Current data and trends in morbidity and mortality for the sub Saharan Region as presented in this new edition reflect the heavy toll that HIV AIDS has had on health indicators leading to either a stalling or reversal of the gains made not just for communicable disorders but for cancers as well as mental and neurological disorders Who's who of Southern Africa, 1989
Vols for 1967 70 include as a section Who s who of Rhodesia Mauritius Central and East Africa Dobson's Complaint Giles R. MacKenzie, 2013-07-19 The description of South Africa as a rainbow nation has always been taken to embrace the black brown and white peoples who constitute its population But each of these groups can be sub divided and in the white case the Scots have made one of the most distinctive contributions to the country s history Now available in paperback this book is a full length study of their role from the eighteenth to twentieth centuries It highlights the interaction of Scots with African peoples the manner in which missions and schools were credited with producing Black Scotsmen and the ways in which they pursued many distinctive policies It also deals with the inter weaving of issues of gender class and race as well as with the means by which Scots clung to their ethnicity through founding various social and cultural societies This book offers a major contribution to both Scottish and South African history and in the process illuminates a significant field of the Scottish Diaspora that has so far received little attention Castle line handbook and emigrant's guide to South Africa Castle line, 1888 Sarah Heckford Sarah Heckford, 2008-10-03 A Lady Trader in the Transvaal presents the South African adventures of Sarah Heckford a once famous but now forgotten Anglo Irish gentlewoman After trekking to the Transvaal in 1878 this intrepid woman served as governess doctor builder nurse and farmer When her farm failed she broke through the barriers of gender and class to make her fortune as a smous or peddler trading with the Africans and Afrikaners of the remote bush veldt Caught up in the Anglo Boer War of 1879 1880 she survived the hundred day siege of Pretoria only to find the British dishonored and herself financially ruined Medical Journal of Australia, 1919 British Medical Journal, 1928 The Medical Officer, 1911

WHO Expert Committee on Biological Standardization WHO Expert Committee on Biological Standardization. Meeting, World Health Organization, 2014. This report presents the recommendations of a WHO Expert Committee commissioned to coordinate activities leading to the adoption of international recommendations for the production and control of vaccines and other biologicals and the establishment of international biological reference materials. Following a brief introduction, the report summarizes a number of general issues brought to the attention of the Committee. The next part of the report, of particular relevance to manufacturers and national regulatory authorities, outlines the discussions held on the development of revised WHO Recommendations and Guidelines for a number of vaccines, blood products and related substances. Specific discussion areas included the development of WHO guidance on the quality, safety and efficacy of poliomyelitis vaccines, oral live attenuated recombinant malaria vaccines, diphtheria vaccines, adsorbed tetanus vaccines, adsorbed combined vaccines based on diphtheria and tetanus vaccines and Japanese encephalitis vaccines, live attenuated. Subsequent sections of the report then provide information on the current status and proposed development of international reference materials in the areas of vaccines and related substances, blood products and related substances, in vitro diagnostic device reagents, biotherapeutics other than blood products and antibiotics. A series of annexes are then presented which include an updated list of WHO Recommendations, Guidelines and other documents on biological substances used in medicine. Annex 1 followed by a series of WHO Recommendations and Guidelines adopted on the advice of the Committee. Annexes 2-7. All additions made during the meeting to the list of International Standards and Reference Reagents for biological substances maintained by WHO are then summarized in Annex 8 The Global Family Planning Revolution Warren C. Robinson, John A. Ross, 2007

The striking upsurge in population growth rates in developing countries at the close of World War II gained force during the next decade. From the 1950s to the 1970s, scholars and advocacy groups publicized the trend and drew troubling conclusions about its economic and ecological implications. Private educational and philanthropic organizations, government and international organizations joined in the struggle to reduce fertility. Three decades later, this movement has seen changes beyond anyone's most optimistic dreams and global demographic stabilization is expected in this century. The Global Family Planning Revolution preserves the remarkable record of this success. Its editors and authors offer more than a historical record. They discuss important lessons for current and future initiatives of the international community. Some programs succeeded while others initially failed and the analyses provide valuable guidance for emerging health-related policy objectives and responses to global challenges.
