Sovereign Bodies Citizens Migrants And States In The Postcolonial World:

Sovereign Bodies Thomas Blom Hansen, Finn Stepputat, 2005-04-24 Sovereign Bodies explores embedded practices cultural meanings of sovereign power violence as well as de facto practices of citizenship belonging to a range of different contexts across the postcolonial world

Asylum Seekers, Sovereignty, and the Senses of the International Eeva Puumala, 2016-11-25 The confrontation between asylum seeking and sovereignty has mainly focused on ways in which the movement and possibilities of refugees and migrants are limited In this volume instead of departing from the practices of governance and surveillance Puumala begins with the moving body its engagements and relations and examines different ways of seeing and sensing the struggle between asylum seekers and sovereign practices Puumala asserts that our political imagination is being challenged in its ways of ordering practicing and thinking about the international and those relations we call international The issues relating to asylum seekers are one example of the deficiencies in the spatiotemporal logic upon which these relations were originally built words such as nation people sovereignty and community are challenged Conventional methods of governing regulating and administering increased forms of mobility are in trouble which gives rise to the invention of new technologies at borders and introduces regulations and spaces of exception Based on extensive fieldwork that sheds light on a range of Europe wide practices in the field of asylum and migration policies this book will be of interest to scholars of IR theory biopolitics and migration as well as critical security more broadly

Discerning the Powers in Post-Colonial Africa and Asia Pak Nung Wong, 2016-02-17 Qualifying post Westphalian sovereign statehood as a power as argued for in Hendrik Berkhoff's political theology this book addresses the decades long theological spiritual debate between Christian realism and Christian pacifism in U S foreign policy and global Christian circles It approaches the debate by delving into the pacifist Anabaptist political theology and delineates empirically how sovereign statehood in post colonial Africa and Asia has fallen into the hands of the devil Satan as a fallen power in the Foucaultian terms of power structures techniques and episteme While the book offers intervention schemes and options it holds that Christian statecraft remains the source of hope to effectively address a number of serious global issues By extension the book is thus an invitation to ignite debates on the suitability of Christian statecraft and the nexus between spirituality and world politics making it especially interesting for scholars and students in the fields of International Politics Politics of Asian and African States Post colonial Studies and Political Theology

Ingenious Citizenship Charles T. Lee, 2016-02-05 In Ingenious Citizenship Charles T Lee centers the daily experiences and actions of migrant domestic workers sex workers transgender people and suicide bombers in his rethinking of mainstream models of social change Bridging cultural and political theory with analyses of film literature and ethnographic sources Lee shows how these abject populations find ingenious and improvisational ways to disrupt and appropriate practices of liberal citizenship When voting and other forms of civic engagement are unavailable or ineffective the subversive acts of a domestic worker breaking a dish or a prostitute using the strategies and language of an entrepreneur challenge the accepted norms of political action Taken to the extreme a young Palestinian woman blowing herself up in a Jerusalem supermarket questions two of liberal citizenship's most cherished values life and liberty Using these examples to critically reinterpret political agency citizenship practices and social transformation Lee reveals the limits of organizing change around a human rights discourse Moreover his subjects offer crucial lessons in how to turn even the worst conditions and the most unstable positions in society into footholds for transformative and democratic agency

Impossible Citizens Neha Vora, 2013-03-18 Since the 1970s Indian workers have flooded into Dubai enabling its construction boom Barred from becoming citizens they comprise the emirate's largest noncitizen population Neha Vora examines their existence in a state of permanent temporariness State Violence and Human Rights Steffen Jensen, Andrew Jefferson, 2009-02-13 Addressing how state representatives have to negotiate the tensions between international legal imperatives the expectations of donors the demands of institutions as well as their own interests State Violence and Human Rights addresses how legal practices rooted in global human rights discourse or local demands take hold in societies where issues of state violence remain to be resolved The Everyday Lives of Sovereignty Rebecca Bryant, Madeleine Reeves, 2021-06-15 Around the world border walls and nationalisms are on the rise as people express the desire to take back sovereignty The contributors to this collection use ethnographic research in disputed and exceptional places to study sovereignty claims from the ground up While it might immediately seem that citizens desire a stronger state the cases of compromised contested or failed sovereignty in this volume point instead to political imaginations beyond the state form Examples from Spain to Afghanistan and from Western Sahara to Taiwan show how calls to take back control or to bring back order are best understood as longings for sovereign agency By paying close ethnographic attention to these desires and their consequences The Everyday Lives of Sovereignty offers a new way to understand why these yearnings have such profound political resonance in a globally interconnected world Contributors Panos Achniotis Jens Bartelson Joyce Dalsheim Dace Dzenovska Sara L Friedman Azra Hromadi Louisa Lombard Alice Wilson and Torunn Wimpelmann

Making Refugees in India Ria Kapoor, 2022 Offering a global history of India's refugee regime Making Refugees in India explores how one of the first postcolonial states during the mid twentieth century wave of decolonisation rewrote global practices surrounding refugees signified by India's refusal to sign the 1951 UN Refugee Convention In broadening the scope of this decision well beyond the Partition of India starting with the so called Wilsonian moment and extending to the 1970s the refugee is placed within the postcolonial effort to address the inequalities of the subject citizenship of the British empire through the fullest realisation of self determination India's strategically ambiguous approach to refugees is thus far from ad hoc revealing a startling consistency when viewed in conversation of postcolonial state building and anti imperial worldmaking to address inequity across the former colonies The anti colonial cry for self determination as the source of all rights it is revealed in this work was in tension with the universal human rights that focused on the individual and the figure of the refugee felt this irreconcilable difference most intensely To elucidate this this work explores contrasts in Indians and Europeans rights in the British empire and in World War Two refugee rehabilitation during Partition the arrival of the Tibetan refugees and the East Pakistani refugee crisis Ria Kapoor finds that the refugee was constitutive of postcolonial Indian citizenship and that assistance permitted to refugees a share of the rights guaranteed by self determination depended on their potential to threaten or support national sovereignty that allowed Indian experiences to be included in the shaping of universal principles The State of Sovereignty Douglas Howland, Luise S. White, 2009

The State of Sovereignty examines how it came to pass that the nation state became the prevailing form of governance in the world today Spanning the 19th and 20th centuries and addressing colonization and decolonization around the globe these essays argue that sovereignty is a set of historically contingent practices and not something that accrues naturally to states The contributors explore the different ways in which sovereign political forms have been defined and have defined themselves placing recent debates about nations and national identity within a broader history of sovereignty territory and legality Citizenship as Cultural Flow Subrata K Mitra, 2013-01-29 The book addresses the very topical subject of citizen making By delving into a range of sources among them survey questions historical documents political theory architectural design and public policy the book provides a unique analysis of when and why citizenship has taken root in India Each chapter highlights the constant innovation of citizenship that has occurred in India s legal political social economic and aesthetic arrangements as well as providing the basis for comparative analysis across South Asian cases and the European Union

Walled States, Waning Sovereignty Wendy Brown, 2014-02-07 Discusses the spate of wall building by countries around the world and considers the reasons why walls are being built in an increasingly globalized world in which threats to security come from sources that cannot be contained by brick and barbed wire Citizenship after Orientalism Engin Isin, 2016-04-29 This edited volume presents a critique of citizenship as exclusively and even originally a European or Western institution It explores the ways in which we may begin to think differently about citizenship as political subjectivity

Ambiguous Citizenship in an Age of Global Migration Aoileann Ni Mhurchu, 2014-07-15 Citizenship is widely understood in binary statist terms inclusion exclusion past present with the emphasis on how globalization brings such binaries into focus and exacerbates them This book highlights the limitations of these positions and of current debate and explores the possibility that citizenship is being reconfigured in contemporary political life beyond binary state oriented categories Citizenship After Orientalism Engin F Isin, 2015-10-14 This collection offers a postcolonial critique of the ostensible superiority or originality of Western political theory and one of its fundamental concepts citizenship The chapters analyse the undoing uncovering and reinventing of citizenship as a way of investigating citizenship as political subjectivity If it has now become very difficult to imagine citizenship merely as nationality or membership in the nation state this is at least in part because of the anticolonial struggles and the project of reimagining citizenship after orientalism that they precipitated If it has become difficult to sustain the orientalist assumption the question arises how do we investigate citizenship as political subjectivity after orientalism This book was originally published as a special issue of Citizenship Studies The Mortal God Milinda Banerjee,2018-04-19 The Mortal God is a study in intellectual history which uncovers how actors in colonial India imagined various figures of human divine and messianic rulers to battle over the nature and locus of sovereignty It studies British and Indian political intellectual elites as well as South Asian peasant activists giving particular attention to Bengal including the associated princely states of Cooch Behar and Tripura Global intellectual history approaches are deployed to place India within wider trajectories of royal nationhood that unfolded across contemporaneous Europe and Asia The book intervenes within theoretical debates about sovereignty and political theology and offers novel arguments about decolonizing and subalternizing sovereignty Soft Borders J. Mostov,2008-05-26 While sovereignty is increasingly contested within academic circles most recent military conflicts have been over issues of sovereignty in some form Focusing on Yugoslavia in the 1990s this book explores the issues surrounding sovereignty and calls for a radical rethinking of the notion and the institutions and practices that it grounds Policing and the Politics of Order-Making Peter Albrecht,Helene Maria Kyed,2014-10-30 This anthology explores the political nature of making order through policing activities in densely populated spaces across Africa Asia and Latin America Based on ethnographic research the chapters analyze this complex with respect to marginalized young men in Haiti community policing members and national politicians in Swaziland as well as other individual and collective actors engaged in policing and politics in Indonesia Swaziland Ghana South Africa Mexico Bolivia Haiti and Sierra Leone What these contexts have in common is a plurality of order making practices Not one institution monopolizes the means of violence or a de facto sovereign position to do so A number of interests are played out simultaneously entailing re negotiations over the very definition of what order is How and by whom a particular order is enforced is contested at times violently so and is therefore inherently political In the existing literature on weak states legal pluralism and policing in the Global South it is seldom made explicit that making order is a route to power and positions of political decision making It is this gap in the literature that this anthology fills as it analyses the politics at stake in processes of order making Within and Beyond Citizenship Roberto G. Gonzales,Nando Sigona,2017-07-06 Within and Beyond Citizenship brings together cutting edge research in sociology and social anthropology on the relationship between legal status rights and belonging in contemporary societies of immigration to offer a daring new perspective on these questions It offers new insights into the ways in which political membership is experienced spatially and bureaucratically constructed and actively negotiated and contested in the everyday lives of citizens and non citizens Sovereignty Revisited Åshild Kolås,Pedro Ibarra Güell,2017-08-07 This book explores the new debates on Basque sovereignty and statehood that have emerged in the post violence Basque political scenario It deciphers how sovereignty is understood or imagined by a revitalized civil society after the unilateral cessation of operations by ETA Basque Homeland and Freedom The contributors to this book investigate the new political field developing in the nexus between conventional party politics established socio cultural and linguistic organizations creative civil society initiatives and innovative activism This book is for graduate students scholars and professionals in political science social anthropology European studies political philosophy transnational studies sociology political geography and global studies It will also be of interest to academic specialists in Basque studies specialists working on sovereignty nationalism and globalization and professionals in governance international relations foreign affairs European politics and diplomacy

Imagining Afghanistan Nivi Manchanda, 2020-07-09 Over time and across different genres Afghanistan has been presented to the world as potential ally dangerous enemy gendered space and mysterious locale These powerful if competing visions seek to make sense of Afghanistan and to render it legible In this innovative examination Nivi Manchanda uncovers and critically explores Anglophone practices of knowledge cultivation and representational strategies and argues that Afghanistan occupies a distinctive place in the imperial imagination over determined and under theorised owing largely to the particular history of imperial intervention in the region Focusing on representations of gender state and tribes Manchanda re historicises and de mythologises the study of Afghanistan through a sustained critique of colonial forms of knowing and demonstrates how the development of pervasive tropes in Western conceptions of Afghanistan have enabled Western intervention invasion and bombing in the region from the nineteenth century to the present
