South America Central America And The Caribbean 2002:

South America, Central America and the Caribbean 2002 Jacqueline West, 2001 South America Central America and the Caribbean 2002 has been thoroughly revised and updated by Europa's experienced editorial team. The information included is as invaluable to those who know little of the region as it is to the seasoned businessman or academic. It should be in the reference collections of public and academic libraries, international organizations, trade and industrial companies, diplomats, government and the media. Containing a wealth of up-to-date information on the 48 countries and territories of the region, this reference provides a unique perspective on the region with its exhaustive collection of facts, up-to-date statistics, extensive directory details, and expert comment.

, Hugo Chávez Nikolas Kozloff, 2005-06-25 Audacious, provocative, and bombastic, few world politicians are as colorful as Hugo Chávez. Now making international news for his plans to nationalize U.S.-owned businesses and his bold opposition to Washington's economic and trade policies, As Venezuela gains importance as the fifth largest oil exporter in the world, this firebrand leader is quickly moving to the public spotlight by uniting much of South America against the Bush administration and wielding oil as a geopolitical weapon. To create this rich and objective portrait, Nikolas Kozloff, one of the few American journalists who has spent years in the Andean region, has profiled Chávez's top advisors, leaders of his movement, and other key figures in both Venezuela and the U.S. The result is a timely, exhaustive analysis of Chávez as a political leader and a nuanced examination of the president moving to the center of the global stage. Includes a new afterword by the author with insights into Chávez's reelection in relation to wider hemispheric politics.

On the Causes of Economic Growth Carlos Sabillon, 2008 In a sweeping review of economic history, the author presents the salient facts of booms and slowdowns in the major economies of the world in 50-year intervals and demonstrates the weakness of orthodox theories. The only factor that consistently causes growth, he shows, is centralized support for manufacturing, which spurs the creation of new technologies, which lead to wealth creation. Since the earliest of times, human beings have endeavored to uncover the causes of prosperity. Step by step, Sabillon tests the principal theories on the causes of economic growth against the facts of history. Here, economic statistics of the world are presented in a rationalized format that allows for comparison across countries and through time, with a challenge to those who study them to determine, with an open mind, what the statistics show and what are the trends beyond cherished theories that suit various political purposes. Tested against the historical data, textbook ideas and theories consistently come up short. Such analyses are highly troubling because they reveal an absence of correlation between theory and reality. The data statistics illustrating the development of the world economy during the last several centuries were extracted from economic history and economic history books from publications of the World Bank, the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, the International Monetary Fund, the World Trade Organization, the United Nations specialized agencies, research institutes, and country statistical publications and other books and journals. Analyzing the data over geography and time, Sabillon concludes that, contrary to contemporary wisdom left to market forces alone the economy will not and does not flourish Only decisive intervention in support of manufacturing and technological advancement can provide growth This systematic review of history and test of accepted dogma challenges economic theorists to consider one part of the equation of economic policy that has been wiped off the blackboard in today's politically correct debates Central America, Two Volume Set Jochen

Bundschuh,Guillermo E. Alvarado,2012-04-12 An integrated treatment of the principal fields of classical and applied geosciences of Central America this authoritative two volume monograph treats the region as a whole exploring geology earth resources and geo hazards across political boundaries It reviews the published literature and supplements it with an abundance of information from o Colombian Agency and the making of US Foreign Policy Alvaro Mendez,2017-06-26 This book studies a significant event in US relations with Latin America shedding light on the role of dependent states and their foreign policy agency in the process by which local concerns become intertwined with the dominant state's foreign policy Plan Colombia was a large scale foreign aid programme through which the US intervened in the internal affairs of Colombia by invitation It proved to be one of the major successes of US foreign policy and has been credited with stemming a potentially catastrophic security failure of the Colombian state This book discusses the strategies and practices deployed by the Colombian government to influence US foreign policy decision making at the bureaucratic legislative and executive levels and is a distinctive contribution to our understanding of the dynamics of small power agency Giving a clearer insight into the decision making processes in both the US and Colombia this book founds its argument on solid empirical analysis assembled from interviews of the major players in the events including Andres Pastrana President of Colombia Thomas Pickering US State Department Arturo Valenzuela Senior Director for Inter American Affairs at the NSA General Barry McCaffrey the US Drug Czar and Dennis Hastert Speaker of the US House of Representatives Approaching the events in question from a bottom up theoretical perspective that puts the emphasis on the facts of the case this book will be of great interest to academics students and policy makers in the field of foreign policy analysis US foreign policy studies and Latin American studies Minerals Yearbook ,2001 Situation and Outlook Yearbook ,2001 Emerging Infectious Diseases

World Economic Historical Statistics Carlos Sabillon,2005 Since the earliest of times human beings have endeavored to uncover the causes of prosperity History is the best tool that society possesses for identifying and analyzing the factors that contribute to economic growth yet economic statistics that lend themselves to comparison are hard to come by Even academics who specialize in individual countries almost never present a set of statistics covering the whole 20th century and for the previous centuries the data is even more chaotic Here for the first time the economic statistics of the world are presented in a rationalized format that allows for an easy comparison across countries and through time Part One analyzes the most relevant ideas and theories that have been considered as causal variables of economic growth It summarizes these ideas pedagogically and tests them against the historical data The results of such analyses are highly troubling because they reveal an absence of correlation between theory and reality Part Two presents a collection of statistics illustrating the development of the world economy during the last centuries The data was extracted from economic history and economic history books from the publications of the World Bank the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development the International Monetary Fund the World Trade Organization the United Nations specialized agencies research institutes and country statistical publications and other books and journals Analyzing the data over geography and time Sabillon concludes that contrary to contemporary wisdom left to market forces alone the economy will not and does not flourish The factors that cause growth he says still need to be studied with a fresh eye This orderly and consistent presentation of statistics may be just the tool that helps future economic theorists to identify a reliable path to sustained growth This analysis of the long term historical development of the nations of the world is the culmination of a fourteen year research project funded in part by the Swiss National Fund for Scientific Research the Graduate Institute of International Studies in Geneva Switzerland and by the Geneva Business Institute Carlos Sabillon has an advanced degree from the Institute of International Studies Geneva Switzerland in Economic History His book Manufacturing Technology and Economic Growth was published by M E Sharpe Inc 2000 AgExporter ,2003
