence They devoured the Mercury the incendiary newspaper run by a fanatical father and son made holy the deceased John C Calhoun and adopted Le Marseillaise as a rebellious anthem Madness Rules the Hour is a portrait of a culture in crisis and an insightful investigation into the folly that fractured the Union and started the Civil War Dictionary of South Carolina Biography Richard N. South Carolina Women Marjorie Julian Spruill,2010-01-25 The biographical essays in this volume provide new insights into the various ways that South Carolina women asserted themselves in their state and illuminate the tension between tradition and change that defined the South from the Civil War through the Progressive Era As old rules including gender conventions that severely constrained southern women were dramatically bent if not broken these women carved out new roles for themselves and others The volume begins with a profile of Laura Towne and Ellen Murray who founded the Penn School on St Helena Island for former slaves Subsequent essays look at such women as the five Rollin sisters members of a prominent black family who became passionate advocates for women s rights during Reconstruction writer Josephine Pinckney who helped preserve African American spirituals and explored conflicts between the New and Old South in her essays and novels and Dr Matilda Evans the first African American woman licensed to practice medicine in the state Intractable racial attitudes often caused women to follow separate but parallel paths as with Louisa B Poppenheim and Marion B Wilkinson Poppenheim who was white and Wilkinson who was black were both driving forces in the women s club movement Both saw clubs as a way not only to help women and children but also to showcase these positive changes to the wider nation Yet the two women worked separately as did the white and black state federations of women s clubs Often mixing deference with daring these women helped shape their society through such avenues as education religion politics community organizing history the arts science and medicine Women in the mid and late twentieth century would build on
