South Africa Racial Conflict And Identity In Selected South African Novels:

South Africa: A Botched Civilization? Jane Davis, 1996-12-26 South Africa A Botched Civilization examines how South African novelists both Black and white portray the impact of racial conflict on the identities of both the oppressed and the oppressor This book gives an in depth analysis of several major authors and focuses on prejudice and its consequences The discussion of racism and identity is of central importance to the history and the present of South Africa While the book focuses on literature of the era of segregation and of apartheid the analysis of the novels reveals barriers to past present and future racial progress in South Africa

Black African Literature in English, 1997-1999 Bernth Lindfors, 2003 This volume lists the work produced on anglophone black African literature between 1997 and 1999 This bibliographic work is a continuation of the highly acclaimed earlier volumes compiled by Bernth Lindfors Containing about 10 000 entries some of which are annotated to identify the authors discussed it covers books periodical articles papers in edited collections and selective coverage of other relevant sources

South Africa: A Botched Civilization? Jane Davis, 1997 South Africa A Botched Civilization examines how South African novelists both Black and white portray the impact of racial conflict on the identities of both the oppressed and the oppressor This book gives an in depth analysis of several major authors and focuses on prejudice and its consequences The discussion of racism and identity is of central importance to the history and the present of South Africa While the book focuses on literature of the era of segregation and of apartheid the analysis of the novels reveals barriers to past present and future racial progress in South Africa

Racism Albert J. Wheeler, 2000 Of all mankind's vices racism is one of the most pervasive and stubborn Success in overcoming racism has been achieved from time to time but victories have been limited thus far because mankind has focused on personal economic gain or power grabs ignoring generosity of the soul This bibliography brings together the literature providing access by subject groupings as well as author and subject indexes Contents Racial Attitudes Racism and Poverty Hate Groups Racial Justice Racism and Politics Race Discrimination Racial Identity Racism Around the World

South African Writers Paul A. Scanlon, 2000 Essays on South African writers from the South African War or Anglo Boer War 1899 1902 to the Act of Union in 1910 when the defeated Boer republics were joined together by British Parliament into what became modern South Africa Discusses the beginnings of South Africa literature in English as well as the impact the discovery of gold and diamonds had Genres mentioned include travel books hunter adventure romances and South African realist fiction

Richard Wright Kenneth Kinnamon, 2014-11-04 African American writer Richard Wright 1908 1960 was celebrated during the early 1940s for his searing autobiography Black Boy and fiction Native Son By 1947 he felt so unwelcome in his homeland that he exiled himself and his family in Paris But his writings changed American culture forever and today they are mainstays of literature and composition classes He and his works are also the subjects of numerous critical essays and commentaries by contemporary writers This volume presents a comprehensive annotated bibliography of those essays books and articles from 1983 through

2003 Arranged alphabetically by author within years are some 8 320 entries ranging from unpublished dissertations to book length studies of African American literature and literary criticism Also included as an appendix are addenda to the author's earlier bibliography covering the years from 1934 through 1982 This is the exhaustive reference for serious students of Richard Wright and his critics Silence and Silencing in Selected African Novels Oumar Chérif Diop, 2025-09-04 Through literary analysis this book examines how African writers address silence and oppression in novels and poetry Silence and Silencing in Selected African Novels Power Dynamics and Transformative Voices by Oumar Chérif Diop explores representations of rhetorical sociocultural and gendered silence and silencing within selected African literature He examines how African writers deconstruct normative discourses and use aesthetic forms and narrative techniques to confront silencing systems Within these literary works characters express their thoughts emotions fears anxieties and protest through their silence Through textual analysis Diop explores the spaces where silence and silencing occur and how they highlight power dynamics and enforce oppressive structures These texts also reveal the transformative potential of silence to illustrate the resilience of marginalized characters and their inspiring struggle against the censoring mechanisms of repressive institutions Breaking the silence becomes an act of reclaiming agency and challenging oppressive forces Diop shows how the importance of voice in the struggle for justice and the potential for individual actions inspires broader movements for change

International African Bibliography, 1997 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2001 Not White Enough, Not Black Enough Mohamed Adhikari, 2005-11-17 The concept of Colouredness being neither white nor black has been pivotal to the brand of racial thinking particular to South African society The nature of Coloured identity and its heritage of oppression has always been a matter of intense political and ideological contestation Not White Enough Not Black Enough Racial Identity in the South African Coloured Community is the first systematic study of Coloured identity its history and its relevance to South African national life Mohamed Adhikari engages with the debates and controversies thrown up by the identity's troubled existence and challenges much of the conventional wisdom associated with it A combination of wide ranging thematic analyses and detailed case studies illustrates how Colouredness functioned as a social identity from the time of its emergence in the late nineteenth century through its adaptation to the postapartheid environment Adhikari demonstrates how the interplay of marginality racial hierarchy assimilationist aspirations negative racial stereotyping class divisions and ideological conflicts helped mold people's sense of Colouredness over the past century Knowledge of this history and of the social and political dynamic that informed the articulation of a separate Coloured identity is vital to an understanding of present day complexities in South Africa Journal on Excellence in College Teaching, 2007 Reflections on Identity in Four African Cities S. B. Bekker, Anne Leildé, 2006 Identity has become the watchword of our times In sub-Saharan Africa this certainly appears to be true and for particular reasons Africa is urbanising rapidly cross border migration streams are swelling and globalising influences sweep across the continent Africa is also facing up to the challenge of nurturing emergent democracies in which citizens often feel torn between older traditional and newer national loyalties Accordingly collective identities are deeply coloured by recent urban as well as international experience and are squarely located within identity politics where reconciliation is required between state nation building strategies and sub national affiliations They are also fundamentally shaped by the growing inequality and the poverty found on this continent These themes are explored by an international set of scholars in two South African and two Francophone cities The relative importance to urban residents of race class and ethnicity but also of work space and language are compared in these cities This volume also includes a chapter investigating the emergence of a continental African identity A recent report of the Office of the South African President claims that a strong national identity is emerging among its citizens and that race and ethnicity are waning whilst a class identity is in the ascendance The evidence and analyses within this volume serve to gauge the extent to which such claims ring true in what everyone knows is a much more complex and shifting terrain of shared meanings than can ever be captured by such generalisations

Racial Integration in the Church of Apartheid Marthe Hesselmanns, 2018-11-01 In Racial Integration in the Church of Apartheid Marthe Hesselmanns uncovers the post apartheid transformation of South Africa s Dutch Reformed Church This church once constituted the religious pillar of the Afrikaner apartheid regime 1948 1994 Today it seeks to unite the communities it long segregated into one multiracial institution Few believe this will succeed A close look inside congregations reveals unexpected stories of reconciliation though Where South Africans realize they need each other to survive faith offers common ground albeit a feeble one They show the potential but also the limits of faith communities untangling entrenched national and racial affiliations Linking South Africa s post apartheid transition to religious nationalist movements worldwide Hesselmanns offers a unique perspective on religion as source of division and healing

Revolution and Non-Violence in Tolstoy, Gandhi, and Mandela Imraan Coovadia, 2020-07-21 The dangers of political violence and the possibilities of non violence were the central themes of three lives which changed the twentieth century Leo Tolstoy writer and aristocrat who turned against his class Mohandas Gandhi who corresponded with Tolstoy and considered him the most important person of the time and Nelson Mandela prisoner and statesman who read War and Peace on Robben Island and who despite having led a campaign of sabotage saw himself as a successor to Gandhi Tolstoy Gandhi and Mandela tried to create transformed societies to replace the dying forms of colony and empire They found the inequalities of Russia India and South Africa intolerable yet they questioned the wisdom of seizing the power of the state creating new kinds of political organisation and imagination to replace the old promises of revolution Their views along with their ways of leading others are closely connected from their insistence on working with their own hands and reforming their individual selves to their acceptance of death On three continents in a century of mass mobilization and conflict they promoted strains of nationalism devoid of antagonism prepared to take part in a general peace Looking at Tolstoy Gandhi and Mandela in sequence taking into account their letters and conversations as well as the institutions they created or subverted placing at the centre their treatment of the primal fantasy of political violence this volume reveals a vital radical tradition which stands outside the conventional categories of twentieth century history and politics ALA Bulletin ,1999 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,1998 Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1997 Bibliographic Guide to Black Studies Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture,1997 African American Review ,2000 As the official publication of the Division on Black American Literature and Culture of the Modern Language Association of America African American review promotes an exchange among writers and scholars in the arts humanities and social sciences who hold diverse perspectives of African American literature and culture The Ambiguity of English as a Lingua Franca Stephanie Rudwick,2021-08-29 Grounded in ethnography this monograph explores the ambiguity of English as a lingua franca by focusing on identity politics of language and race in contemporary South Africa The book adopts a multidisciplinary approach which highlights how ways of speaking English constructs identities in a multilingual context Focusing primarily on isiZulu and Afrikaans speakers it raises critical questions around power and ideology The study draws from literature on English as a lingua franca raciolinguistics and the cultural politics of English and dialogues between these fields It challenges long held concepts underpinning existing research from the global North by highlighting how they do not transfer and apply to identity politics of language in South Africa It sketches out how these struggles for belonging are reflected in marginalisation and empowerment and a vast range of local global and glocal identity trajectories Ultimately it offers a first lens through which global scholarship on English as a lingua franca can be decolonised in terms of disciplinary limitations geopolitical orientations and a focus on the politics of race that characterize the use of English as a lingua franca all over the world This book will be of interest to students and researchers in linguistic anthropology sociolinguistics World Englishes ELF and African studies

Embracing the Song of Expression: An Emotional Symphony within South Africa Racial Conflict And Identity In Selected South African Novels

In some sort of eaten by screens and the ceaseless chatter of quick conversation, the melodic beauty and psychological symphony produced by the written term often disappear in to the back ground, eclipsed by the constant noise and interruptions that permeate our lives. Nevertheless, nestled within the pages of South Africa Racial Conflict And Identity In Selected South African Novels a stunning fictional value overflowing with fresh feelings, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by a wonderful musician of language, that interesting masterpiece conducts readers on a mental trip, well unraveling the hidden melodies and profound impact resonating within each cautiously constructed phrase. Within the depths of the touching assessment, we shall examine the book is central harmonies, analyze their enthralling publishing style, and submit ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
