The Anthem Companion to Harold Garfinkel Philippe Sormani, Dirk vom Lehn, 2023-07-25 The Anthem Companion to Harold Garfinkel brings together leading scholars and upcoming researchers in contemporary ethnomethodology to bring out the experimental character of Garfinkel's legacy in the social sciences and beyond Therefore the Companion takes its cue from Garfinkel's noted breaching experiments enabling the reflexive investigation of trust conditions in situ and asks how this research interest has been productively pursued and distinctively rearticulated both within and beyond Garfinkel's oeuvre Whilst Garfinkel's experimental legacy is often acknowledged no systematic introduction to its distinctive outlook tension riddled diversification and heuristic interest is available to date The Anthem Companion to Harold Garfinkel both fills and reflects upon that gap in the literature thereby articulating ethnomethodology's experimental outlook if not recasting its current research directions

Franks, 2010-04-19 As a career sociologist I first became interested in neurosociology around 1987 when a graduate student lent me Michael Gazzaniga's The Social Brain. If the biological human brain was really social I thought sociologists and their students should be the first not the last to know. As I read on I found little of the clumsy reductionism of the earlier biosociologists whom I had learned to see as the arch enemy of our field. Clearly reductionism does exist among many neuroscientists. But I also found some things that were very social and quite relevant for sociology. After reading Descartes' Error by Antonio Damasio I learned how some types of emotion were necessary for rational thought, a very radical innovation for the long honored objective rationalist. I started inserting some things about split brain research into my classes, mispronouncing terms like amygdala and being corrected by my students. That instruction helped me realize how much we professors needed to catch up with our students. I also wrote a review of Leslie Brothers' Fridays Footprint: How Society Shapes the Human Mind. I thought if she could write so well about social processes maybe I could attempt to do something similar in connection with my field. For several years I found her an e-mail partner with a wonderful sense of humor. She even retrieved copies of her book for the use of my graduate students when I had assigned it for a seminar.

A Marriage of Philosophy and Music Erich Welling, 2014-04 How to use philosophy and music to open your horizons and enjoy being yourself put theory to work and help you experience personal growth is discussed in A Marriage of Philosophy and Music. It is all about after. After having a liberal education you are comfortable in modern culture and after further education and becoming a specialist in some field you enjoy using your skills. We learn the ideas and methods of many social cultures and our own chosen specialty but we often neglect the liberal art of disciplining and enjoying the ideas and methods of our own individuality. This book offers a path toward the education of privacy with the key words being selection, design, and beauty. The book relates five areas of general human interest: spirituality, philosophy, science, art, and body awareness. The interrelation is accomplished by using personal patterns of experience that are available from philosophy and music. Because of the plurality of subject matters and methods used in philosophy and music, their patterns of discipline are comparable to self-discipline. A Marriage of Philosophy and Music attempts to create a path in this direction because besides the enjoyment of social culture and personal skills, there is enjoyment in being yourself, which is a neglected liberal art.

Prolegomena to a Carnal Hermeneutics Hwa Yol Jung, 2014-08-14 Prolegomena to a Carnal Hermeneutics introduces the importance of body politics from both Eastern and Western perspectives. Hwa Yol Jung begins with Giambattista Vico's anti-Cartesianism as the birth of the discipline. He then explores the homecoming of Greek mousike performing arts which included oral poetry, dance, drama, and music. Mikhail Bakhtin's dialogical body politics, the making of body politics in Hannah Arendt, Emmanuel Levinas, and Luce Irigaray, Marshall McLuhan's transversal and embodied philosophy of communication and transversal geophilosophy. This tour de force will be an engaging read for anyone interested in the above thinkers as well as for students and scholars of comparative philosophy, communication theory, environmental philosophy, political philosophy, or continental
