The SAGE Encyclopedia of Contemporary Early Childhood Education Donna Couchenour, J. Kent Chrisman, 2016-08-16 The general public often views early childhood education as either simply babysitting or as preparation for later learning. Of course, both viewpoints are simplistic. Deep understanding of child development, best educational practices based on development, emergent curriculum, cultural competence and applications of family systems are necessary for high quality early education. Highly effective early childhood education is rare in that it requires collaboration and transitions among a variety of systems for children from birth through eight years of age. The SAGE Encyclopedia of Contemporary Early Childhood Education presents in three comprehensive volumes advanced research, accurate practical applications of research, historical foundations and key facts from the field of contemporary early childhood education. Through approximately 425 entries, this work includes all areas of child development: physical, cognitive, language, social, emotional, aesthetic, as well as a comprehensive review of best educational practices with young children, effective preparation for early childhood professionals and policy making practices, and addresses such questions as: How is the field of early childhood education defined? What are the roots of this field of study? How is the history of early childhood education similar to yet different from the study of public education? What are the major influences on understandings of best practices in early childhood education?

Autoethnography as Method Heewon Chang, 2016-07-01 This methods book will guide the reader through the process of conducting and producing an autoethnographic study through the understanding of self, other and culture. Readers will be encouraged to follow hands-on, though not prescriptive steps in data collection, analysis and interpretation with self-reflective prewriting exercises and self-narrative writing exercises to produce their own autoethnographic work. Chang offers a variety of techniques for gathering data on the self from diaries to culture grams to interviews with others and shows how to transform this information into a study that looks for the connection with others present in a diverse world. She shows how the autoethnographic process promotes self-reflection, understanding of multicultural others, qualitative inquiry and narrative writing. Samples of published autoethnographies provide exemplars for the novice researcher to follow.

Developing a Model for Culturally Responsive Experiential Education Elizabeth Laura Yomantas, 2023-12-01 This book provides a new empirically informed framework designed to equip higher education faculty with the tools to help students engage in humanizing, mutually beneficial and anti-colonial experiential education alongside other students and communities around the world The author maps the conceptual development of culturally responsive experiential education CREE as a novel framework situated at the nexus of culturally responsive research methodologies the Indigenous research paradigm critical service learning and critical pedagogy in experiential education The chapters detail qualitative research findings from an undergraduate CREE program in rural Fiji to illustrate the implementation of the novel CREE framework and discuss post program possibilities based on the research study findings Situated in narrative inquiry the book also includes interspersed participant vignettes in order to center student voices and illuminate the research study findings With attention to themes including emergent critical consciousness critical allyship and personal journeys of decolonization as experienced through the CREE framework it will be of benefit to both education scholars and higher education faculty interested in experiential education and culturally responsive pedagogies

Progress and Its Impact on the Nagas Tezenlo Thong, 2016-03-23 The term progress is a modern Western notion that life is always improving and advancing toward an ideal state It is a vital modern concept which underlies geographic explorations and scientific and technological inventions as well as the desire to harness nature in order to increase human beings ease and comfort With the advent of Western colonization and to the great detriment of the colonized the notion of progress began to perniciously and pervasively permeate across cultures This book details the impact of the notion of progress on the Nagas and their culture The interaction between the Nagas and the West beginning with British military conquest and followed by American missionary intrusion has resulted in the gradual demise of Naga culture It is almost a cliché to assert that since the colonial contact the long evolved Naga traditional values are being replaced by Western values Consequences are still being felt in the lack of sense of direction and confusion among the Nagas today Just like other Indigenous Peoples whose history is characterized by traumatic cultural turmoil because of colonial interference the Nagas have long been engaged in self shame self negation and self sabotage
