Subject Index to Periodicals, 2008 Light of the Spirit Karekin Goekjian, Robert Peacock, 1998 This volume features photographs and biographies of twenty one acclaimed self taught artists from four states in the American South Each artist is shown here in a portrait with examples of his work Most create and paint three dimensional objects of wood metal found materials clay or cement whirligigs animals religious subjects portrait sculptures Many especially Finster Ruth Rice Hall and Simpson also decorate their houses and yards with their art and create fantastical sculpture gardens Central to Their Lives Lynne Blackman, 2018-06-20 Scholarly essays on the achievements of female artists working in and inspired by the American South Looking back at her lengthy career just four years before her death modernist painter Nell Blaine said Art is central to my life Not being able to make or see art would be a major deprivation The Virginia native s creative path began early and during the course of her life she overcame significant barriers in her quest to make and even see art including serious vision problems polio and paralysis And then there was her gender In 1957 Blaine was hailed by Life magazine as someone to watch profiled alongside four other emerging painters whom the journalist praised not as notable women artists but as notable artists who happen to be women In Central to Their Lives twenty six noted art historians offer scholarly insight into the achievements of female artists working in and inspired by the American South Spanning the decades between the late 1890s and early 1960s this volume examines the complex challenges these artists faced in a traditionally conservative region during a period in which women's social, cultural, and political roles were being redefined and reinterpreted. The presentation and its companion exhibition features artists from all of the Southern states including Dusti Bong, Anne Goldthwaite, Anna Hyatt Huntington, Ida Kohlmeyer, Lois Mailou Jones, Alma Thomas, and Helen Turner. These essays examine how the variables of historical gender norms, educational barriers, race, regionalism, sisterhood, suffrage, and modernism mitigated and motivated these women who were seeking expression on canvas or in clay. Whether working from studio space in spare rooms at home or on the world stage, these artists made remarkable contributions to the art world while fostering future generations of artists through instruction, incorporating new aesthetics into the fine arts, and challenging the status quo. Sylvia Yount, the Lawrence A. Fleischman Curator in Charge of the American Wing at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, provides a foreword to the volume. Contributors: Sara C. Arnold, Daniel Belasco, Lynne Blackman, Carolyn J. Brown, Erin R. Corrales, Diaz John, A. Cuthbert, Juilee Decker, Nancy M. Doll, Jane W. Faquin, Elizabeth C. Hamilton, Elizabeth S. Reminiscences of a Portrait Painter (1894) George Peter Alexander Healy, 2008-10-01. This scarce antiquarian book is a facsimile reprint of the original. Due to its age, it may contain imperfections such as marks, notations, marginalia, and flawed pages. Because we believe this work is culturally important, we have made it available as part of our commitment for protecting, preserving, and promoting the world's literature in affordable, high-quality modern editions that are true to the original work.

John Singleton Copley James Thomas Flexner, 1948. A book for both the general reader of American history and the student of art, Flexner's study of Copley, 1738-1815, brings into vivid detail the struggle the artist endured against an unfavorable environment in the New World, his rise to fame, the development of his unique style, and the personal growth of the man who became America's first great artist. Copley's life began in the humble surroundings of Boston's waterfront. As a poor boy growing up in a city where no formal art instruction was available, rigorous self-instruction was Copley's only means to his goal of becoming a painter. Through laborious work, Copley mastered his craft; the portraits he produced between 1753 and 1774, at the height of his fame, were distinguished by the fully rounded modeling and realism which make the personalities of his subjects come alive. His paintings in these years were the best works a colonial American artist had ever produced. Yet his personal letters reveal that he found life in Boston limited; he cites the dearth of great art from which to learn and by which to be inspired, and complains of what he perceives to be the underappreciation of his patrons. The Boston Tea Party and other events led inexorably toward the Revolution. Copley was unwillingly drawn into the troubled political arena; his loyalist connections made his life in Boston increasingly turbulent and precarious. In 1774, at the suggestion of Joshua Reynolds and Benjamin West, Copley became convinced he was wasting his talents in the colonies and moved to London to study the European masters This decision marked the second period of his life lasting forty years and instigated a no less dramatic shift in the style and subject of his art Copley's tour of European cities and galleries broadened the range and scope of his work He produced large canvases of sweeping historical scenes of war political subjects and religious subjects considered taboo in the colonies

Robert S. Duncanson Charlotte Etinde-Crompton, Samuel Willard Crompton, 2019-12-15 Born in 1821 to a Scottish Canadian father and an African American mother Robert S Duncanson is widely considered to be the first black artist to become world famous He began as a house painter and from there moved on to portraits and landscapes A self taught artist influenced by the Hudson River School of painters Duncanson traveled throughout North America and Europe to hone his craft By the 1860s the press had dubbed him the best landscape painter in the West This was high praise given the fierce racial prejudice of the time Unfortunately mental health problems cut Duncanson's career and life short but readers will still be inspired by this tremendously talented individual
